South San Francisco Residents Condemned For Ousting Family

Farrowing Caution Necessary

Records indicate that one-third or more small pigs die before weaning time. So certain precautions are important at this season as farrowing approaches. Among the things that help to save young pigs is clean sanitary conditions. The sow should be placed in the farrowing pen several days before farrowing and the pen should have been properly cleaned and disinfected before the sow was placed in it. Immediately following farrowing the sow is in a feverish condition and should be fed carefully for the first few days in order to be sure of establishing a good milk flow. The first day after farrowing, she should receive no feed, but have water accessible. She should then be fed carefully for several days on feeds more or less laxative. A ration containing a high percentage of wheat bran is very helpful at this time and the wheat bran should be gradually replaced with other feeds as she loses that feverish condition. Sows at farrowing time should be kept in pens at a temperature between 50 and 60 degrees F. Small pigs and sows are more comfortable under those conditions. Remember that the saving of five pigs saved represents the profit pay expenses and that more than five pigs saved represents the profit in the business.

MEATLESS DINNERS

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Malayan Vegetarian Society has scheduled a monthly dinner meeting, at which no meat will be served. The non-meat-eaters also have announced their decision to look into the possibility of starting an exclusively vegetarian restaurant in Singapore.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The South San Francisco City Council Monday night unanimously approved a resolution condemning the all-white Southwood tract residents who voted against admitting a Chinese family. Public and press reaction became nearly worldwide. Some residents of the South San Francisco tract started a move to reverse the 174-28 ballot by which Sing Sheng, his wife and 2 year old son were voted out. Sheng started it by inviting a "Democratic ballot" on his admission to the tract, where he'd made a $2,950 payment on a $12,000 home. He is an airline mechanic and former Chinese Nationalist army officer. O. M. Brown, spokesman for a Southwood group seeking reversal of the Saturday vote declared: "A lot of us are still Christians who believe in God and are glad to have any honorable man living among us." Sheng, 26, said he had received offers of 30 homes in the Bay area, Oregon, Wichita, Kansas, and Indiana. But he wanted to live in South San Francisco near his job. In Hong Kong, China, the Hong Kong Standard said Sheng was the victim of his "enduring faith in all the Democratic buldardash on which the world has of late been led." The Standard, owned by Chinese millionaire Aw Boon Haw, is normally pro-American and anti-Communist. The paper commented that Sing Sheng "is as much to blame as his would-be neighbors" when he was voted out last Saturday in an election he himself proposed. "The ideals of Democracy, like the ideals of Christianity, are to be nurtured, not be lightly experimented with," the newspaper said. "In spite of the miracles one reads in the Bible, no one is supposed to try to work miracles in every day life."

MCDONALD APPROVED WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee Tuesday approved by a 7 to 3 vote President Truman's nomination of Harry A. McDonald to be administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Big Cheese Future Seen

CORVALLIS (AP) — The Oregon Coast has a big future in cheese production, G. H. Wilster, head of dairy manufacturing at Oregon State College, predicted Tuesday. It is doubtful if any other area in this country has natural conditions more favorable for cheese production, he told the Oregon Dairy Manufacturers Association at the annual convention here. He said the coast states alone offer a market for millions of pounds of cheese yearly, but only cheddar, cottage and small amounts of blue and swiss cheese now are made in Oregon. R. Z. Price, Moulter, won the cheddar cheese contest with a score of 95.5 followed by Wilfred Lommen, Nehalem, 95; John Frank, Mount Angel, 94.5; Angus McDonald, Coos Bay, 94; and Basil Tone, Tillamook, 93.5. Charles M. Royer, Coos Bay, won the cold storage butter contest with a score of 94.5, followed by Lorin Edlund, Curv's Dairy, Seaside, 94.25; C. S. Korsmo, Clatskanie, 93.75; William L. Johnson, McMinnville, 93.5.

Rich Estate Heirs Sought

PORTLAND (AP) — A Portland attorney is looking for the legal owners of the income from a million dollar trust fund. The owners are blood relatives of Mrs. Mary Voght or Mrs. Margaret Donahue Brady, both of whom lived in Portland before their deaths. The attorney, David Fain, said the fund was established in 1935 by Mrs. Voght. Her will left the income from the trust to her daughter, Mrs. Lucille Voght Hellig. In the will Mrs. Voght said that in the event of her daughter's death, the money was to go to "blood relatives of my deceased mother or myself." Mrs. Brady was Mrs. Voght's mother. Mrs. Hellig died last November in a house fire in California. Since then Fain has been looking for legal heirs. So far he has not located any. "The search may lead all the way to Ireland where her forebears lived," he said.

COUNCIL CANDIDATE PORTLAND (AP) — The first candidate to file for Portland city commissioner is Stanley W. Earl.

