Colorado Man Guest Speaker

Dr. William P. Whittemore, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fort Collins, Colo., will be the guest speaker at the Bible Baptist Church for both services on Sunday.

His subject for the 11 a.m. service will be "The Spirit Filled Life," and for the evening service, "Stopping God."

Dr. Whittemore was invited to Oregon by the Conservative Baptist Association of Oregon as its inspirational speaker for the annual meeting to be held at Lebanon, Feb. 18 through 21.

The public is cordially invited to the services.

Plans Laid For Building

Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church members are laying plans for construction of a church building sometime this summer.

The recently formed congregation has been meeting at Shasta School on Madison St.

Several weeks ago property was purchased on S. 6th St. near Homedale Rd. in anticipation of constructing a new building.

Final plans for the building will be approved when Dr. Bowman, director of Church Extension of United Lutheran church visits here this summer.

Assembly Sets Revivals Here

Revival services conducted by Rev. William Booth Clibborn, D.D., Ph. D., grandson of Salvation Army founder Gen. William Booth, will start Sunday at Assembly of God Church, 8th at Oak Sts.

Services will be conducted nightly, except Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. The first service will be at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Rev. Clibborn has recently returned from Europe where he conducted 67 revival sessions in seven countries. He will be guest speaker Saturday, 6:30 p.m. on the Assembly radio program over Station KFJI.

The public is invited to attend the services, which will continue for a week.

Potluck Planned By Congregational

A potluck luncheon has been scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 24, at the Congregational Church, Rev. Don Cassidy announced today.

The potluck will follow a short post-service congregation meeting, Rev. Cassidy said.

World Prayer Day Planned

The Church Council of Women, Klamath Falls, is joining with the many churches around the world in observance of the 65th World Day of Prayer which is held the first Friday in Lent, February 29.

This year the meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian church, starting at 10 a. m. A sack lunch is planned for noon and the meeting will adjourn at 3 p. m.

Theme of the session is to be "Christ Our Hope." Several of the ministers of the city and many members of the Church Council will take part in the program. Mrs. Eibert will be at the organ for the morning session. Mrs. George McIntyre during the afternoon. Soloists will be Mrs. Phil Hitchcock, Mrs. Marvin Nersest and Rev. D. L. Proett.

Purpose of World Day of Prayer is the Christian fellowship of prayer around the world and the building of World Brotherhood.

The sponsor in the United States is the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of churches in the United States of America.

The program comes from a different country each year. It is distributed in 16,000 communities in the U. S. and this year went to 104 other countries around the globe.

Union Worship Services Set

Rev. Edward Lander, pastor of the Community Church of the Brethren with his congregation will worship with the Union Gospel Mission, 251 Commercial, at the evening service, Sunday, Feb. 17. Time of the service will be 7:30 p.m.

The church choir will sing and all are welcome.

Pastor of the Union Gospel Mission is C. M. Timms.

When you cook a pound of dried prunes you will find that it makes about twelve one-half cup servings.

Transplanted Eskimo Youth Wins High Scouting Award

By PAUL W. HARVEY, JR. SALEM — Carl Maxwell is a husky, black-haired, moon-faced, half-Eskimo boy who became an Eagle Scout this week, winning scouting's highest award although he's only 15 years old.

He did it all on his own, too. Carl came to Salem five years ago from an Eskimo village north of Nome, Alaska. His mother was an Eskimo princess, and his father a white construction worker. When they moved here, they lived in a made-over barn.

His dad, Charles Maxwell, now is a plumber at Point Barrow, on the Alaskan Arctic Coast. He came to Salem to join Carl's Eagle badge on the boy's breast. His mother lives in Portland, where she's an expert fur worker.

The parents separated while they lived here, and Carl and younger sister live in Albany with the Clark Lettins. Lettins is a Boy Scout executive.

There are two older sisters, one of whom is a patient at the state tuberculosis hospital, and the other is married and living in California. Carl is a handsome boy, a hard worker, an average student, and an outstanding artist.

"This boy and his family have fascinated me ever since they came to Salem."

About the time he arrived, five of us men in the Salem Heights area south of the Capital City started a Cub Scout pack. Cubbing, the junior branch of the Boy Scouts, is for boys 8 to 11 years old.

