

THE NEW MR. AND MRS. Frank Glenn Sikes, recently married in the First Methodist church when Rev. W. C. Holloway read the service at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 21.

SCOGGINS-SIKES NUPTIAL RITES

The First Methodist church was the scene of the marriage of Billie Scoggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Scoggins, to Frank Glenn Sikes, son of Mrs. P. E. Pont, Airway avenue, Sunday, October 21.

Rev. W. C. Holloway read the service at three o'clock in the afternoon, before about 80 relatives and guests, at an altar before a background of giant bronze and gold chrysanthemums, yellow pompon chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Billie wore a white satin wedding gown and her fingertip veil was of illusion net. She carried a bridal bouquet of gold and yellow chrysanthemums.

The maid of honor, Freda Scoggins, wore a white lace dress over a tulle skirt and carried yellow and white chrysanthemums and a matching headband.

The bridesmaids, Jean Bragg and Erma Scoggins, were dressed in gold and green satin and carried giant bronze and gold chrysanthemums with matching headbands.

Best man was Paul Flury, and ushers were Bob Scoggins and Mike Wong.

The bride's mother wore a tan gabardine suit with navy blue accessories.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony.

The couple are now at home, 923 Jefferson street, after a honeymoon in San Francisco.

Catholic Card Social

Cards, prizes, and a bright fall atmosphere will hold sway Thursday night, November 8, when the Catholic Daughters will stage a card social in the Sacred Heart parish hall.

Mrs. Marie O'Connor is general chairman for this fall party which is the Catholic Daughters' contribution to the annual parish bazaar.

Barbara Colwell is treasurer for the affair; Ellen Ely, telephone chairman; Eleanor Sprague, posters.

A variety of card games, canasta, bridge, pinocle, etc., will be played with a prize for high scorer at each individual table.

Nellie Murphy and Helen McAllister are responsible for the collection and distribution of all awards. Two appropriate door prizes are ready for a lucky man and lady. The games, cards and tallies will be handled by Lorraine Huettl and Bonita Cheyne.

In addition to her other chairmanship duties, Mrs. O'Connor has planned all the decorations for this card party—with a yellow, brown and green Harvest theme slated for the evening.

Playing will start at 8 p.m. and, tasty, timely refreshments will be served later in the evening following distribution of prizes.

Persons desiring further information may call either Mrs. Marie O'Connor, 8216, or her co-chairman for this fall social, Mrs. Minnie Locher, 2-1584, who is handling reservations.

Art Association Tea and Exhibit

One of the loveliest teas of the season was held at the Yacht Club Saturday afternoon, October 27, when the Klamath Art association held a preview showing of its annual fall exhibit.

Mrs. C. Ed Johnson, president of the art association, was general chairman for the affair assisted by Mrs. Boyd Sprague as tea chairman and Mrs. Arthur Burnett as exhibit chairman. Miss Ruth Jones assisted as a hostess and Mrs. Nina Penne was in charge of the guest book.

Presiding at the tea table during the afternoon were Mrs. Mark Smith, president of the Soroptimist club, Mrs. Loren Palmerston, president of the library club and Mrs. Emil Albrecht, president of the business and Professional Women's club.

The art association members considered this to be one of the best exhibits they have shown, and the guests who attended were amazed to see the work of so many of their friends on display. Those exhibiting in the water-color section were Mrs. H. S. Valentine, Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Sheldon Brimbleton, Mrs. Robert E. Johnson, Mrs. George Sprague, Mrs. Ruth Jones, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Mrs. Boyd Sprague and Mrs. Harold Sotillo.

Mrs. Walter Brown and Mrs. G. D. Grizzle exhibited oil paintings and Mrs. Arthur Burnett showed two pastel drawings.

In the handicraft section Mrs. Arthur Burnett and Miss Kathleen Kriz showed hand-painted china plates. Mrs. Arthur Gibson and Mrs. Irma Dixon had a display of weaving, and Mrs. Muriel Babin, Mrs. Irma Dixon, Miss Kathleen Kriz, and Marian Roberts showed numerous ceramic pieces.

Much favorable comment was expressed on the work exhibited by the two new high school art teachers, Richard Reinholdt and Gerald Howard. They both showed great versatility in several mediums. Mr. Reinholdt exhibited an oil painting, several water color paintings and two ceramic sculptures. Mr. Howard showed several oils painted in the modern manner and a pen and ink drawing. Both Mr. Reinholdt and Mr. Howard were in attendance during the afternoon to meet and become better acquainted with the many guests who dropped in during the afternoon.

