

Business Is Next Topic For Forum

Six local men are scheduled to discuss the general question of attracting industry to the Klamath Basin in the fourth of a series of "Build the Basin" forum programs to be broadcast over KFLW next Monday, 8:30 p.m.

The six are L. W. Rothenberger, superintendent of the Hercules Powder Company pilot plant; Russ Tidale, manager of the Klamath Falls branch of First National Bank; Dick Hentzel, rancher; George W. (Bud) Morgan, district freight and passenger agent, Southern Pacific Company; Hal Geiger, CIO International Woodworkers of America; and George P. Davis of Lorenz Company.

Moderator of the forum will be Bud Chandler, manager of KFLW. The discussion is to be entirely unprejudiced and will be conducted by Chandler, who will direct various questions to members of the panel.

Some questions are to be prepared in advance by the Herald and News, but the bulk are expected to come by audience participation in the program.

A questionnaire concerning the industrial topic is to be printed in the Herald and News tomorrow, and listeners will be invited to plug in questions and suggestions while the forum is on the air Monday night. Questions may be telephoned to 8111, and reach the panel.

Members of this panel are not being asked to make any preliminary statements as to their views on the subject, but the discussion will lead off with questions and answers after panel members are introduced by Chandler.

The "Build the Basin" forum, now just three weeks old, is becoming one of the most popular radio programs produced locally. Two of the past three programs have dealt on the question of juvenile delinquency, and the third with speed price ceilings and supports.

Future programs are planned for discussion of such subjects as law enforcement, the city manager form of government, extension of the Klamath Falls city limits, sports and other topics.

Travelers Win Jackpot

PORTLAND (AP) — A Salem couple, bound on a trip around the world, won $2,388 on an NBC radio quiz program featuring Groucho Marx, the Oregonian reported Wednesday.

Radio Columnist William Moyes wrote that the program, recorded in advance, would be broadcast from Los Angeles Wednesday night.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Martine-Laly, started on a sailing trip around the world from Salem last year. After outfitting their 25-foot boat here they ran into a series of difficulties, but finally reached Long Beach, Calif., making the last leg of the trip by truck.

They stopped in California to earn money for the next part of the trip into the South Pacific.

New Hampshire Will Be Ballot Battleground As First Prexy Testing Site

By The Associated Press
An open challenge by Sen. Taft Wednesday pinpointed little New Hampshire as the first testing ground for Republican presidential hopefuls.

The Ohio Senator said he would not ask his backers to withdraw his name from the New Hampshire presidential preference primary—first in the nation—despite the fact that he considers factors in New Hampshire "unfavorable" to him.

Gen. Eisenhower already has been entered in the New Hampshire primary, set for March 11. "Win, lose or draw," Taft said in his statement, "I feel I should permit the preference vote to be taken in New Hampshire."

It was likely that Harold E. Stassen, another top presidential hopeful, would join in the New Hampshire primary. His name was entered Tuesday. He had until 2 p.m. PST Wednesday to decide whether to withdraw from the race.

In mentioning unfavorable factors in New Hampshire, Taft observed that "the political machine of the present state administration is openly pledged to Gen. Eisenhower."

This was a reference to Gov. Sherman Adams, Sen. Tobey and other New Hampshire Republican leaders who have announced for the General.

Taft said he would not only challenge Eisenhower in the presidential preference contest, but that he would also seek pledged delegates in New Hampshire.

That state will send only 14 delegates to the GOP nominating convention in Chicago.

Democrats talked Tuesday of entering President Truman and Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee.

In Concord, N. H., Truman said they would enter the President's name before Wednesday deadline, but the White House declined comment.

The move stirred Kefauver supporters, who have said previously that Mr. Truman enters the New Hampshire arena, the crime-hunting Senator will climb in, too. If Mr. Truman's name is entered it could pry out of him his political intentions.

The President has kept mum on another term. He would have 18 days after his name is filed to accept or reject the bid.

Workers Ask Gun Permits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Guards and couriers of the Atomic Energy Commission want legal approval to carry the guns they're already carrying.

The AEC, describing a proposed amendment to the Atomic Energy Act along those lines, said Wednesday:

"Although such authority is undoubtedly implied in the . . . act, it is believed that express statutory authority, similar to that possessed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Central Intelligence Agency, and other agencies to carry firearms is important to allay the uneasiness which may be felt by some Commission personnel now carrying arms in the performance of their duties."

STORM WARNING
SEATTLE (AP) — The Weather Bureau continued storm warnings Wednesday for the coastal area from Tatoosh to Cape Blanco, forecasting southerly winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour.

Small craft warnings were continued for inland waters of Washington.

Train Smashes Into Pickup At Crossing

There were no injuries reported in a train-pickup collision at the Sam Wong crossing, just off highway 39 shortly after 6 p.m. yesterday.

Driver of the truck was unidentified. Charles Brady was engineer on the Southern Pacific engine.

"I'm giving just 30 seconds more to those people with one foot in the Kingdom of God. Whoever you are, you must give in to Christ tonight."

Graham's topic was "Judgment" and he used the story of Noah and the Ark as an illustration. He said Noah repeatedly warned sinners to repent. They listened too late, he said, after "the judgment of the Lord fell upon them" in the form of the great flood.

The revival is to continue through Feb. 10.

Model June King has thrown her shapely frame behind efforts of a New York state assemblyman to equip all models with special identification cards. June is tired of hearing how some shady ladies try to pass themselves off as models. Says she: "I think the profession deserves to be considered as dignified as selling insurance."

TO RUN AGAIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The oldest member of Congress, Rep. Doughton, (D-N.C.), said Wednesday he will seek re-election in his state's May primary. He is 88.

Doughton said he had intended to retire at the end of his present term next January but a "very large number of people" had urged him to try for renomination.

The unpaid principal of the World War I debt owed the U.S. as of July 1, 1950, was $11,434,794,809.

Concert To Open KF Drive

This year's Community Concert membership drive is to be directed by Mrs. Fred Ehlers, 1338 Pacific Terrace, and Harriet Muller, 1018 Washington St., supervisor of vocal music in city elementary schools.

The one-week drive is to begin with a dinner meeting the evening of March 10. Mrs. L. Rex Hiatt, 1139 Crescent Ave., meeting chairman, said today time and place of the event would be announced later.

Although no program has been arranged there will probably be talks by Lucille Schreiner, representing the national association in New York, and Louis Mann, newly elected president of the Klamath chapter.

Membership renewals will be accepted at the next concert here, Feb. 13. Association Secy, Marion Eshannon said today. Such renewals are to be credited to persons who sold those memberships last year. The Feb. 13 concert offers Matt and Hari and their troupe of dancers. They have zoomed to the top of the entertainment world in the past several months with comic numbers in which they lampoon the ballet and other serious dancing.

Graham Gets 236 Converts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Billy Graham's plea to "give in to Christ" brought forth 236 persons as converts Tuesday night, the most at one time in the evangelist's 2 1/2-week old capital crusade.

Every seat in the National Guard armory, which has an 8,000 legal capacity, was filled. Some 200 persons stepped forward at the young preacher's call for professions of faith. A score or more followed when he said:

"I'm giving just 30 seconds more to those people with one foot in the Kingdom of God. Whoever you are, you must give in to Christ tonight."

Graham's topic was "Judgment" and he used the story of Noah and the Ark as an illustration. He said Noah repeatedly warned sinners to repent. They listened too late, he said, after "the judgment of the Lord fell upon them" in the form of the great flood.
