TIME OUT!

Have they gone yet?"

An end has to come to all things—but Coach Art Kirkland and his Oregen Tech basketballers are hoping Eastern Oregon's losing streak won't skid to a stop Priday night in La Grande, home of the Mountaineers. That's the night the Owls swing back into league play against Eastern Oregon, loser of 19 straight games. Win 14th Straight Sacred Heart posted its 14th straight cage win ast night-four in league play—with a 66-26 vic-tory over the Gilchrist Grizzlies on the losers' floor.

The victory gave the undefeated Trojans on games won lead in the Klamath County Class B high school loop Chiloquin, also undefeated in league play, holds one feated in league play, holds one less win.

But the Panthers will have a chance to knock the high-flying Trojans out of the lead Friday night when they host the academy five in a league game.

Gilchrist grabbed an early lead nat night, posting four points before the Trojans found the bucket. But that's all the Grizzhes could garner in the first quarter while Sacred Heart plied up 22 points. At halftime, Sacred Heart led. 32-11. Nine Trojans edged into the score column, led by Pat Pratt with 13, the same number gathered by Gilchrist's Freeman.

The Trobabes beat the Gilchrist B team, 25-22, in the preliminary game.

It's an attractive bout that the Mountaineers deeper into the Oreson Collegiate Conference cellar. Even a 41-point scoring performance by Center Lowell Kolbaba Monday night couldn't detour Eastern Oregon's 18th straight loss, as Vanport won, 83-71. The Owls and Mountaineers tangle Priday and Saturday nights. It will be the first action for the Owls aince EOCE's recent visit. The two week's lay-oil, plus hitting the road where the Owls inaven't been too successful, could combine to give Eastern Oregon its first win. The Owls, still in the conference race with a 2-2 mark, will gun for both games to keep them swinging for the OCC title. Kirkland is expected to name his traveling squad tomorrow. SRO Mob The famous Harlem Globetrotters served up the acme in case comedy to an SRO crowd last night on Pellean Court—but Abe Saperstein's basketball buffoons were forced to edge in all their laughs in the second half. They had to play basketball in the first half against a Rickys five that pushed them all the way and led briefly, 25-24 midway in the second quarter.
