HEARTS, traditionally a February theme, are still in style though Valentine's Day is past. Above, Heart Fund Drive Chairman Norman Wilson and pretty KUHS student Nancy Stiles hold a model of a human heart in the high school audio-visual aids department. And pretty Ruth Alexander displays the Heart Fund contribution box, from which donations will be used to study further the human heart and research can be carried on to combat heart diseases—the greatest killer in the world.

Mother Says War Needless
 MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A Memphis mother has mailed to President Truman the Purple Heart medal and scroll she received after the death of her soldier son in Korea.
 Mrs. Donna Cooper, whose 21-year old son, Paul, was killed last Oct. 1 in what she called "needless slaughter," said she wrote the President:
 "I am returning it to you with this thought—to me he is a symbol of the 109,000 men who have been sacrificed in needless slaughter, a so-called 'police action' that has not and could never be satisfactorily explained to patriotic Americans who love their country and the ideals it stands for."
 "If there had been a need for armed conflict to preserve the American way of life, I could have given him proudly and would have since there was nothing superficial in his whole life. I cannot mar his memory by giving a medal and stereotyped words that hold no meaning and fail to promise a better tomorrow for the ones that he died for."

John Payne Goes for Wild, Rootin'-Tootin' Film Roles
 HOLLYWOOD (NEA) Guss and Dolbe: They're calling John Payne "Mr. Five O'Clock Shadow" over at Pine-Thomas, where he's been starring in a series of rugged, action thrillers, and danced if John doesn't glory in the title.
 He doesn't care whether he ever gets a clean-shaven role again. Whiskers and grime and heart-of-stone characters have upped John's box office rating and he says of his switch from flawless-profile roles:
 "I played pretty boys too long. There's nothing worse than a perennial juvenile."
 "Every male star who's ever lasted in this business has had a lick at playing hard, bitter, mean guys. Look at Gable and Tracy and Cooper."
 John's scarred and bewiskered again in "Caribbean Gold."

State Schools, Men Honored
 PORTLAND (AP)—Two Oregon schools and two Oregon men have been awarded prizes by the Freedom Foundation.
 The foundation, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization which concerns itself with better understanding of freedom, announced the Oregon winners Tuesday.
 Henry L. Slater, Burns grade school principal, $1,000 for his unpublished essay, "My Country."
 Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, Eugene, chancellor emeritus of the State System of Higher Education, honor medal award for his article "Spokesman for Freedom," which appeared in an educational journal.
 Portland University, $200 and an honor medal for its greater Portland Industries Exposition.
 Englewood Grade School, Salem, for a fifth grade project demonstrating with slides and recordings methods of teaching democracy.
 This is the second time the Salem school has won the award. The prize is an all-expense trip to Valley Forge for a teacher and a pupil.

Organs Out, Baby Lives
 PENDELTON, Ore. (AP)—A baby girl who was born with her abdominal organs outside the body is believed to be on the way to full recovery, the attending physician said here Tuesday.
 Dr. Clifford Wagner said he rushed Deborah Kaye Warren to surgery immediately after the girl's birth in Ione, Ore., and replaced the organs through a long incision in the side.
 Deborah Kaye was born Feb. 7 to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Warren of Ione.
 Dr. Wagner said the little girl is now at home, resting and eating comfortably. He said that during the operation "we were forced to place the girl's appendix on the left side of her body instead of the right."
 The doctor explained the phenomenon by saying that, in the embryo stage, the girl's stomach had failed to close in a small area over the stomach wall. During the pressure of birth, Dr. Wagner said, the force apparently ruptured the small opening, causing exposure of the organs.
 Only last December, another girl, Deborah Kaye Angelo, was born at Puyallup, Wash., near Tacoma, with her heart outside her body.
 Doctors operated immediately and corrected nature's mistake, but Deborah Angelo died after 25 days of life.

'Mrs. Heart' Still Lives
 OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Remember Mrs. Heart?
 She's the anonymous Oklahoma City woman who three years ago said she was given only a year to live and asked the nation's newspaper readers how she should spend $10,000 in savings to enjoy her remaining days.
 Mrs. Heart still alive—two years after doctors said she would die from a heart ailment.
 She said Tuesday she is "living very carefully," adding:
 "All I do is try to forget things and just live from day to day. I won't permit myself even a little bit of overexertion."
 Mrs. Heart received thousands of suggestions on what she should do with the $10,000. But she decided to live out her days frugally as usual, not spend the money and "pamper my heart."
 "I'm tickled to death to be doing so well," she explained.

4-H LEADERS TO MEET
 Miss Esther Taskerud, State 4-H leader will meet with 4-H leaders at Joan's Kitchen, Feb. 18th. She will discuss such things as Junior Leadership, Getting the Most from 4-H Club Work, and Wise Use of Awards.
 Other features of the program will include: Report on Annual Leaders' Conference by Mrs. William Kunz, Mrs. Fred Wolfrum, and Mrs. Earl Macke; a discussion of wise use of veterinary service by Dr. Joe Riker, a puppet show by club members Terry Beyer and Joan Taylor and crew from Henley; and an exhibit of materials available to help clothing and food leaders.
 The meeting is scheduled from 10 to 3 with a potluck at noon. Leaders who attended leaders' conference are in charge of arrangements. All leaders attending are asked to bring table service as well as their contribution to the meal.

Car Hits Hole, City Sued
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—The way George Brown tells it, he was driving down a street last Jan. 7 when his car hit a hole in the street.
 Result: A tire blew out. He caught a cold while changing it. He had to pay $5 for a cold shot. He missed a day's pay—$15.84. He had to pay $53.76 for damage to his car.
 Brown sued the city Tuesday for $74.00.

Council Salary Issue on Ballot
 PORTLAND (AP)—Portland voters will have a chance in the May primary election to raise the city council's pay.
 The council voted Tuesday to put a charter amendment before the voters raising commissioners' pay from the present $5,000 to $6,000 and the mayor's from $8,250 to $9,500.

School Bill Support Urged
 WOODBURN (AP)—The Oregon Farmers Union was urged by its retiring president Tuesday to support the school reorganization measure which will appear on the general election ballot.
 The bill to simplify consolidation of school districts was passed at the last session of the legislature. But the State Grange, which opposed the measure, undertook a referendum campaign and succeeded in having the bill referred to the voters.
 Jones also urged the annual convention to continue its opposition to a state sales tax.
 Jones who has been president of the organization for the past eight years, said he would not seek reelection. D. J. Hunt, Boring, and Wendell Barnett, Salem, have been mentioned as possible candidates.