30 Head Set For Annual Gilt Sale

Thirty gilts have been consigned to the annual Oregon Purebred Swinegrowers Association gilt sale set for the County Fairgrounds Feb. 20. The swine will be registered and all should farrow in March or April, according to OPGA Secy. Ben Newell. Among consignments are Herefords, Durocs, Yorkshires, Poland Chinas, Spotted Polands, Chester Whites, Burkhires and Hampshires. The sale time is 12:30 p.m. with Bob Rhodes auctioneer. Newell said the two previous sales this season—at Salem and LaGrande—have averaged less than 100 pigs each, although demand has been good for such top quality breeding animals as these. This year, he said, top Burke from the Klamath area have been consigned to the sale, including some from the herds of Bryant Williams and Earl Wilson.

Fair District Board Named

TULELAKE — Appointments of eight directors to serve on the board of directors of the newly created agricultural 10-A fair district in the Tulelake Basin have been confirmed by Gov. Earl Warren according to word reaching here today. They are Arnold Criss, Macdoel, farmer; William G. Hagelstein, president of the Butte Valley State Bank, Duris; P. J. Bergman, Tulelake businessman; W. J. Shepard, local manager of the California-Oregon Power Co.; Verne Hemstreet, Smith-Hughes teacher, Tulelake high school; Paul Christy, Chester J. Main and E. Webb Staunton, Tulelake farmers. The new board will meet in the near future to elect a president and to hire a fair manager. The fair district created by legislative action will embrace parts of Modoc- and Siskiyou counties in the Tulelake area and Butte Valley. Thirty acres of land south of Tulelake is available for grounds and $6,000 has been set aside by the State Legislature for payment of cash premiums and to help pay salary of a manager. At present the Department of Finance, State of California, and the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation are negotiating jointly for a 25-year lease on the grounds. A. E. Snyder, director of fairs and exposition in California will be invited to assist the board in plans for construction of building and other details pertinent to establishing the annual exposition. The Tulelake Rotary club, sponsor of the annual 4-H and Future Farmer of America Junior Livestock Show will continue in that capacity. The club carried the ball for promotion of the fair district through the legislature with the support of other local groups. Plans for a fair here were pushed because of distance to be traveled to county fairs, at Yreka and Cedarville.

Heavy Snow May Threaten Homes

MEDFORD (AP) — Record winter snows may be threatening resort homes in the southern Cascade Mountain regions. W. T. Frost of the Snow Survey said Tuesday that snows were heavier this year than they were four years ago when owners made trips in snow tractors to shovel off their roofs. ON ATOM BOMBING ROUTE MONTREAL (AP) — If there is an atomic war Montreal is "Canadian target No. 1 and we can't expect the enemy to by-pass us," said Brig. J. Guy Gauvreau, Montreal civil defense head. "Bombers on their way from Murnansk to New York do not have to detour to visit Montreal," he noted.

OSC 'X' Station Checks Swine

Where does swine production fit into the farming picture in Oregon? The answer to that one is the latest goal of agricultural economists at the Oregon State college experiment station. With Oregon swine numbers at their lowest ebb in 80 years, hog raisers have become concerned about the future of the business. They have asked the OSC experiment station to point out the reasons for this decline. First steps in the project already have been taken. Information has been collected from commercial swine producers in eastern Oregon, central Oregon and Willamette valley swine raising centers. Economists will analyze the data to determine how efficiently Oregon swine producers are operating. Oregon's position in the pork producing competition with the Midwest also will be considered. If possible, a model plan will be set up to represent a more effective approach to swine production in Oregon. Preliminary results of the study are expected to be available for conservation of agricultural leaders at the statewide agricultural planning conference at OSC in March.

Proper Fertilization Gives Better Hay Crop

With present high hay prices many farmers face a serious feed problem. Yet on many farms it is possible to buy good hay for March and April delivery at $10 per ton delivered on the farm. This hay is available to those who can use nitrogen fertilizer on established grass seedings, the county agents office reports. With present fertilizer prices, $5 worth of nitrogen fertilizer should bring an increased yearly yield of grass equal to a half ton of hay. Money can be made by fertilizing earlier than usual this year and, with weather permitting, applications can be made in the Willamette Valley in early February and in Eastern Oregon as soon as the ground is thawed out, possibly March. On Western Oregon grasses, a minimum application of 40 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre should be made. This would be supplied by 200 pounds of ammonium sulfate or the equivalent in other nitrogen fertilizers. In eastern Oregon the minimum application should total 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre. For these early applications, fertilizers carrying nitrogen in the ammonia form will give the best results. These include ammonium sulfate and ammonium phosphate. There is no point in wasting fertilizer on poor seeding. All bunch-type perennial grasses will get a profitable response and so will annual ryegrass. Little response can be expected from bent or bluegrass. Because of the high feed prices this year, substantial acreages of crested wheatgrass in eastern Oregon can be made to produce profitable early feed with a nitrogen application.

Bennett Recall Move Pushed

PORTLAND (AP) — Proponents of a recall movement against City Commissioner J. E. Bennett have filed more than half the number of signatures necessary to put the recall on the May 16 ballot. Some 1,225 signatures were filed with the city auditor Tuesday. That brought the total number filed to 14,344. Some 25,770 are needed. Bennett has been abusive to some Portland residents in his conduct of city affairs, the recall petitions contend.
