

LT. DONALD B. WELLS

KF Officer Has Bad Time

Lt. Donald B. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wells, 1005 Ward, commanding officer on the coast guard cutter, Cahoon, has written his parents of his recent experience while searching for a missing General Airways plane in the North Pacific.

The experience was a harrowing one after leaving Sika, in Salbury Sound the ship began to ice up. Radio antennas were so heavily coated they were useless. One finally snapped under the weight and the ship for many hours was without means of communication except for one small voice radio.

High winds and seas rolled the Cahoon to 50 degrees. All fires were extinguished. Men sent to chop ice from the decks could stand the terrible cold for only a few moments. The crew lived on sandwiches and no coffee, mainstay of a sailor, for 2 1/2 days.

The ship arrived back in port with from 2 to 8 inches of ice covering but there were no casualties.

Commander Wells is well-known here. His wife and baby are in Alaska with him. He has been in the service 11 years.

Allies Plan Move To Speed Truce Talk In Korea

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Allies proposed Thursday that truce negotiators tackle yet another problem—the final clause of a Korean armistice.

This is recommendations to beligerent governments, including ultimate withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea. The Communists have been wanting to talk about it since the truce negotiations began.

If the Reds accept, it would mean every key armistice problem would be under discussion simultaneously in a three-part performance.

Negotiators have been deadlocked for weeks on agenda items three and four, supervision of a truce and exchange of prisoners. But Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior Allied delegate, suggested simultaneous negotiations on item five in an effort to speed the signing of a truce.

The recommendations section was included in the conference agenda to meet a Communist demand for withdrawing foreign troops from Korea.

The U.N. refused to consider troop withdrawal as part of an armistice, but finally agreed to consider such a recommendation to governments involved in the Korean War.

The question then would be settled on a higher, political level.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U.N. spokesman, said he believes the Reds also plan to present a recommendation for final

AA Slots Nabbed In Quickie Raid

SEATTLE (AP)—Five slot machines were seized Wednesday at all places, the Alcoholic Anonymous clubrooms.

The steward, John Lawrence Ross, 62, said the club had used profits from the illegal machines to buy coffee for members and to maintain its rehabilitation shop.

Both he and Ralph Fred O'Donnell, 53, janitor, were booked for possession of gambling equipment and released on $100 bail each.

The raiding party of several policemen and Deputy Sheriff John C. Rawlings said they found the ma-settlement of the Korean question at a higher level.

He declined to say whether the Allies would submit recommendations if a third tent is set up at Panmunjom.

The truce supervision subcommittee is in recess while staff officers try to hammer out an agreement on all points except the hotly-contested U.N. proposal for banning airfield construction during an armistice.

The subcommittee on prisoners and the staff officers on truce supervision will meet again at 11 a.m. Friday, 6 p.m. Thursday, PST in Panmunjom.
