Sun Census Finds Three

WALLA WALLA (AP)—It was the middle of the afternoon—still too early even for a sociable drink. That's why Walla Walla Union-Bulletin reporters were skeptical this week after a subscriber telephoned that there were three suns in the sky.

Reporter No. 1 went out in the alley to take a sun census (or susus) after the first call. He came back in to say there was only one sun.

Then another subscriber phoned in. And Reporter No. 2 sashayed out in the alley for his susus.

He came back blinking, swore he had not been drinking, and said "yes, there are three suns out there." (Not the singing trio of the same name.)

So then they called the weatherman, Lloyd Vaughan. He cleared up the sky, or mystery.

He called them sun dogs—mock suns formed 22 degrees on either side of the regular sun as seen by an observer.

They are formed by thin clouds of ice crystals high in the atmosphere which reflect the light rays to form a mirage.

Constitution Defended By Sen. Watkins, Utah

By JOHN KAMPS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, R-Utah, is becoming known in the Senate as a defender of the Constitution.

As a former district judge, he likes that reputation.

During a two-day Senate debate last week on whether the President or Congress has war-making powers, Watkins was on his feet for 11 hours. At its conclusion, Sen. Millikin, R-Colo., rose to say:

"I wish to express my appreciation of his unceasing vigilance for the protection of the Constitution of the United States."

DUE

Sen. Case, R-S.D., added: "... It is a tribute which certainly is due the senator from Utah by reason of the questions he has raised, he certainly has contributed an understanding of the (Atlantic peace) pact and, I hope, to the clarification of our foreign policy."

Watkins touched off the current extension of last year's "great debate" when he proposed that a "reservation" be tacked onto a resolution taking Greece and Turkey into the North Atlantic pact.

The reservation, Watkins said, would restate and reaffirm that Congress, and only Congress, has the power to put the United States into war.

He wanted to limit actions by the President which he feared could throw the nation into war without formal declaration by Congress.

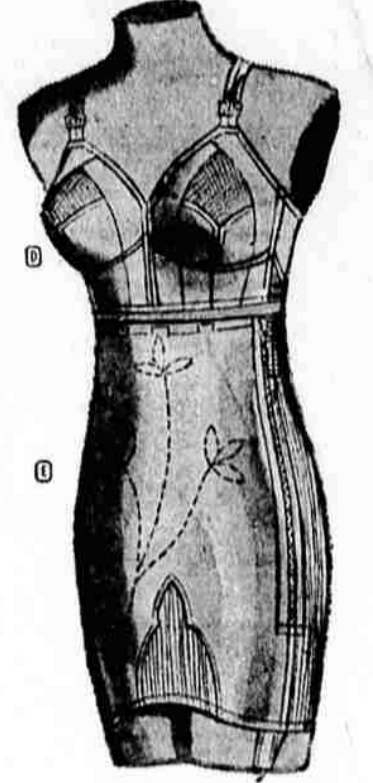

BITTERNES

The proposal sparked bitter arguments over the sending of troops to Europe, whether President Truman exceeded his authority in dispatching troops to Korea and whether he could send them into battle elsewhere in the world.

Watkins finally withdrew his reservation.

A similar Watkins reservation after senators were told that the war-making powers of Congress on the North Atlantic pact, would be unimpaired.

Billy Graham Hall Jammed

WASHINGTON (AP)—An estimated 10,500 persons—about double the normal legal limit—jammed the National Guard Army Sunday to hear Evangelist Billy Graham, and 1,000 more listened by loudspeaker outside.

The armory's legal capacity is 5,310. At Graham's appeal, it was raised two weeks ago to 8,000 for religious meetings. Fire marshal's agents closed the door on about 1,600 persons.

The meeting opened the fifth and final week of Graham's capital crusade. It ends next Sunday with an afternoon gathering at the Washington Monument.

Solon Seeks 7-Cent Coin

WASHINGTON (AP)—What this country needs is a good 7-cent nickel and a 15-cent dime, in the judgment of Rep. Sieminski, D-N.J.

He suggested the government look into the possibility of coining seven- and 15-cent pieces, in the course of House Appropriations Committee hearings on the Treasury Department budget, published Monday.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, told the congressman bankers are dead set against the idea, and indicated she didn't think much of it either.

She said such coins wouldn't be divisible into the dollar, wouldn't work on vending machines, would require additional compartments in cash registers and probably wouldn't be popular with the public.

Spirit Drive Asked by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XI has called for a spiritual crusade to turn the world from "paths which sweep on to ruin" and from a general condition which "may explode at any moment."

Broadcasting over the Italian radio network, the Pontiff said Sunday each man must re-examine "what he can and must do personally as his own contribution to the saving power of God."

As Bishop of Rome he addressed the Roman Catholics of that city, but his appeal for a return to "Jesus Christ, the church and the Christian way of life" clearly was meant for all.

Threats to the present generation he said, are "much more widespread and grave than pestilence and the convulsions of nature, even though their continuing threat has begun to make the nations almost insensible and apathetic."

State Legion Meet Planned

Plans for the 34th annual Department of Oregon, American Legion, convention to be held in Klamath Falls next summer are being made by members of Legion Post No. 8.

O. D. Matthews, former City Plumbing Inspector, heads a committee doing the groundwork of convention planning. Other members of the committee are Pat Kilby, Harry Van, George McIntyre and George A. Myers.

Tentative convention dates are Friday, July 25, for the 8 and 40; Saturday, July 26, for the 40 et 8; Sunday, July 27, memorial service and opening ceremonies, and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 28, 29 and 30, for the American Legion business sessions.

State wide drum corps competition is to occupy one night. The 40 et 8 is to have its Grand Caucus parade and the convention parade is to be scheduled for another date. Dances, dugouts and special entertainment features are to be spotted throughout the convention.
