Stocks Quietly Drift Lower

NEW YORK, (AP)—The stock market closed quietly lower today after a new rise in the early hours of the session.

Volume was running around 1,200,000 shares, compared with 1,470,000 last Friday, the previous full session. There was no net trading at any time after the long holiday weekend. Most price changes were in fractions with advances or declines of around a point a cent.

The market started the day showing slight firming tendencies. But by the midday point a slow but persistent drift downward got underway.

Traders were cautious in their transactions. There was nothing spectacular in the news and they sat by waiting for some indication of which way the wind might blow.

Some of the leading stocks were the firmest groups in the market.

Liquor Case Figure Freed

The third person arrested here in the past month on violation of selling giving liquor to minors was freed in district court Saturday without bond to enter a plea December 1.

Claire B. Gibson, of Idella's grocery, 4846 S. 6th, was charged in a misdemeanor complaint filed in the district attorney's office selling alcoholic liquor to a minor.

The complaint indicated the minor involved was a 19-year-old boy and the beverage was beer.

A second trial is scheduled December 12 in district court. The defendant, Kenneth Smith, is charged with giving liquor to a minor boy.

The first of the three arrests on giving liquor to minors resulted in a 90-day jail sentence from district court for 21-year-old Robert Charles Colson, 3755 Diamond.

Colson served 17 days of the two-month term and then was released on five months' probation by Judge M. A. Carter.

Gale School Reunion Set

MERRILL, (AP)—In observance of American Education Week students and teachers, present and past of Merrill schools are to gather Friday for a reunion in the grade school.

Attending are to be students of Merrill's first school, a 108 building on the site of the present Dan Cashman ranch, students who went to the little school of Gale back before the turn of the century, those who attended the "new" school, built many years ago where the present city park and recreation hall is located and others who in more recent years took to classes in the two story brick building that burned a few years ago.

Many are expected from other parts of the state.

Former students and teachers have prepared an interesting program. Fashion's "March of Luce" has been planned by Ellen McVeigh Clark, Klamath Falls. Marabel Clark, Klamath Falls, Medford, is PTA number by Claude Shuck, baby number by Tom Chabrun, and Mervyn Shuck and a special number by Bill Felvey.

A "Parade of the Stars" an un-announced number will be presented by Mrs. Tom Barry, Uel Dillard, Victor Shuck, Roy Beasley, Alfred Carleton and Lester Moore.

"Songs of the Seasons" will be sung by the quartet of Mrs. Pruechall Hodges, Mrs. Albee Blake and Mrs. William Felvey.

Watch for a surprise number.

Quote Upsets Deputy Kills Coach, Self

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP)—Shakespeare has popped up as a new issue in Korean truce negotiations. A North Korean general protested today that an American general did not quote Shakespeare appropriately.

Major Gen. Henry I. Hodges, discussing a Red cease-fire statement, said:

"The only maxim about method relevant to your proposal is the quotation from Shakespeare: 'There's a method in his madness.'"

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Cho retorted that Shakespeare would have been surprised at the "ridiculous use" of the quotation.

"I want to ask you not to apply the quotation from the famous Shakespeare to such a bad design," Lee added.

British Defied By Egyptians

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, (AP)—About 100,000 marchers—three quarters of them schoolboys—paraded in Alexandria today in an anti-British demonstration marking the 31st anniversary of Egypt's bid for independence from British rule.

The government had banned shouting by the paraders, but they carried banners denouncing the British. There were hundreds of such banners, with such belligerent slogans as: "Get out, you dirty British" and "no cooperation with English killers of women and children."

PARADES

Among the parades were school children, Boy and Girl Scouts marching to the air of a Boy Scout drum and bugle corps, businessmen and representatives of this city's foreign colonies including several hundred Greeks. Government, religious and labor leaders were among those heading the parade, which took 90 minutes to pass a given point. Heavy detachments of police stood guard while great throngs of spectators watched.

In Cairo, Prime Minister Mustafa El Nahas Pasha said in a speech to an independent day celebration that the Western policy in the Arab world "will undoubtedly lead to catastrophe" and that the West's glory would fade like that of ancient Rome if it continued "to ignore Arab national aspirations."

