Lewis Named Top Citizen

MERRILL—Paul D. Lewis, long-time resident of Merrill and present city councilman was named "Citizen of the Year" at last night's annual Lions club dinner in the city recreation hall. Presentation of an engraved bronze plaque was made to both Mr. and Mrs. Lewis by Dr. Frank E. Trotman, award winner last year. The new citizen has been a resident of Merrill since 1924, a member of the city council since 1942 and has served as water commissioner for the past six years. He has also figured prominently in many civic activities, including the annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival held here. With Mrs. Lewis he is manager of the Ben Franklin Store here and was one of the earlier day homeleaders. He served in the air force during World War I. Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg, speaker of the evening, laid the responsibility for juvenile delinquency squarely in the laps of parents. It is the early years of a child's life, he said, "from the cradle to the six-year-old that the mould for adult living is cast." After that age there is little that educators and the courts can do to change the trend of a juvenile's life. Judge Vandenberg was introduced by Harold Hendrickson, principal of the high school and one-time Klamath County Juvenile Officer. Clyde Hammond, president of the Merrill Lions club, presented the award. Visitors were introduced by W. H. Homes. A barbershop quartette sang two numbers. Dinner was served to 100 members of the club, their wives and guests by members of the auxiliary of the Merrill Legion post. HITSON HONOR Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hitson, will be honored with a shower, 8 p.m., Thursday in the Bonanza Library. Mrs. Hitson is the former Pat Eager. The young couple were married after the groom's recent return from the combat zone of Korea.
