

Ellen O'Keefe Becomes Bride in Late December Of Frank James Sullivan

In a beautiful setting of white chrysanthemums and red poinsettias at Sacred Heart Church, December 27, 10 a. m., Ellen O'Keefe, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Keefe, 335 Pacific Terrace, became the bride of Frank James Sullivan, Tulelake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Poe Valley.

Rev. T. P. Casey officiated at the double ring ceremony before a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride, in a full length gown of ivory satin, with Chantilly lace trim around the shoulder line extending to a point below the waist in front, elbow length veil with matching lace cap, and carrying a white prayer book centered with a white orchid, was escorted down the white carpeted aisle, roped and touched with white ribbon and red poinsettias to the foot of the altar by her brother, William, who gave her in marriage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Bruce Davis who wore a gown of iridescent red silk satin over a net hoop skirt. She carried a bouquet of white poinsettias.

Bridesmaids were Shirley Swafford and Dorris Corkrell of Yaki, and Patricia Murphy, whose dresses were identical with the matron of honor's except that they were green. Their bouquets were the same effective arrangements of poinsettias, carrying out the holiday decor.

Charles Sullivan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Carl Coulson, Rex High and Tom Waldrup all of Tulelake.

Mrs. O'Keefe chose a blue ballerina length frock of imported lace, accented with a corsage of baby orchids. Her hat was of rose satin and she wore white kid elbow length gloves.

Mrs. Sullivan wore a navy blue afternoon dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was the same as Mrs. O'Keefe's.

Susan Vandenberg, organist, accompanied the Madrigal choir of Sacred Heart Academy, which sang selections appropriate to the occasion. Following the wedding a reception was held at the parish hall, beautifully decorated for the occasion. Holiday arrangements of greens and flowers were used throughout the hall and the refreshment table was centered with the many tiered wedding cake.

Presiding at the punch bowls were Joan Murphy, Kathleen and Maribou O'Connor, Mrs. Paul Landry and the wedding cake was served by Mollie McAuliffe and Helen Sullivan. In charge of the guest book was Mrs. Chester Stonecypher, of Tulelake.

Acolytes were Kenneth McAn, draws and Dan Murphy. When the new Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left for a California honeymoon, Ellen wore a beige suit accented with dark brown, and she wore brown gloves and alligator bag and shoes to match. They will be at home in Klamath Falls.

Prior to her wedding, Ellen was guest of honor at several affairs, among them a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Paul Landry, 331 Pacific Terrace; a breakfast party at the home of Mrs. F. R. Sullivan, 1140 MonClaire, with Mrs. John Anderson being assisted by Mrs. James Cavanaugh; and a shower at the home of Mrs. Roy Pickett 4357 Clinton, with Mrs. Bruce Davis as co-hostess.

Nuptial Vows Exchanged At St Augustines

St. Augustine Church in Merrill was the setting for the wedding of Sarah Marie O'Keefe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. O'Keefe, Mallin, to August L. Drier, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Drier, Stribnite, Idaho.

Overgreens and baskets of white chrysanthemums and red poinsettias formed the background for the ceremony. Father John Phelan read the double ring candlelight service at 9 a. m. on January 5. Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, Sarah Marie wore a gown of heavy white satin and Chantilly lace, with princess lines, off the shoulder, with fine nylon net yoke trimmed with a lace flounce. Wide inserts of lace were in the skirt which ended in a court train. The long sleeves ended in a point below the wrist.

Her shoulder length circular veil of white tulle fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. Her bouquet was a single white orchid with lilies of the valley and white satin streamers, which she carried on a white prayer book, which was the "something borrowed." A rhinestone necklace, choker style, and a bracelet and ring, the latter two heirlooms belonging to her mother.

The traditional blue garter was worn, and she carried a handkerchief which came from Ireland many years ago. In her shoe was an Irish penny which her father had brought back from a recent trip to Ireland.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Nora O'Keefe, whose gown was styled exactly as the bride's except that it was in peacock blue satin and lace. She wore a satin braided tiara of the same material as the dress. Her jewelry was made of rhinestones.

