

LIGHTED CUTOUTS CAN EXPRESS YULE STORY

For those who prefer to express the deeper significance of Christmas in their holiday decorations, lighted cutouts offer many possibilities.

The silhouette cutout arrangement pictured above was fashioned in a home workshop from scraps of construction board. It was then mounted to baseboard and each figure was painted black to give the shadow picture effect.

A string of colored lights were arranged behind the figures to give them depth and to light the background.

Lighting specialists recommend placing cutouts against light-colored backgrounds as was done in this arrangement, for best results. You may have to study the picture closely to see how stars were painted on a triangle of construction board at the top of the gable. Before the paint was dry, star designs were sprinkled with filters to make them sparkle. To complete this simple but effective design, strings of outdoor colored bulbs were strung along the lower eaves of the house atop the gable and entwined in green on the front door. A floodlight, 150-watt outdoor projector type in an outdoor holder, placed on the lawn in front of the house, was used to highlight the whole arrangement.

Drive on for Hospital Gifts

The Oregon Mental Health association has started a drive for gifts for patients in the state's mental hospitals during the Christmas season.

For five years Oregon citizens have supplied a major portion of Christmas gifts for patients.

The association reports that such gifts as fruit, candy, cigars, games and wearables, pocket book covers are acceptable, and may be wrapped individually or in Christmas wrappings, with seals, ribbons and cards all acceptable.

Those wishing to send money should make checks out to Miss W. P. Stevens, chairman, Christmas project, care of the Mental Health Association of Oregon, 229 Park building, Portland 5.

Packages should be mailed to the Librarian, Oregon state hospital, Salem; Dr. Donald Wray, Eastern Oregon state hospital, Pendleton; or to Dr. Irvin Hill, Fairview home, Salem.

Each package should be labeled as to whom the contents are for, a man or woman.

SAFE SKI RULES SET

Christmas means wintertime, and wintertime means skiing. And skiing—sometimes—gets a little rough.

Chief Ranger Lou Hallock, Crater Lake national park, has offered this set of rules for winter sportsmen hitting ski and sledding trails.

1. Ski safely and under control at all times.
2. When skiing on trails, stay on them!
3. Do not ski or toboggan on highways, and never ride outside of cars or on two ropes behind them.
4. Drive slowly on roads in ski areas, keep to the right; use chains when required; consider other drivers.
5. Don't park cars on hills or curves.
6. In Crater Lake national park, report all accidents and injuries to the nearest ranger or ranger station.

Jot Down Those Card Addresses

If you didn't make Christmas menus last year, make sure you do it this year. Before discarding Christmas cards and letters, check your address book to be sure addresses of old friends to be remembered next year are up to date.

Also jot down good ideas for homemade Christmas presents, food, decorations and games. It is a good idea, also, to keep a list of presents and to whom they were sent.

Sometimes this will help avoid sending the very same Christmas present to someone next year.
