BIRTHDAY PRESENT being presented here by Grant Perry, Toketee Lions Club, to 10-year-old Lion Cub Scout Francis Kenyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kenyon, 703 Mitchell, isn't because it's the Scout's birthday. The slide and film strip projector was presented to commemorate Boy Scout Week Feb. 6-12. The Scouting program turns 42 years old then. Francis is a member of Mills PTA-sponsored Cub Pack 4. Perry is secretary treasurer of the Lions.

Movies Have Ax to Grind As They Scan TV Romance

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Hollywood's green-eyed about television for more reasons than one. It's strictly a behind-the-scenes secret, but movie-makers are preparing a dossier which will show that smooching is longer and hotter, love talk franker, and subject matter sexier on television than in movies.

Purpose: To persuade the Johnstone office to relax the movie censorship code.

Bruce Bennett will replace Jeff Chandler in the TV version of Eve Arden's "Our Miss Brooks." Jeff's gnashing his teeth about the whole thing but there's nothing he can do. His UI studio bosses pointed to his contract and said, "No TV."

It will be Richard Conte, not Herbert Marshall, as the star when "A Man Called X" sails through the television channels as a film series. Conte will get a 50 per cent cut of the profits, plus residual rights.

Lou Costello and Bud Abbott are just about ready to announce that their series of 39 filmed comedies for TV has been purchased for $1,500,000.

I'm told that offers exceeding a million were made, but that the million held out for their full price.

A FAMILY-TYPE HERO

There's a new type of movie-western hero riding the TV channels and mothers from coast to coast are yelling "Yip-e-e-e," along with their kids from loge seats on family sofas.

Bill Williams, the movie bobby sox hero who switched to western villains and then popped up on the home screens as heroic "Kil Carson," is the fair-haired boy with his new approach to winning the celluloid west.

"I'm the family type of western hero," Bill told me in reference to his filmed "Carson" series. I use my head and my fist instead of my guns. I never draw my gun unless the other fellow draws first.

"I never say ain't and I'm polite about everything. It's: 'Will you please tie up the horses?' instead of 'Tie up them nags!'"

Is it paying off? You bet. "Carson" is now in 40 cities. Twenty-six half-hour shows are on film and another 26 go into production next month.

CAST MEMBER REPORTS—James Mason, Murray Matheson and Patricia Medina, meet a Koala bear which makes its film debut with them in "Botany Bay," a story of 1790 Australia.

SHAKESPEARE IN GERMAN — Puck and Oberon hover over Titania during dress rehearsal of "Midsummer Night's Dream" at rebuilt $2,000,000 West Berlin Schiller-Theater.

FAMILY GROUP — Jimmy Stewart, his wife, Gloria, and family in Hollywood. Seven-month-old twin daughters are Kelly (L) and Judy. Jimmy's stepsons, Michael (L), S. Ronald, 7.

Russ Patriarch Dies at 86

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia, the government newspaper, announced Tuesday that Callistrat, patriarch of all Georgia, has died in Tbilisi (Tiflis). He was 86.

The patriarch was spiritual head of all Orthodox Christians in Georgia, homeland of Generalissimo Joseph Stalin. Izvestia said funeral services will be held next Sunday.

Nations Feud In Antarctic

LONDON (AP) — Britain is sending the 1,600 ton, well armed frigate Bursled Bay cruising in the disputed Antarctic territory where Argentine shots fired in the air repulsed a British landing party last weekend.

The firing occurred at an island in Hope Bay, near the northeastern peninsula of Grahamland. Both Britain and Argentina claim territory there. The British were trying to re-establish a survey base at Hope Bay.

Britain filed a vigorous protest of the incident with Argentine Foreign Minister Jeronimo Remorino Monday. Remorino assured the British charge d'affaires in Buenos Aires that the armed Argentines "acted in error" and that their orders had been "clarified."

Grease Blamed In Overflow

Don't pour that hot grease down the drain, ladies, because City Engineer E. A. (Taxi) Thomas won't like it.

And Taxi apparently has good reason for that. Lots of grease down many drains is not only eventually cogs up the home disposal system, but also proves costly and time consuming to the city sewage system.

Thomas recommends the system used by Mrs. Thomas for getting rid of the grease.

Pour it into a container till it becomes cold and hardens. Then put it in the garbage.

That way, Thomas said, his department will be saved unnecessary work and the city a great deal of expense.

Closed Shop Use Charged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has accused the Pacific Maritime Association and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union of violating the Taft-Hartley Law's closed shop ban.

The NLRB issued a complaint Monday on behalf of 15 individuals who say they were refused waterfront employment because they were not ILWU members.

The NLRB said Harry Bridges' ILWU and the PMA, an association of West Coast waterfront employers, must rewrite their contract to remove hiring halls from union control; put the 15 on ILWU work availability lists, and make restitution to them for the time they would have worked.

The issue goes to a hearing March 24.
