

HEADIN' FOR THE LAST ROUND-UP—A bull-headed bull that didn't choose to walk the last mile to a Los Angeles packinghouse put up a good fight until he was subdued by a posse of policemen. The stubborn steer was one of seven that escaped. Six were caught easily, but this one led motorists a merry chase through 20 blocks of heavy Los Angeles traffic before policemen from five cruisers lassoed and grounded him.

ED GOWEN

Gowen Enters County Race

Ed Gowen filed his candidacy for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner this morning. Gowen, formerly of the Bonanza area, but now living in town, holds the office at present. He was elected in 1948 and took office Jan. 1, 1949. The term is four years. He was the first person to file for a county office here. The nominating primary election is scheduled for May 16, and the general election next November.

Tunisia Riots Take 28 Lives

TUNIS. Tunisia (U)—Rioting broke out anew Tuesday in this French North African Protectorate. Nine Tunisians and a French officer were killed at Sousse, a city of 35,000 southeast of here. This brought the death toll to 28 in a week of fighting between independence-seeking Nationalists and French police. Colonel Durand, French military commander of the Sousse region, fell in Tuesday's clash. Rioting still flared at Sousse in mid-afternoon. The French moved up mobile guard reinforcements from neighboring Algeria in an attempt to quell the Nationalist rioting or home rule. Tunisian Nationalists who have appealed to the United Nations to intervene released in Paris a letter from the Bey of Tunis to French President Vincent Auriol in April, 1950, in which the Bey pleaded for reforms giving Tunisia more political freedom. The letter warned that if the Tunisian people were not given some satisfaction they might be swept by "a hopelessness that could provoke just what we want to avoid."

Chamber Meet In Portland

The annual Oregon-Washington conference for Chamber of Commerce managers and executives will be held in Portland Jan. 27-28-29 when presidents and managers of the two states will have an opportunity to discuss problems of mutual interest.

Appearing on a panel discussion at the regular forum of the Portland Chamber of Commerce will be Frank Jenkins, Editor of the Herald and News who will speak on "Water and Land Development in the Pacific Northwest." His address will be based principally on "Schedules of Water Development in the Klamath Basin."

General topics on the program are "Building a Plan for Chamber of Commerce Action," "Membership Problems," "How to Hold Meetings." Some meetings will be for presidents only who will get advice from a representative of the United States Chamber of Commerce's Commercial organization department.

Attending from here in addition to Jenkins will be J. W. Kerns Jr., president of the Klamath Chamber and Mrs. Kerns, R. Frank Tucker, manager of the Klamath Falls Chamber and Mrs. Tucker.

COMING HOME — Darwin E. Petty, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Petty, has written his parents he left Korea Jan. 15 and is on his way home. Petty is a private first class in the army.

What's Cooking Over There?

THE HOT CORNER OF THE WORLD now is in Southeast Asia. Do Korean peace talks provide a smokescreen for Communist buildups in Indonesia, Indochina, Burma, India, Nepal, Thailand?

By The Associated Press While peace talks drone on in Korea, policy makers all over the Western world are trying to answer one paramount question: "What's going on in Southeast Asia?" Are the talks a screen for a Communist buildup against other nations in that hot corner? Or, on the other hand, is Russia merely trying to press a campaign for economic liberation?

Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia spurred nervous speculation Jan. 3 by charging in Paris that the United States was ferrying Chinese Nationalist troops into Indochina, Burma and Thailand for an attack on the Chinese Reds, and referring to the time when "military operations begin in Southeast Asia."

Previously, Red China's top man, Mao Tse Tung, had urged the Chinese army to still greater victories. Chinese Nationalists had asserted that two Red Chinese armies would be moved to the borders of Indonesia, Burma and India "as Communist moves in Southeast Asia enter their military phase," and that the Reds are training thousands of candidates from India, Burma, Malaya and Indochina as Red officers. The French say they have reports that 200,000 Chinese troops are on Indochina's border. Our own State Department commented that Vishinsky's charges were meant to cover up Russia's own aggressive designs. Premier Stalin sounded a new note of Russian policy in a New Year's greeting to the Japanese people, telling them Russia sympathizes, deeply with them while urging "foreign occupation." That seemed to some observers as the first chord in a symphony that would give Stalin a chance to play a solo part in Asia economic affairs.

