ican Seventh Fleet has been carrying Chinese Nationalist soldiers to Thailand, Burma and Indochina near Communist China's southern border.

The Iron Curtain drawn tightly around the Reds took over effectively concealed preparations for a Red attack, it is planned.

The Nationalist Chinese Defense Ministry in Formosa said Red troops are massed at South China bases awaiting the signal to move southward.

It said huge supplies of food and war materiel are ready and more than 30 seagoing ships are loading supplies at Whampoa, near Canton.

The defense ministry said some 500 smaller craft have been assembled at Kwangchow, Pakhoi and Yulin to smuggle arms and ammunition to Indochina, Malaya, the Philippines and other places in Southeast Asia.

The military information service said China's railroads and highways are clogged by heavy shipments of troops and supplies southward.

French authorities in Indochina Monday said the Reds apparently are getting ready for a big push on the isolated Boi Binh Basin, 40 miles south of Hanoi.

Communist-led Vietminh rebels have concentrated anti-aircraft guns in the area to shoot down French planes airlifting supplies to the isolated strongpoint at Boi Binh. The French have been flying the aircraft to supplement the few jeeps which manage to get through.

In New York, Gen. Alphonse Pierre Juin, inspector general of the French army, told newsmen the event of a Chinese Communist invasion of Indochina.

General Juin left Sunday by plane for Paris after asking the U.S. for extend immediate aid in the event of a Chinese Communist invasion of Indochina.

Louisiana Election Hot

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana, where politics is as hot as its Cajun pepper sauce, chooses among nine Democratic candidates for governor Tuesday—a record field competing for the favor of a record 981,000 registered voters.

Gov. Earl K. Long, brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, is backing one candidate. His nephew, Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), Huey's son, is backing another. Seven other candidates seek to beat both of them.

Gov. Long is supporting his hand-picked candidate, former State District Judge Carlos Spatt of Baton Rouge. The constitution prohibits the governor from succeeding himself for a second four-year term.

Sen. Long is supporting Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) of New Orleans, for many years a foe of the Longs.

Candy Leads To Trouble For Private

TOKYO (AP)—PFC Linwood E. Smith, Purple Heart veteran of Korea whose sweet tooth cost him his Corporal's stripes, Good Conduct ribbon and honor guard post at General Ridgway's headquarters, has a bride to console him.

Smith said the Army first denied and then granted him permission to marry Jean Marie of Baltimore, a clerk in its Special Services division.

They were wed Friday in a civil rite at the U.S. consulate and a religious ceremony the next day.

Smith, of Fredericksburg, Va., said he expected to be sent to the United States in a day or two for reassignment.

Jeun has to stick to her job until August, or reimburse the Army for her fare to Tokyo and pay her own way home.

Smith's troubles began Jan. 3 when he dipped into a candy box in the Supreme Allied Commander's outer office.

The Army investigated and Smith was shorn of his several perquisites, including the $12 a month extra pay that goes with the Corporal's rating.

"That was the most expensive candy I ever tasted," moaned Private First Class (formerly Corporal) Smith.

LINE PATROL

How we stop telephone trouble — before it starts

"Will it work when I want it?"—that's perhaps the most important thing you want to know about your telephone. That's what we want to be sure of, too. And that's why repairmen, testers, inspectors, and many other telephone specialists are constantly at work to make sure your calls go through. The term we use is preventive maintenance. And it simply means testing and inspecting thousands of miles of lines and cables, and checking switching equipment constantly—on foot, in trucks and electronically—to find and fix any part of our complex system which might cause future trouble.

While you sleep, a technician with an electronic "line patrol" combs over circuits in the office to see that they're operating at top efficiency. This is only one of the ways, here in the West, that we work 'round the clock, and are constantly planning ahead, to keep your telephone the dependable servant it is.

"Pole stubbers" at work: A routine inspection has revealed a pole which shows damage at the ground line. And this crew has been dispatched to reinforce it with a short length. When they're through, it will be as strong as new. And they'll have saved much of the cost of a new pole.

"Trouble detective": If electronic equipment spots possible line trouble, testing devices locate it—and a crew is sent to stop the trouble before it can interrupt service. Elsewhere, alarm systems and flashing light signals are alert to help make sure you'll have the world's most dependable telephone service.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Few of the things you use in your daily life have gone up less, in these inflationary times, than the rates for telephone service. Even though our costs of providing service have skyrocketed, your telephone calls remain one of today's best buys.
