Junior Gunman Trys Stickup

PORTLAND, (AP)—"I didn't really want the money," I just wanted to use the gun."

That is what a tearful 10-year-old boy told police who questioned him Saturday following his unsuccessful attempt to hold up a Portland grocer.

"You hear these guys on the radio pulling these jobs and it seems real easy like. I just wanted to see if it was," the boy explained.

The grocer, John E. Myers, was quoted by police as saying the boy—masked with a red bandanna—entered his store and, pointing a loaded 38-caliber revolver at him, said: "This is a holdup. Put the money in a sack or I'll shoot you."

Myers started to hand the money to the boy with one hand but with the other he grabbed the boy's gun hand. After a brief struggle, he subdued the lad, a sixth grader, and called police.

The boy said he got the gun from an 11-year-old companion who had taken it from his home. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

WCTU Fires Off At "Crime" Toys

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union, foe of liquor, today attacked department store toys that "glorify gambling and gangsterism."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, national president of the WCTU, said merchants should get "back in step with the religious significance of Christmas and with the Kefauver crime committee."

Mrs. Colvin took a look at toy counters and found "toy roulette wheels, pinball and slot machines, and race horse and dice games."

"Not only that, but there were toy guns and 'outlaw costumes.' 'Obviously the displays do not fit into observance of the Savior's birthday,'" Mrs. Colvin said in a statement.

Journal Strike Vote Recalled

PORTLAND, (AP)—Circulation and editorial workers of the Oregon Journal Sunday withdrew a strike authorization which had been voted earlier by the Portland newspaper guild executive committee.

Permission to call a strike was withdrawn after members voted to accept a new wage contract offered by management to circulation employees.

The new contract increases circulation district managers pay by $5.25, bringing their weekly base wage to $90. Circulation deskmen will get an $8.25 increase, bringing their wages to $80 weekly.

The new schedules are retroactive to Oct. 1.

City Firemen Seek Toys

Some needy Klamath basin children might not be visited by Santa Claus this Christmas, but not because his city fire department helpers aren't working as hard as ever.

City Chief Roy Rowe says "there just aren't enough old toys coming in to our repair shop" to be worked over and painted up again.

The deadline for bringing in toys to the fire department on Wall street is December 15, Rowe said.

Drying painted toys, sorting and delivering them to Santa Claus' special delivery office will take the remaining time till Christmas, the fire chief said.

Persons having unused toys in their house, are asked to bring them in as soon as possible to the city firemen, so some needy child will be missed this Christmas by the Jolly Gent.

Portriat of Lee To Be Unveiled

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—A portrait of Gen. Robert E. Lee will be unveiled January 19 at the United States Military Academy as a companion piece to a painting of Gen. U.S. Grant, later president.

The unveiling ceremony was announced over the weekend in a program for the celebration of West Point's sesquicentennial.

Sidney E. Dickinson painted the three-quarter length portrait of the Confederate commander.

The unveiling will mark both Lee's birthday and the 100th anniversary of the day he became superintendent of West Point.

Newsboys Avert Suicide Try

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—John McGraw, 36 was alive today, thanks to three newsboys who interrupted his suicide plans.

The newsboys—Billy Cadigan, Buddy Rhodes and Eugene Mullins, all 15—were preparing their Miami Herald for delivery Sunday morning when they heard glass breaking in a nearby tourist home.

Investigating, they were told by a tenant that a man inside was trying to kill himself.

They smashed glass jalousies and ripped out a screen on the front door to reach McGraw's apartment, where they found him in the kitchen with the gas stove jets open.

They broke kitchen windows to let in air, turned off the gas and carried McGraw to the front lawn, where he was revived.

There police took over, thanking the boys for their work in helping save the man's life. McGraw was removed to a hospital.

Easy-Going Gable Pleased Gable but Not Film Fans

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Now it can be told—Clark Gable's memories of his marriage to Lady Sylvia Ashley include the advice she gave him about his movie, "To Please a Lady." In the original script he played the rough, tough, hard-drinking Gable of his early hit movies.

Lady Ashley read the script, was horrified at his ungentlemanly actions, and next day Gable got MGM to tone down the character—to please a lady.

The lady was pleased—but movie audiences were not.

The Dan Daley-Jane Nigh romance is having tough sledding. Jane is waiting for pals: "I can't figure him out. Yesterday morning he told me he loved me. In the afternoon he said he hated me."

