

SOCIETY

by Milly Ramahy

THE OUTSTANDING CENTERPIECE arranged by Mrs. John Ashley for the Reames harvest luncheon and fund raising party Saturday October 27 was a masterpiece of artistry in color and composition. She is shown, left, with Mrs. Hourly Becker, center, and Mrs. Dick Reader, who were co-chairmen of the fund committee.
Photo by Kettler

OLD FRIENDS AND GOOD FOOD . . . a perfect combination . . . and one Mrs. Clara (Shazie) Shaw is thoroughly enjoying at the Pelican Cafe. Miss Schad, a former local resident was busy while in town renewing old acquaintances. She and Mrs. Shaw knew each other some thirty years ago when they both lived in Astoria. "Jimma" has returned to Beverly Hills where she has an interior decorating studio. The occasion was none other than Mrs. Shaw's birthday.
Photo by Wes Guderian

WILLING WORKERS FOR THE WOMEN of Reames auxiliary are gathered to serve one of the many turkeys consumed at the successful fund raising party last Saturday at the club. The Standford Indian on Paul looks like a covetous customer. Dick Reader, center, is assisted by John Ashley in holding the prime bird while the maestro . . . maestros.
Photo by Kettler

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. O'NEILL were responsible for the harvest theme decorations used at Reames last Saturday night, and they are caught by the camera as they look at one of the exaggerated autumn leaves used in the colorful background. The women's auxiliary has, as a body, expressed its gratitude to all who gave of their time and efforts to help in making such a success of the project.
Photo by Kettler