In The Day's News

(and mothers) who started Thanksgiving Day?

By present standards, they had little enough, the Lord knows, to be thankful for. About all they had was shelter, warmth, food and the knowledge that the Indians hadn't GOT them yet.

But they WERE thankful. Truly thankful. So they set aside a day to make their thankfulness known. Then, the next day, they went back to work, hard work, against heavy odds, to finish the job they had started.

In closing—It's a lot better to be thankful for what we have than ENVOIOUS of what we haven't. It's better for our country. It's better for us as individuals.

I doubt if there is ANYBODY in our country who hasn't something to be thankful for.

VERDICT

OPELOUSAS, La., (AP)—"Justifiable homicide" is the verdict of a coroner's jury investigating the fatal shooting of a Negro here early Sunday by a special deputy sheriff. The jury reported last night that John Lester Mitchell, 33, "came to his death from a gunshot wound of the heart fired by David Lancelo—Mitchell resisted arrest."

ated he had been offered other employment.

Manhattan Buses Still

NEW YORK, (AP)—About 46 bus routes in Manhattan and the Bronx were tied up today by a wildcat strike. Union leaders later gave their sanction to the walkout but said it will end at midnight.

The stoppage on the vast Third Avenue transit system was sparked by a dispute over Thanksgiving holiday pay rates.

Michael J. Wull, president of the CIO transport workers union, at first reportedly disapproved the unauthorized strike. Later in the morning he told a meeting of 250 drivers.

"Go home and have your Thanksgiving turkey today with your families and report back to work tomorrow."

Matthew Guinan, president of local 100, said the walkout will end at midnight when normal work schedules resume.

Only about half the usual 1,600, daily riders on the affected bus lines use the buses on a holiday.

The walkout came as a prelude to a threatened citywide strike against private bus lines by the TWU. It has been demanding pay raises and cut in the work week to 40 hours.

Between 1940 and 1950 the passenger-carrying railroads increased their business about 30 percent.

Announcer Dies At Radio Post

ODESSA, Tex., (AP)—Tom Edwards, 27, chief announcer for radio station KOBA, was found shot to death today shortly after he made a "station break" on the air.

Mrs. Louise Mims, an employee, found the body at 8:05 a.m. She said a .32 caliber pistol lay near the body. Edwards had been shot once through the right temple.

Police said they understood Edwards purchased the gun yesterday. Edwards was the only announcer duty at the time. John Guffey, continuity director, said he was listening to the station, noticed the announcer didn't come on as scheduled, and rushed to the studio. He took over the announcing tasks.