GOAL

The prime minister, whose government had rejected a Western bid to join a Middle East defense command against Communist expansion, said Egypt will accept nothing less than an evacuation of all British troops from the Suez canal area and full unity of the Sudan with Egypt.

Egyptian officials in Cairo and the Suez area reported the situation quiet in the canal zone, although the Egyptian press reported an attack on a British Royal air force camp near Ismailia.

Dicky's two companions—his brother, Michael, 7, and his nephew, Robert Douglas Stay, 5—died a few hours after the accident.

Deputy Kills Coach, Self

ATLANTA, (AP)—A sheriff's deputy fired six shots last night and ended two lives—his own and that of 23-year-old basketball coach.

The dead was W. D. Martin, 38-year-old Fulton county deputy, and James R. Phillips, high school teacher and coach at Alhambra, a community of less than 1000 about 27 miles northeast of Atlanta.

WITNESS

Lieut. H. B. Carroll said a witness, Ott Dorset, told of encountering Martin outside the school's gymnasium.

Dorset told him, said Carroll, that the deputy volunteered, "I'm going to get coach Phillips. He broke up my home. He's caused me trouble."

The witness said he had driven to the school to pick up his two sons, both members of the basketball team.

Carroll said it happened like this: Phillips, who had gone to the high school gymnasium to direct the basketball team in practice was called outside by Martin.

The deputy fired once. The shot struck the young coach in the neck and knocked him down. Martin then fired four more shots into the coach's body.

GRANTS

Two players on the basketball team—Carroll Shirley and H. H. Pinkle—rushed to the gym door, but the deputy menaced them with his revolver and ordered them to remain inside.

Martin stepped back a few paces, placed the barrel of the gun against his head, and fired.

Both men were married. Phillips had taught and coached at the school for the past two years. Phillips also was a teacher at the school.

Police Court Has Big Day

City police court's largest holiday weekend since July 4, 1950, saw 25 persons arrested by police Saturday noon on 38 charges.

Claud C. Worley, 700 Owens, a taxi cab driver, was fined $15 for violation of the basic rule following an accident over the weekend at S. 6th and Klamath, and had his cab driver's permit revoked by Police Chief Orville Hamilton.

According to Judge Robert Elder, Worley's past record showed he had been involved in seven minor accidents in the past few years.

British Defied By Egyptians

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, (AP)—About 100,000 marchers—three quarters of them schoolboys—paraded in Alexandria today in an anti-British demonstration marking the 31st anniversary of Egypt's bid for independence from British rule.

The government had banned shouting by the paraders, but they carried banners denouncing the British. There were hundreds of such banners, with such belligerent slogans as: "Get out, you dirty British" and "no cooperation with English killers of women and children."

PARADES

Among the parades were school children, Boy and Girl Scouts marching to the air of a Boy Scout drum and bugle corps, businessmen and representatives of this city's foreign colonies including several hundred Greeks. Government, religious and labor leaders were among those heading the parade, which took 90 minutes to pass a given point. Heavy detachments of police stood guard while great throngs of spectators watched.

In Cairo, Prime Minister Mustafa El Nahas Pasha said in a speech to an independent day celebration that the Western policy in the Arab world "will undoubtedly lead to catastrophe" and that the West's glory would fade like that of ancient Rome if it continued "to ignore Arab national aspirations."

GOAL

The prime minister, whose government had rejected a Western bid to join a Middle East defense command against Communist expansion, said Egypt will accept nothing less than an evacuation of all British troops from the Suez canal area and full unity of the Sudan with Egypt.

Egyptian officials in Cairo and the Suez area reported the situation quiet in the canal zone, although the Egyptian press reported an attack on a British Royal air force camp near Ismailia.

Quote Upsets Deputy Kills Coach, Self

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP)—Shakespeare has popped up as a new issue in Korean truce negotiations. A North Korean general protested today that an American general did not quote Shakespeare appropriately.

Major Gen. Henry I. Hodges, discussing a Red cease-fire statement, said:

"The only maxim about method relevant to your proposal is the quotation from Shakespeare: 'There's a method in his madness.'"

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Cho retorted that Shakespeare would have been surprised at the "ridiculous use" of the quotation.

"I want to ask you not to apply the quotation from the famous Shakespeare to such a bad design," Lee added.