Much credit for the success of the tea was given to Mrs. Nina Penne, hostess at the Yacht club, who helped with the arrangements and assisted with the refreshments. After the showing at the Yacht club, the exhibit was taken to the Art Center where it will be shown during National Art Week from November first to seventh.

Church Leader At St. Paul's

Mrs. Sumner Walters, of Stockton, California, provincial representative of the women of the Episcopal church will be in Klamath Falls, November 5 and 6 to conduct a leadership conference at St. Paul's. The women of the church will be the hostesses to representatives from Bend, Madras, Prineville, Canyon City, Burns, Lakeview and Langell Valley.

Mrs. Walters is the wife of the bishop of the missionary district of Oregon. As provincial member of the national board of the women's auxiliary she represents the women of Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Alaska and the Hawaiian islands. Much of her work consists of traveling and speaking of the work of the church, especially that of the women missionaries and the part the women's auxiliary plays in this important field.

The local conference will open with Holy Communion at 8 a.m. Monday morning, November 5, and will continue through Tuesday noon. A dinner meeting is scheduled for Monday evening.

Stork Shower

A surprise shower honoring Mrs. Allen Barrett, was given by Mrs. M. E. Barrett at her home 1903 Laurel street. She was assisted by Mrs. Walter Collins, Chilcoquin.

Refreshments were served and games were played. Guests of the evening were: Mrs. Clifton Barrett, Mrs. Loren Karrer, Rosemary Bair, Mrs. George Olson, Mrs. N. J. Neilson, Mrs. Eugene Barrett, Midland, Miss Martha Perera, Mrs. Boyd Morgan, Mrs. Agnes Mousseau, Mrs. Albert Barrett, Wocus, Mrs. Bert Palm, Mrs. Marvin Barrett, Mrs. Clayton Morris, Mrs. Orville Denny and Mrs. Phil Nida.

CERAMICS, CHINA PAINTING, WEAVING, water colors, pastels and oils were the mediums used in the various exhibits at the Klamath Art association tea and art exhibit at the Yacht club October 27. Mrs. Arthur Burnett, left, exhibit chairman, displayed pastels, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, president, water colors, Mrs. Boyd F. Sprague, tea chairman, water colors.

THE ART ASSOCIATION TEA and exhibit was an outstanding event of the fall season, and demonstrated that Klamath Falls is receptive to cultural endeavor. Mrs. Robert Wood, left, one of the guests, Roxanna Sprague, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Boyd F. Sprague, a young art enthusiast, Miss Ruth Jones, who assisted about the rooms and Mrs. Mark Smith, Soroptimist president, far right, presided at the tea table during part of the afternoon. They are admiring a sample of hand weaving.

EULALONA CHAPTER DAR

Members of Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are keenly interested in "The DAR Story" by Lorraine Aikman in the November number of The National Geographic magazine. Thirty three pages of pictures and story, some pictures in color, are devoted to the DAR. A few excerpts from this interesting story follow.

"Headquarters of the national society of Daughters of the American Revolution, its three-building-in-one add up to the biggest and most beautiful structure which women have ever raised. It is staffed with the exception of a few maintenance workers and a business manager for the rental of its auditorium, exclusively by women.

"To see DAR headquarters 'whole' I drove slowly, one evening at dusk, around the full city block it occupies in the shadow of the Washington Monument in Washington, D.C. An endless chain of winding traffic lent an air of mystery, of shadow and substance, to the stately-columned facade of Memorial Continental hall. Beyond stretched the ample, horizontal lines of the connecting administration hall, with its massive entrance steps and broad, Ionic-pillared portico. The administration building, standing at 1776 D Street, bears the Declaration of Independence date.

"The unique DAR concert auditorium, with a seating capacity of almost 4000, is the largest in Washington D.C. Between annual sessions of the Daughters' conventions it serves the nation's capital as a cultural center. There, before large and appreciative audiences, are presented symphony concerts, lectures, ballet, folk singing, debates, and a wide variety of other programs whose performers may range from world-renowned artists to Washington's own 'Very Important Persons,' lending a hand for a benefit amateur night.

"From this nerve center lines of feminine leadership and guidance reach out to 170,000 members in every state of the union, as well as many abroad. In one way or another the work of the society touches nearly every phase of current American life, whether civic, educational, health, or national defense."

On Monday evening, November 5, 1951, Eulalona chapter will meet at the home of Mrs. Lloyd J. Goble, 2620 Homedale road. Mrs. Warren G. Noggle, chapter regent, will preside. During the program hour Dr. Goble will show travel films of the Hawaiian Islands.

Present were nine members and one guest.