Best man was John Drier, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Henry O'Keefe (bride's brother) and Paul Brockman, Klamath Falls.

Mrs. O'Keefe chose a brown and aqua crepe dress with aqua hat for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of gardenias and red roses. Mrs. Drier wore a navy and white two piece dress with navy accessories, and her corsage was the same as Mrs. O'Keefe's.

The reception was held at the Merrill Recreation Hall, and the lace draped reception table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. White candles in crystal candelabra illuminated the table.

Norene and Sadie O'Keefe (the bride's cousins) were at the punch bowl. Mrs. Con Murphy and Maude Murphy served the coffee and tea. Mrs. Dan O'Keefe and Mrs. Nora O'Keefe and Mrs. Jerry Ahern served the cake. Guest book was passed by Sadie Veronica O'Keefe, cousin of the bride.

Soloist was Athena Lampropoulos, who was accompanied by Ronnie Hershberger at the organ. Ronnie also played the traditional wedding music.

The bride's going away costume was a navy blue gabardine with navy and white accessories.

After a trip to Palo Alto and other points south, the newlyweds will make their home in Klamath Falls.

The couple met at Whitman College when they were students there.

Bridal Breakfast

Honored at breakfast on Dec. 11 was Ellen O'Keefe, bride of Dec. 27.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. James Cavanaugh. The affair was given at the home of Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. F. S. Sullivan, 1140 MonClaire.

Invited guests included: Mrs. Bruce Davis, Mrs. Ellen Patterson, Harriet Mueller and Patricia Murphy.

Yellow daisies made the table bright for the occasion.

Couple Wed At Stewart-Lenox Baptist Church

Stewart-Lenox Baptist church was the scene of the marriage of Anna Mae Beshears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Beshears, 3226 Buite, to Kenneth Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, 211 W. P. Weeks read the double ring service at 7:30 p. m., December 29. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her informal wedding the bride chose a soft grey afternoon suit accented with touches of white.

Bridesmaid was Rachel Weeds, and the bridegroom's best man was Robert Smith.

Beverly Ferninen sang "O Promise Me" before the ceremony. Dan Weeks sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the benediction. Accompanist was Charlotte Roland.

After a short trip, the young couple will be at home at 3226 Buite Street.

Marriage Rites In Methodist Church

An informal wedding was solemnized in front of the altar in the social parlor of the First Methodist Church, when Rev. Lloyd Holmway read the service Dec. 22, uniting Arline Knight and Gabriel O'Connor in marriage.

The bridal couple was attended by Bertha Hoie and Dewey Swafford.

Mrs. O'Connor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goffett, 2964 Hope and her husband is the son of Mrs. G. C. O'Connor, Portland.

Only immediate members of the family were present.

Lois Arlene Stanbery William Roy Lundgren Exchange Marriage Vows

First Christian Church was the scene of a lovely candle-light wedding Sunday afternoon, December 23, when Lois Arlene Stanbery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Stanbery, 2159 Kihn, became the bride of William Roy Lundgren, George H. Alder, minister of the First Christian Church, read the double ring service before a large gathering of friends and relatives of the young couple. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nunley, 509 N. 3rd St.

Church decorations were in the Christmas theme and the bride and bridegroom stood before a background of silvered Ponderosa pine, candelabra and floral arrangements of white chrysanthemums and silvered foliage. The aisle was trimmed in white with green foliage.

Before the bridal party entered, Mrs. Stanbery Kendall at the organ accompanied Jerry Isl, who sang "For You Alone." During the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Kendall also played the traditional wedding precessional and recessional.