Carl was a charter member of that Cub pack. He was the most enthusiastic Cub we had. He had an intense desire to learn all he could about nature. This desire and his hard work won him his quick advancement to the pinnacle of scouting.

Carl collected snakes, explaining he never saw snakes in the Arctic.

PRIDE
The scout executives here are proud of Carl, because he has excelled most white boys.

"Carl did it all on his own," Gorden Gilmore, Salem Scout executive, said.

"He didn't have any family push. He would spend hours in the woods all by himself, learning about birds and animals."

"He used to phone in to the Scout office mornings before he went to school to get advice about his advancement."

"For our annual scout circuses, Carl won the ticket-selling contest two years in a row for the whole three-county area in our council. He rang door bells late at night to sell the tickets, and that made it possible for him to go to Scout camp for nothing."

"He has more stick-to-itiveness than any boy I ever saw."

CHRISTIAN
Up in Alaska, Roman Catholic missionaries educated Carl and his sisters. Today he's a devout church member, having won special awards for his service to his church. These awards include one for helping the priest at Mass.

Carl, whose Eskimo features are very prominent, hasn't run up against any race prejudice yet. Because of his friendly nature, he has more friends than most white boys.

Distress Call Believed Hoax

MIAMI, Fla. — Answering a radio distress call, the Coast Guard searched Cuban waters Thursday for a blazing freighter and her crew, then wrote the whole thing off as a hoax.

The SOS, picked up by the Coast Guard Station in Richmond, said the freighter was airtight and had been abandoned by the crew. The call identified the ship as the S. S. George Duketon and her call letters indicated Swedish registry.

An amphibious plane and a 165-foot cutter searched the area thoroughly without finding any trace of a ship or crew.

Parishioners Donate Memorial Windows

MERRILL — Four new stained glass windows have been installed in St. Augustine's church during the past two weeks. Donations from parishioners were responsible for the installation of the window in memory of the Most Rev. Joseph P. McGrath, Bishop of the Baker City Diocese until his death last year, who did so much for the local parish.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McAuliffe of Malin, donated a window in memory of their son, Sgt. Con McAuliffe who died in Korea, Feb. 13, 1950.

The other windows were donated by Mr. and Mrs. James Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Falvey.

SCENIC SAVING
PORTLAND — Multnomah County gave its pledge Thursday to co-operate in saving scenic stretches of the Columbia Gorge.

St. Augustine's Plans Parish Hall Addition

MERRILL—Facilities of St. Augustine's parish will be further augmented when the proposed new parish hall, now in the drawing stage by architects Morrison and Howard of Klamath Falls, is completed later in the year.

Specifications for the hall are expected to be ready by March 1, when bids will be called for.

The new structure will be located behind the church and parish house, and will have a brick and tile exterior.

Included in the proposed plan is a large main hall and dining room which will accommodate 80 guests for dinner, and will be used for all organization meetings and social affairs. Folding partitions will convert the hall into three separate rooms for Sunday School classes.

A modern kitchen and large storage room complete the interior arrangement. Cost of the hall is being met by subscriptions from parishioners and others interested in the project.

The Young People's club of St. Augustine's parish has added to the building fund by sponsoring several functions during recent weeks.

In making plans for the construction of the hall, Father John Phelan, pastor of St. Augustine's, has been ably assisted by James Lacey Gene Hammond, James O'Keefe, Toby O'Keefe, John Giacomini all of Merrill, and Ben Johnson of Malin.

Luck Deserts 2 Brave Boys

PHILADELPHIA — The good old days and the simple life are gone forever, it seems.

Look at the case of two school-boys who decided Thursday no more school for them. Time to get out in the world and make a living.

Attendants at the Federal Building in downtown Philadelphia rescued them from an elevator stalled between floors after hours Thursday night.

Asked how come, they explained they saw no operator on duty and thought the elevator was self-operating. Pulled the wrong levers, they guessed, and that's how they got stuck.

But what were they doing in the Federal Building?

The older one, age 13, solemnly replied:

"Well, to get jobs we have to get our Social Security cards."
