

THE CIRCUS CLOWN, giant balloon attraction scheduled to take part in the Klamath Falls Yule parade Saturday night, stands 13 feet high. The Kangaroo (lower picture) is 14 feet tall.

Gifts for Home Becoming More Common Yule Presents

At a time when every dollar counts — more and more folks are playing Santa Claus with gifts that add comfort and beauty to the home.

You'll find a wide range of handsome practical gifts for the home, sure to solve even the most perplexing gift problems.

Selections are so varied that you will find the "right" gift for as little as $5.00 or for as much as you care to spend.

In the low price range, you'll have your choice of occasional or end tables, boudoir lamps, pin-up lamps, footstools, and magazine racks.

For the bigger budget, there are easy chairs, tables of all sorts, desks for every decor, cedar chests, bookcases, card table with matching chairs, or corner cabinets and wall-racks for the knickknack collectors.

For the record collectors there are cabinets built to accommodate all the different-sizes in records and albums now on the market. If her hobby is sewing, choose a smart and roomy sewing cabinet in a good-looking wood finish.

There are styles for every decor. Yes, there's something for everybody's taste, and best of all—everybody's purse in the wide range of furniture gifts for the home.

Store Window Contest On

Christmas window trimming by downtown stores is to be unveiled and judged tonight.

For the past several days windows of many businesses have been blanked out while decorators build trims around the theme "The Miracle of Christmas."

The contest is sponsored by the Klamath Merchants Assoc. and nine different classifications of businesses may enter. Three prizes will be given in each classification, plus one "sweepstakes" prize for the best in town.

What is now known as the hog dog was called a "dachshund sausage" before the turn of the century.

THE LITTLE GIRL is dwarfed for fair by this giant, six-legged bug. The giant balloon 'insect' is 23 feet long and comes out only on special occasions, such as Christmas parades.