Ariene, who was escorted to the altar by her father, was groomed in a full sweeping net and tulle skirt with a flowing train. A scalloped lace overskirt dipped to the floor in back. A lace gumpie with tulle collar was worn under the snugly fitted bodice, accenting the full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion net drifted from a cap of imported lace trimmed with seed pearls. Ariene carried a white Bible, given her when installed as Queen of Job's Daughters, on which was placed a purple threaded white orchid, from which fell a cascade of white satin ribbons caught with French Bouvardia.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore a blue satin garter. Something old was a gold bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom. The something new was her dress, and she carried a handmade Irish linen handkerchief borrowed from Louise Linman, one of the bridesmaids. In her shoe was a goodluck sixpence.

Mary Lou Stanbery was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Louise Linman and Katherine Lundgren, sister of the bridegroom. All the attendants were in opalescent tulle dresses fashioned with full skirts and boleros, with matching gloves trimmed in white velvet. Maid of honor was in midnight turquoise, and the bridesmaid's dresses were soft water turquoise. They wore identical white velvet hats trimmed with a sprig of holly, and carried white velvet muffs with cascades of red carnations and English holly. Little Barbara Alder, flower girl, wore an instep length dress similar to the other attendants. She carried a basket lined with roses from which she sprinkled rose petals in the path of the bride.

Brent Hicks was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white velvet pillow.

Eric Lundgren was best man for his brother, Bill Carter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Dan Derrah wore ushers and also lighted the candles before the ceremony. The young couple and their parties received their guests in the church parlor following the ceremony. Mrs. Stanbery chose a blue tulle two piece dress with black accessories. Mrs. Nunley wore a navy suit with matching accessories. Both wore similar corsages of beige Symbidium orchids.

Reception decorations were also in the Christmas theme. The cake table was festooned with green holly and mistletoe. The refreshment table was centered with a Delaware tree spiraled with miniature fruits and nuts.

The four tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Otis R. Stanbery, aunt of the bride. Donna Hansen, cousin of the bride assisted Mrs. John Quigley, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Willard Dryden, cousin of the bride, was at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Joe Glodocki, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the reception, assisted by Nancy and Roberta Pruitt, cousins of the bride. Mrs. George Uiterback, Mrs. Ray Worden and Mrs. Willis King, Teddy Lundgren, brother of the bridegroom, passed the guest book. Both Arlene and Roy are KUHS graduates. Roy is now stationed at Camp Roberts.

For her going away costume, the bride wore a navy blue knit suit with a gold velvet coat and blue accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Bride Honored At Luncheon

EVELYN PETRIK HOLIDAY BRIDE

MERRILL — Red Christmas star flowers, poinsettias, white chrysanthemums and lighted candles banked the altar of St. Augustine's church New Year's Day, Jan. 1, when Evelyn Ann Petrik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Petrik of Merrill, became the bride of William Bert Gasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Gasser of Bridgeville, California.

Reverend Father John Phelan read the double ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore traditional white slipper satin. She wore a fitted bodice, net yoke circled with a full ruffie dotted with sequins, and a full skirt ending in a court train. The long tight-fitting sleeves were pointed at the wrists. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was borrowed from her sister, Mildred, who wore it last June when she married Ellis Wilson. It was held in place with a seed pearl tiara. The bridal bouquet was of white lilies of the valley entered with an orchid, and tied with white satin streamers. For something old she carried a handkerchief from her grandmother Mrs. Marjorie Zumpfle, the blue was her garter, and she had a penny in her shoe.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Ellis Wilson, who wore full-skirted pink satin, with a lace bodice and net yoke. A halo of white pompons was her headdress, and her nosegay bouquet was pink carnations and white pompons.

Bridesmaid was Margaret Petrik, the youngest sister of the bride. Her crown, headdress, and bouquet were identical to that of the matron of honor, except for the color, which was blue.

Best man was Fred Taylor and ushers were Ellis Wilson and Roy Shumaker.

Out town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zumpfle, all of Brookings, Ore.

For going away the new Mrs. Gasser wore a blue gabardine suit with beige and brown accessories. After a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination the young couple will be at home for the present in Eureka, California, where the groom is employed.

Other town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zumpfle, all of Brookings, Ore.