Leo McCarey finally got his ending for the Helen Hayes-Robert Walker starrer, "My Son John"—and it's an eye opener. Walker, as a Communist in the state department, is machine-gunned while riding in a taxicab past the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

The cab, driven by movie stunt man Jimmy Dundee, spins out of control and overturns on the mar-

Fish Eating Horses, Yet

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—John Kaasa has proof that at least two horses in the Northwest Territories prefer eating fish to hay.

Kaasa, a camera entrepreneur, returned here with his prize movie of the fish-eating horses. He produced a not from the movie series showing two big, white horses eating, with apparent gusto, a pair of fish.

"This fish-eating is sort of a habit with the horses—like smoking," Mr. Kaasa said. "They can't get enough. When the Indians hang out their fish for drying and curing, the horses will come along, pull them down and eat them."

Rural Health Confab Due

The Second Annual Rural Health Conference is to be held in the Little Theater Building at Oregon State College in Corvallis, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 7-8, 1951.

Rural Health problems will be discussed by Dr. J. S. Crockett, National Chairman of Rural Health of the American Medical Association. There will also be discussion groups to talk over some specific problems.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend this conference, further information may be obtained from the office of the Home Demonstration Agent, in the Post Office Bldg., or call 8151.

Cattle Rustler Gets Stoning

SEMARANG, Java, (AP)—An Indonesian cattle rustler met death by stoning.

A midcentury bandit leader near Salatiga, Central Java, chased by a mob of villagers, fell into a ravine and was stoned to death by his angry pursuers. His gang, among other things, had stolen 16 cows.

Youngsters Like Farming

BOSTON, (AP)—Keeping young people down on the farm is getting easier.

The Midcentury Conference on Youth found there are fewer boys and girls leaving farms—in Massachusetts at least—because the work is lighter, more interesting and drudgery is mostly a thing of the past.

New Stabilizer To Take Office

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The nation's new economic stabilizer is an industrialist, a noted amateur astronomer and descendant of the famed New England Poetess Amy Lowell.

Roger Lowell Putnam, named to the job yesterday by President Truman, is also a former three-time mayor of Springfield, Mass., and nephew of the late president of Harvard university A. Lawrence Lowell.

Putnam was chosen to succeed Eric Johnston, who resigned effective November 30, to return to his job as president of the motion picture association. He will assume office December 1, as a recess appointee, pending action by the senate when it convenes in January. The job pays $17,500 a year.

Putnam said he thought "congratulations rather than congratulations" might be in order about his new job. It makes him chief arbiter of prices and wages.

Gas Fumes Threat To Church Crowd

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes escaped into a church here Sunday morning, but quick action by the pastor probably saved the lives of several persons.

The Rev. R. E. Jones, pastor of the Old Baptist church of Walnut Ridge, suddenly faint from inhaling the fumes, shouted for the doors to be opened.

Only one person required hospital treatment. Dr. Ralph Joseph said 13-year-old Catherine Downing was hospitalized. He said she would recover.

Dr. Joseph said about 30 persons suffered some ill effects from the fumes.

He said most of the victims suffered only mild nausea.

The fumes escaped from a new heater.

Cops Baffled By Pharmacy Theft

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Richmond and Henrico county police were on the look-out today for the thieves who Saturday night tried to split local police protection down the middle.

The culprits broke into the Sunset Hills pharmacy and made off with $115 in cash and 50 cartons of cigarettes worth another $75.

Police said the thieves broke into the store through a rear door—in Henrico county.

The money was stolen inside the store—in the city of Richmond.

Police said they weren't waiting for a ruling as to whether the thieves were guilty of store-breaking in the city or the county or both.

Snow Plasters Northern Maine

By The Associated Press
 The storm which hit the northeastern part of the country diminished today after leaving up to 12 inches of snow in northern Maine.

Light snow continued in parts of northern New England and there were flurries in the eastern Great Lakes region and the Appalachians. Strong winds were reported in other parts of the country except for showers in the northwest Pacific states as far south as northern California and eastward into the northern Rockies.

The weather was on the chilly side over the eastern two-thirds of the nation except Florida. Some warming was reported in the West and rising temperatures were predicted for most of the north central region. However, it was zero early today in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and near zero in some other midwest areas.

LONDON, (AP)—The price of a cup of tea—the British national beverage—went up 20 percent in London today.

Leading tea shops announced a hike of half a penny a cup to three pence (three and a half cents).
