This and That About Women
Edited by Ruth King

"It's A Woman's World"

WEBSTER SAYS A MATRON is calm, tranquil, composed, serene, quiet, unruffled, undisturbed, but what Webster doesn't add is that she has a twinkle in her eye, a sense of humor, deep compassion and plenty of grit when it comes to her "guests" at the Klamath County jail. Mrs. Dorothy Post, jail matron for the past eight years has never yet had to seek masculine support in getting any of "her" women comfortably "settled" in close quarters. . . she works happily six days a week. . . is on call 24 hours of the day and has a way with the ladies. She supervises care of their quarters. . . travels with them, cajoles, comforts and clamps down with an iron will when the going gets rough. . . she never makes one go to bed who prefers to sit up all night waiting for the dawn. . . feels sorry for those who repent and smiles over the bride and groom who looked sad when a barred door swung between them on their honeymoon. . . she wouldn't change places with the wife of the Maharajah of Jodpur. . . she'd rather be here in our town writing letters to a son in Yokohama who is helping army engineers build bridges where no bridges were before. . . would rather be going to meetings of Aloha Chapter, OES, the White Shrine of Jerusalem and helping women who have erred back on "the straight and narrow."

BAKED CUSTARD GOOD

One of the most delicate flavored of all desserts is a baked custard. Give it this deluxe treatment for a really elegant touch. Prepare the custard mixture as usual and bake in custard cups. Unmold and serve in your prettiest glass dishes with a circle of canned cling peach slices around it. Top with a spoonful of raspberry preserves or thin jam.

skirts that also will be in the picture. In any event, you can't lose. It's Leap Year, and open season for all-out allure.

Leap Year Has Styles Leaping With Allure

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

Appropriately enough for Leap Year, 1952 fashions will be loaded with the subtle ingredients of feminine allure. With accent on curves.

The small waist, the rounded hip-line, the accented bust and the ladylike look are all prominent in the spring collections of top designers, while resort wear goes all out for glorifying the female form divine—and if it's not divine the new fashions will do their utmost to make it appear so.

Two major silhouettes are in prospect for the New Year. One is slim and tubular, the other draped and bouffant. Lilly Dache, designer of "tip to toe" fashions described the Jekyll-Hyde fashion prospect thus:

"Women have a choice of two distinct ways to look in 1952—and both are good. For the first look, the hair is very short, worn in the 'poodle' cut, and the silhouette is straight and supple, with a corseted effect at the waistline, sleeves pushed up to three-quarter length and shoes with slightly lower squared heel.

"For the second look, the hair is long and worn in a chignon, the skirt is full and one inch shorter than the straight skirt, the neckline is deep, the bodice draped and sleeves high and full in Gibson Girl style. Highheeled pumps go with this one."

As for hats, Mme. Dache says they will be "very large or very small," and Mr. Fred, of John Fredericks says:

"You'll be able to see the hats next spring, no matter how high the poodle hairdo goes. We'll have no more of those controversies about—'Was or was not the Duchess wearing a hat?'"

On the beach, the body takes the spotlight, says Frances Sider, designer of bathing suits, sportswear and, more recently, a new foundation garment which she calls "the body." She says:

"For true fashion in 1952, women must strive for a sculptured, supple look, a light and modern look of complete ease and comfort. This is achieved by the inside story of swim suits and beach wear—a carefully fitted foundation to keep the curves under control. The correct body lines prepares the wearer for the outer look of small waist, high defined bust, smooth midriff and general streamlined look."

The younger set will go in for the Gibson Girl look, says Emily Wilkins, designer of junior fashions. She adds:

"The 1910 silhouette is still good."

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or when diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if it's so cold. Wilkins' "Kidney Tonic" 240-capsule dietetic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times backache gets happy relief from these dietetics—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Retail Prices On Some Foods Push Higher, But Eggs Show Sustained Drop

By The Associated Press
Retail prices of several important food items pushed a little higher in this first week of the new year. Butter rose two to six cents a pound in most places as production declined when storms slowed shipment of cream. Some beef cuts, particularly prime rib roasts, were marked up a few cents in many stores. Lamb and chicken edged higher.

In fresh produce departments, potatoes, onions, new cabbage, cauliflower, celery, radishes, sweet potatoes and citrus fruits—especially tangerines—all averaged higher. Tomatoes and lettuce, though about unchanged from last week, continued relatively high.

Retailers said canned milk probably would advance a penny or two within the next couple of weeks, reflecting higher costs for fluid milk.

Eggs led the small number of foods running counter to the upward trend this week, dropping two to six cents a dozen in major store chains and independents. Production is on the seasonal upswing now and trade sources report that a 2 to 4 per cent increase in laying flocks should soon put additional pressure on egg prices.

Cucumbers and peppers were about the only fresh vegetables generally lower this week. Carrots and old cabbage were down slightly. Specials advertised by major chains and independents for the next few days showed little uniformity. Most stores held their fresh and smoked ham prices at the special pre-New Year's Day levels, but otherwise their meat features varied from sliced bacon and frankfurters to pork loin roasts, leg of lamb and Wisconsin geese. Other advertised leaders: Frozen halibut steaks, frying chickens, canned pork and beans and canned hash, oatmeal, split peas, dried prunes, graham crackers, fresh string beans, carrots and oranges.

The Agriculture Department headed processed orange projects as the week's most plentiful food for thrifty buying.

Take Time To Look Lovely For Family

When your children grow up and leave home will they carry with them pleasant and warm memories of you? Every time you walk, speak or laugh you are creating an indelible impression upon their young minds. They know, even unconsciously, if you are graceful and gentle; if you are laughing at them or with them.

Let your family know from the start they are dealing with a woman who cares about her daily appearance. Spend a few extra moments in the morning on your hair and make-up. Refuse to wear that dowdy apron-dress to breakfast.

It doesn't take half as much time to be glamorous as you might imagine. If you have an outmoded velvet evening coat, you can transform it into a housecoat to be remembered. And just watch the family perk up when they see the change.

To protect your disposition against the ups-and-downs of juvenile behavior, try to get as much rest as possible. No matter how busy you are, you can certainly manage a short nap, either when the children are off to school, or taking naps of their own. If you are relaxed, your family will be, too.

Think of your life not only as it exists today, but as it will exist in the minds of those you love most in the years to come. With your help the memory can be truly beautiful one.

EASY TO PREPARE
No trick to this easy warm comfort that tastes so wonderful of cold day. Empty a No. 2 1/2 can cling peach slices into a bak dish. Stir in 2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca, 1/2 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon lemon rind. Blend together until crumbly 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup flour and 1/4 cup butter. Sprinkle over peaches and bake moderate oven 45 minutes.

GOOD TO EAT
Maybe you were among the lucky ones who got a chaffing dish for Christmas. Try it out with a good Welsh rabbit. Serve the rabbit over toast with a sprinkling of chopped roasted almonds over it. It's wonderful on a cold day.
