Many Basin Pioneers Passed Away in 1951

By DAVE UNDERHILL

Many times this year—seemingly more than in the past few years—this reporter and others on the editorial staff, have written this or a similar lead paragraph to a story: "John (or James) Doe, longtime Klamath basin resident, died today . . ."

Six pages of our newspaper clippings filed on death are filled with the last stories of those pioneers, who lived, worked and died in this area.

There is no other way to summarize these stories than chronologically, month by month.

JANUARY

1. J. E. McCain, Chiloquin water company superintendent.
2. Mary S. Dearborn, Langell valley resident.
3. Judge Joseph A. Mahoney, Linkville justice of the peace for 12 years, and basin resident since 1918.

FEBRUARY

1. John D. Selby, operator of Selby, Willy Motor Co.
2. Mrs. Mary R. McClure, Klamath county resident since 1891.
3. Dr. Harry S. Stone, chiropractor and active citizen.

MARCH

1. Harry O. Wortley, active in barbering here since 1914, longtime president of barbers union.
2. Thel S. Green, resident out-governor, sometime Oregon Woolen store manager.
3. Jim McShane, 56, came to this area as sheep rancher in 1883.

APRIL

1. Mrs. Mary E. McCormick, one of Klamath Falls' oldest residents died at the age of 88. She had been here since 1881.
2. Walter Pomeroy, resident 40 years, resignation, passed.
3. Adam Edlund, operator of Mars hardware, died.
4. Dan Culwell, rancher, born in 1871 near what is now Merrill.
5. William H. Conroy, basin resident and rancher for 36 years.

MAY

1. William Henry "Bully" Barnes, central basin pioneer, sheriff, justice of the peace, rancher, hotel operator, passed here in 1951.
2. Frank Barrett, rancher, 81 years, died in Oregon, Calif.
3. Frank Barrett, rancher of S. 8th, died in Oregon, Calif.
4. James T. Lopez, farmer for 38 years.
5. A. J. McDonald, mortician, active in civic and fraternal affairs.
6. Harry E. Wilson, well known Malin farmer since 1888.
7. Dr. D. D. Haven, veteran of dentistry for 35 years.
8. Erwin A. Shoumber, Klamath area resident 42 years, dairyman and postal employee.

AUGUST

1. Col. G. E. Johnson, lumberman and founder of Klamath Development Co., founder of White Pelican hotel and Harriman lodge.
2. Chet Barton, prominent Poe Valley rancher, owner of famed

Health Board Info Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House declines comment on an appointment of a commission on health needs in "a brazen misuse of emergency funds" for propaganda purposes.

Joseph Short, presidential press secretary, was asked about a statement made at Chicago by Dr. John W. Cline, president of the American Medical Association. Short said he had no comment.

Short also was told that Dr. Gunar Gundersen at La Crosse, Wis., said he declined appointment to the commission because he regarded it as "an instrument of practical politics."

As to that, Short said the White House had been advised once that Gundersen was willing to take "the post and had received no further word from him."

Gundersen said he telegraphed his views to Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, Chicago orthopedic surgeon and head of the commission. Mr. Truman announced appointment of the commission Saturday.

First British prime minister to live at No. 10 Downing Street was Sir Robert Walpole, who took over in 1721.

Lodge Installs New Officers

MERRILL — Malin Lodge A.F. and A.M. No. 194 recently installed new officers for the coming year.

Lawrence Geraghty, Merrill, is the worshipful master; Walter Casebeer, senior warden; Richard Halousek, junior warden; Eugene Beasley, senior deacon; Jesse Smith, junior deacon; Ted DeMerritt, treasurer; Frank Paygr Jr. secretary; Harvey Clugston, senior steward; Homer Deputy, junior steward; Wilber Brickner, tyler; Bernace Wilson, chaplain; Charles Hamilton, marshal; Andy Street was the installing master, and P.G. Wilson the installing marshal.

Military Cost Cut Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Crampton D.Mo. of the House Appropriations Committee said Tuesday "an easing of the tension" might make it possible to reduce military spending in the new year.

Crampton would give no estimate of how much Congress should appropriate for the armed services during the fiscal year starting July 1, but said he believes it may be less than was provided this year—$50,937,909,030.

"In any event," he said "we are going to thoroughly scrutinize the requests for money for national defense. Last year it was a case of taking no chances and giving them everything they asked for. There was the possibility then that Russia might strike at any moment, and we just couldn't afford to take a chance."

Last year's appropriation gave the armed services a balance on hand of about $4 billion dollars, including previous carryovers.

Right now, the military budget is a hot subject between the White House and the Pentagon. President Truman is reported as balking at figures presented by his joint chiefs of staff and as asking for economies.

Hostile Sub Off Formosa?

TAIPEH, Formosa, (AP)—A U.S. destroyer depth charged a supposedly hostile submarine in Formosa Channel Friday, a reliable source said Tuesday, but the target may have been only a porpoise.

Submarines and porpoises sound alike to a ship's listening devices. The source said the destroyer, believed to be the Higbee due in Hong Kong Wednesday, picked up an unknown sound which appeared to be a submarine firing torpedoes.

It made four attacks, but there was no evidence of a kill—no oil on the water and no wreckage.

U.S. warships have been patrolling around Formosa since early in the Korean war when President Truman ordered the Seventh Fleet to the area to neutralize the waters between Red China and this nationalist Chinese headquarters island.

Crash Victims' Bodies Found

HONG KONG, (AP)—The U.S. Navy said Tuesday one of four bodies had been recovered from the wreckage of a crashed American amphibious plane under 30 feet of water off Hong Kong.

A navy statement added that the condition of four survivors was satisfactory.

The PBM Martin Mariner, a courier plane from the U.S. Navy Base at Sangley Point near Manila, crashed on takeoff Monday. Four stunned and injured men were taken out of the craft by British crash boat crewmen.

U.S. Population Continues Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau said Happy New Year to 155,800,000 Americans—by its own count.

Director Roy V. Peel announced the Bureau's Jan. 1 estimate of United States population is 155,800,000 expected to hit 156 million this month.

The 1950 census counted 151,182,000 Americans at home and in the Armed Forces abroad.
