Young Barrymore Would OK Changeover to MGM Studio

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — John Barrymore Jr., as an MGM star, "There's nothing I'd like better," the youngest of the Barrymores confessed, "but so far it's in the talking stage. It would be wonderful."
 "After all, my father, my aunt Ethel and my uncle Lionel were all at the studio."
 John's living with his sister, Blythe, in Hollywood these days and is as wide-eyed about her upcoming role in "Androcles and the Lion" as he is about his own movie career.
 He told me: "My sister's a very talented actress. She's very serious about a movie career. I used to need her about acting, but she kept saying that she wasn't interested. Now she's had a change of heart."
 "I always knew it would happen. We're both a couple of slices off the old ham."
 It's hush-hush but Paul Henreid's "For Men Only" revolves around a fraternal hazing based on an actual campus incident. It's as controversial as Fox's sorority background film, "Take Care of My Little Girl." Band note: Sonbird Peggy Barrett is leaving Frankie Carle's band for Jimmy Dorsey's.
 Buddy Baer, between scenes of "The Big Sky," "I'm a terrific alibier. I never forget anything once I hear it."
 Norma Shearer's radio emoting in "Waterloo Bridge" has turned the trick and the movie scripts are rolling in. She tells intimates that she turned down the lead role in Susan Yorke's "The Widow" because the heroine was too young.
 Tip-off to Norma's change of heart about a movie comeback: She's enrolled her kiddies in schools near Hollywood instead of sending them to Switzerland.

South Demos Face Split

By DON WHITEHEAD
 HOT SPRINGS, Ark., (P)—Southern governors returned to their homes today with deep and bitter political differences still clouding the future course of the Democratic party in the South.
 The three-day Southern governors conference was non-political in its purposes. But it spotlighted the rift between leaders of the States' Rights Democrats and those who support Pres. Truman and his administration.
 One thing appeared certain in the aftermath of the conference: political peace in the South can be achieved only by a compromise, either on the Democratic party platform or the party's presidential candidate.
 UNACCEPTABLE
 States' Rights leaders made it clear they will not accept Mr. Truman as the Democratic standard bearer in 1952. They equally were emphatic that the price of party peace must include elimination of the civil rights issue from the party platform.
 On the other side, the pro-Truman forces displayed a willingness to challenge open any move to organize a Southern revolt against Mr. Truman.
 There was some speculation that Speaker Sam Rayburn, whose party loyalty plea Monday night created an uproar—may have held out hope of a compromise on the Democratic platform.
 Rayburn said he did not believe there would be a split in the South and that possible agreement might be reached on a platform.
 Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina — one of Mr. Truman's chief political foes—said this meant the president will not seek reelection.
 Platform agreement, Byrnes said, would mean concession of the civil rights and national health insurance issues. He called the insurance proposal "socialized medicine." And he added he did not believe Mr. Truman would run on such a platform.
 CAMPAIGN
 The conference had been widely heralded as the possible starting point for an organized "beat Truman" campaign. But Byrnes and others made it clear they had come to the conference with no intention of launching such a move.
 Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia told reporters this was neither the time nor the place to begin such a drive. Other States' Rights leaders declared they will have plenty of time in which to decide a course of action after Mr. Truman discloses his intentions.

Army Planning Yule Leaves

WASHINGTON, (P)—As many soldiers as can be spared from duty at posts in this country will be given leave during a 10-day break in training over the Christmas holidays, the army says.
 The announcement was made simultaneously here and in mess halls at camps throughout the country. The other services have not announced their plans.
 Announcing the training break from Dec. 23 to Jan. 2, the army said camp commanding officers will determine how many of their men can be given leave, possibly on a staggered basis. Any leave, the army added, is "contingent upon the international situation at the time."

Hollywood, granite-fisted Tom Neal, if it was true that he had a publishing offer to write his memoirs under the title, "I Was on Him Like a Cat."
 Neal frowned and said: "Where did that come from? The newsmen misquoted me. I didn't say it. I don't talk that way."
 Now that Marlene Dietrich's "The Blue Angel" is playing the TV circuit, there's talk of a remake with her daughter in the title role as... Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are all set for "Summer Camp," in which the boys will play Boy Scout instructors.
 Hedy Lamarr will have Arturo de Cordova and Gar Moore as her costars in "Gentle Murder," the picture she'll make south of the border.
 Shelly Winters is playing another starring role for Jerry Lewis in a film, "The Re-Enforcer," with Shelley playing Rocco, a lady looker. Her theme music is the love tune from "A Place in the Sun."
 Phyllis Kirk denies that "Point of No Return," the Broadway play in which she will co-star with Henry Fonda, is a title tip-off to her feelings about Hollywood. "Hollywood has been good for me," she told me. "You learn things about yourself here — the unflattering things."
 She was in five films at MGM, but says, "Let's just say I was involved in them. I was always the girl in the musical who didn't sing or dance."
 John Bromfield, actor-hubby of Corinne Calvet, resumes his movie career after a wait of almost two years as the star of Monogram's "Hit That Line." He asked to be released from his Hal Wallis contract on grounds that he wasn't the type for indoor, bou-

 American Education Week is being observed throughout the nation this week for the purpose of instilling in the minds of people the importance of education. This is sponsored by the U.S. office of education, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the American Legion.
 At Sacred Heart American Education Week opened yesterday morning with a High Mass said by Father Dominick and sung by the high school choir. This was in recognition of the religious freedom which is enjoyed in the United States.
 Enthusiastically, the students participated in an assembly today, centered around American Education Week. Members of the American history class conducted a panel discussion on the theme, unite for freedom. In addition the Franciscans said, "My Own America." The freshman class, too, have been busy making posters illustrating the theme, unite for freedom. As a final step in observing American Education Week students of the junior and senior classes have entered the essay contest based on this same theme, unite for freedom.
 The Junior Red Cross is being organized at the academy now. Included in the activities of the group are these, each classroom will be asked to fill a basket for a less fortunate family. These baskets will be distributed the night before Thanksgiving. Also favors for the hospitals will be made by the girls of the high school. And too, a Red Cross first aid course will be offered to the students interested.
 The general consensus of everyone this morning, sleepy through they were, was this: "The 1951 sophomore hop—surely did rank on the very top."

Death Claims Mrs. Parrish

MERRILL — Oldtimers in this area learned with regret of the death in Ripon, Calif., of Mrs. Nellie L. Parrish.
 Mrs. Parrish lived in Merrill from 1905 to 1917 and was very active in civic affairs, being one of the original founders of the Merrill Library club. She taught in Merrill and Henley schools, at the Lone Pine and Libby schools no longer in existence.
 Born in 1862 near Jan Jose, Mrs. Parrish died October 28, and funeral services were conducted October 31, in the California town. She celebrated her 89th birthday last January 29, and was loved by the Rebekah lodge of which she was a member. She was a gold star mother, active in the American Legion auxiliary, and a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.
