It would cost three times as much, for postage alone, to send post cards to one out of every 10 newspaper subscribers. The newspaper is welcomed into the home and is read by several members of every family. This is just one reason why daily newspapers are THE BASIC ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

No school Monday! The young-sters were elated but farmers, agency and state road crews had feelings much different. There were some drifts on the highway in the Williamson river district nearly eight feet high. Tuesday. One rancher was unable to get in to one bunch of cattle on either Sunday or Monday as a tractor had broken down and neighbors couldn't get in.

Judging by the complaints of a great many people, roofers will probably be busy next spring. Many houses have sprung leaks unnoticed in milder winters. The grade school has been running a stendy stream in the 3rd, 5th and Mrs. Parsley's 2nd grade. No youngsters could sit in the rows of scats adjacent to the windows. Giengers Drygoods has been surfereng a falling plaster hazard.

Main St. is always a sightseers delight in wintertime, for the snow is piled up in the center of the street leaving room on either side for parallel parking and a lane for cars. In the summer, cars park at an angle and travel closer to the center of the street. No other atreets in town are plowed that way.

Mr. and Mrs. Layton Hoback have returned from a week's trip to Southern California. Hoback was off work with a severe infection of the ear.

Mrs. Calife Clark and her three children, Richard, Dona and Janet, left Sunday morning for lowa, called there by the sudden death of the children's father, Eldon Clark, who passed away in Omaha, Neb. Jan. II. The family will be gone between two and three weeks and will visit Mrs. Clark's relatives in Iowa before their return. Clark was a brother to Mrs. Anton Zadina, who was unable to make the trip cast to attend the final rites.
