A SLING OF LUMBER, perhaps from Klamath mills, is lowered from the side of a freighter in Honolulu harbor, Hawaii. More than 91,000,000 (M) board feet of Pacific Northwest lumber was imported by the islands during 1950. Honolulu's famed Aloha tower, welcoming shipboard visitors, can be seen in the background.

Lady Godiva In Tights

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Now we have "Lady Godiva" doing her stuff—in pink tights—at a horse show.

The stunt, with the traditional knee-length blonde wig and spiel against high taxes, features Mrs. Thelma (Shug) Coburn, riding side-saddle at the show staged here yesterday by the Sacramento County Horsemen's Assoc.

After her ride, the blue-eyed blonde made her way to the microphone and started urging people to "write your congressman."

But the racket from a low-flying plane drowned out the rest. The crowd never did find out what she wanted them to write.

"Lady Godiva's" appearance followed her husband's comment last week that it would bring people out to the horse show. Jerry Coburn is a member of the horsemen's association.

While she was in the arena, Coburn busily snapped pictures.

And, afterward, she was made an honorary member of the horsemen's association.

2 Big Bucks Die in Fight

PICKFORD, Mich. (AP)—A grim story of battle and death has come from the North woods.

Two big buck deer, each with 10-point antlers, fought it out lunge for lunge and with knife-sharp hoofs.

Both died.

Warring in the mating season is characteristic of bucks. Sometimes one may be killed. But almost never, woodsmen say, do their fights end in death for both.

One warring buck died of a broken neck. The other evidently succumbed to exhaustion and starvation—a prisoner on the antlers of the adversary he had mortally wounded.

Horns of the two animals were locked together so tightly the winner was helpless to free himself.

Carcasses—400-pounders were found seven miles northwest of here over the weekend by Sam Watson, 56, Iron River, Mich. Evidence indicated the battle was fought about a week ago.

MGM Doesn't Want Credit Line on Skelton TV Show

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Latest explosion in the Hollywood vs. television knock-down-and-drag-out has MGM telling Red Skelton "You can't do it."

For years the studio demanded the credit line, "Red Skelton appeared through the courtesy of MGM studios" on all of his radio shows. But on television—uh-uh! Studio brass blue penciled the line when Red automatically tagged it onto his first video script.

"But why?" demurred Skelton. "It's a good plug for the studio."

MGM's answer was: "The theater owners might get mad if they hear it."

To which Red's grinning reply was: "If the theater owners are watching television, Hollywood IS in trouble."

Linda Christian is listening to movie ten percenters about another try at stardom now that she has achieved motherhood. Ty Power says he won't stand in Linda's way if a picture turns up for her.

There won't be any fireworks between Shelley Winters and Bette Davis over their star billing in Fox's "Phone Call from a Stranger." The studio legal department made peace by arranging for Shelley's name to appear first in all ads, just above the names of Gary Merrill and Michael Rennie. "And co-starring Bette Davis" will appear just over the title.

Members of the Waves may sneaker about it, but Hollywood censors ruled the regulation Wave bathing suits are too revealing for movie audiences. Alterations in strategic spots were made for dolls wearing them in Esther Williams' "Skirts Ahoy."

The battling Matures—Vic and his wife Dorothy—reconciled following a two-week secret separation. Vic moved in with his friends Jim and Henry Backus while Dorothy defrosted her emotions.

Paramount is denying reports that a new screenplay is being written for the cat star, Rhubarb, to catch in on the success of his first picture. Some of the Hollywood wags have been saying that the feline would next appear in "I Was on Him Like A Cat," based on a saying by Tom Neal, of course.

Bob Hope told it to the Camp Pendleton Marines:

"I now have a new draft classification—5Q. That means that in case of invasion, I stay behind the lines and fold parachutes for Bernard McFadden."

Linda Darnell the only girl in a cast of 12 men.

"The role in the Broadway bound play, "Strike a Match" which Mel Ferrer will direct—is hers if picture commitments can be juggled. There will be a three-week Dallas, Texas, tryout before the company moves to New York. Does Linda like the role?"

"Does she like it?" grinned Mel. "She's already memorized all the dialog."

Patricia Neal is being Miss Clam-Up of 1951 on the state of her romance with Gary Cooper. When I asked her about rumors real estate Jerry Nathanson, she shrugged her elephant shoulders.

"Then tell me if you and Gary have quarreled," I asked.

"Quarrelled?" echoed husky-voiced Pat. "I never quarrel with anyone."

"Are you going to marry Jerry?" "NO!" snapped Pat.

"Is it a split-up between you and Cooper then?"

"We were never together, so how can we split up?"

GULP!

Mark Stevens ashcanned the "Sexy Rexy" song his writers prepared for his night club tour. It's a barbed satire on Rex Harrison, with whom Mark almost came to blows in the days when both were under contract to Fox.

The title-switch parade:

MGM is recalling prints of "Angels in the Outfield" and will re-release it under a new tag. Paramount started the title-juggling trend by changing "Ace in the Hole" to "The Big Carnival."

Sacred Heart Notebook
 By MARY EGAN
 Did you know we had a band at Sacred Heart? Yes we do, a real sonic heart of awe, anyway. But this band is very different from most school bands, as it consists of Pep Club members without the use of instruments. Sounds unusual? It is! For the Chiloquians the girls decided to have something different, so they initiated the different instruments that make up a band, as a rally skill to boost the spirit of the Trojans. "And the Band Played On" as the Trojans defeated the Panthers that afternoon, 18-6.

Academy students just can't wait until Halloween to masquerade and have their party. They plan to have the letterman's masquerade dance tonight in the Parish hall starting at 7:30. There is much fun and surprises in store for the witches and goblins attending, so how about it, academy?

Is everybody ready? "Yes-Nu-Sort of" are all answers to that dreaded question pertaining to exams. The tests will be given tomorrow and the day after, so be ready students!