PICTURE OF HOPE—Mrs. Molly Rohwer of Los Angeles, seen with her two children, Rhonda, 5, and Donny, 4, believed she had buried her husband, Cpl. Faylen Rohwer, in a St. Joseph, Mo., cemetery until she saw a newspaper photo of Yank prisoners-of-war in Korea. Mrs. Rohwer holds the picture of the POW she believes is her husband and clings to the hope that he is still alive in a Red prison camp.

COLD, COLD START — Los Angeles began with a chilly 42-degree temperature and a chilling rain handcup in its ice-making contest with Carlsbad, N. M., and St. Petersburg, Fla. Nevertheless, Hollywood beauty Corinne Calvet and weatherman A. K. Showalter "started" the melting of 2100 pounds of ice at Los Angeles airport and hoped weather would improve.

Aussies Count More Sheep

CANBERRA (U)—The latest official count of Australia's sheep flocks is 115,600,000. This is 2,700,000 more than a year ago. In the four years to March 31 last, the sheep population in Australia increased by 19,900,000, but it is still 9,600,000 below the peak of 125,200,000 in 1942.

British Rout Defiant Arabs

ISMAILIA, Egypt (U)—British troops routed hundreds of Egyptian families from their homes in Ismailia's tense Arab sector Tuesday. While the operation was under way, an American nun, slain during British-Egyptian violence, was buried in a nearby British military cemetery. A British military court will hold a closed inquiry Wednesday into the death of Sister Anthony, who was reported to have been killed by Egyptian snipers who invaded a convent garden, or by a stray British bullet. Lt. Col. Mulliner, U.S. consul in Cairo who is conducting an investigation into the nun's slaying, attended the requiem mass which preceded the burial. After the funeral Mulliner returned to Cairo, where he reported to the U.S. embassy that "since no eye witnesses of the actual shooting had been found, the origin of the shot cannot be definitely determined at this time." Shops in the Arab sector were closed and streets were deserted. Egyptians milled behind barbed wire barricades and glared at Britons searching their homes and stores. A military spokesman said several arms caches had been unearthed, including 7,000 rounds of anti aircraft ammunition found in the tombs of a Moslem cemetery on the edge of the Arab quarters. Thirteen guerrillas were captured in a graveyard battle with British soldiers, the spokesman said. One Egyptian who leaped out of a grave and shot a British officer was killed. The officer died later.

Truck Freight Rates Up

SALEM (U)—A 6 per cent increase in truck freight rates in Oregon was approved Tuesday by Public Utilities Commissioner Charles L. Helzel. Helzel said he approved the increase because the truck lines' costs have increased so much that some of them would not be able to stay in business without the increase. The state of Washington recently allowed a similar boon. In an order a few days ago, Helzel allowed the railroads to increase their rates 6 per cent. The new truck rates will become effective Feb. 1. The order applied only to shipments within the state, shipments between states are regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Britain Sets Wealth Guard

LONDON (U)—Britain and her commonwealth partners announced Monday night a drastic emergency program to sell everything they can to the rest of the world and buy as little as possible to turn aside their heading rush toward bankruptcy. After a week of conferences, the financial experts from nine countries said this course must make nations so strong that sterling currency end half of this year and acknowledge it was only a beginning of a years-long search for solvency. Their goal, they said, is to make the industrial, financial and economic structure of the British-led nations so strong that sterling currency again will be freely exchangeable for any money or any goods in the world "and to keep it so." Such a permanent state of economic health has not prevailed in Britain since the first world war. Immense amounts of help—in investments, loans and "active cooperation of other countries"—must come from unimagined countries overseas for a period of years to build this strength, said a communiqué closing the conference.
