

PLY UPSETS TROJANS, 50-49

Malin, Chiloquin, Bonanza Also Advance in Tourney

By RED HURD
Bly supplied the bombshell last night in the first round of the Klamath County Class B tournament, to join three favorites in tonight's championship semi-finals on Pelican Court.

The Bobcats nipped highly-rated Sacred Heart, 50-49, as the favored Trojans took their lumps in the showdown tournament for the second year in a row.

The other three games in the opening round of four went according to seedings.

Afternoon
In the afternoon sessions at Henley, Malin beat Gilchrist, 55-35, and Chiloquin defeated Merrill, 57-43.

In the last game last night, Bonanza, the team that tied Chiloquin for the traveling trophy, knocked Henley out of the running by a 54-47 count.

Malin meets Chiloquin tonight on Pelican Court in the 7:30 opener of the championship semi-finals. Bly and Bonanza mix in the afterpiece.

The two winners qualify for the finals Saturday night in the title game, the tilt that sends the winner to the pre-state tournament district play-offs.

This afternoon at Henley, in the consolation rounds, Gilchrist faced Merrill and Sacred Heart met Henley.

Bly's win over the Trojans kept the annual upset pattern in the blue-chips prep tourney.

Chances are there won't be a game the remainder of the tourney that will rival the Bly-Sacred Heart game for thrills.

Fourteen teams the lead changed hands until Donnie Wessel, who scored 14 points for Bly, scored early in the fourth quarter to give the Bobcats a final lead at 42-41.

Last Bid
The Trojans, adding zip to their fast break, tried in vain to catch up the rest of the way. The academy made its last big bid with just 30 seconds to go.

Jim Mahoney who potted 10 field goals for 20 points and high-point honors, stole the ball and pelted the length of the court for a lay-in.

An offensive charging foul was called on Mahoney as he raced into the lane and his shot rimmed the hoop—and dropped out. Bly took the ball out of bounds and fritted away the remaining few seconds for the victory.

Franklin Hutchinson, high for Bly with 16, did all his damage in the first half with uncanny hook shots and two free throws for 14 of his total 16.

In one stretch midway in the time and went into the lead midway in the third, 37-36 on a lay-in by Rex Dillavou.

Bob Howard retaliated with a two-pointer that gave the Trojans a 38-37 advantage. But Wessel scored for Bly in the waning moments of the third to knot the count, 39-all, and John Jaquysh's free throw at the third-quarter bell gave Bly a 40-39 lead.

Mahoney made it 41-40 for the academy on the fourth-quarter tip-off to give the Trojans their last lead of the game. Wessel followed with the big one that gave Bly a lead it never lost.

Accuracy on the free throw line—10 of 13—helped Bly, while Sacred Heart muffed several chances, particularly in the edgy last minutes, by missing fire from the gift line. In all, the Trojans made just 3 of 14, not a fancy figure.

Bonanza Coach Merton Whipple got by Henley by using Don Hubble for less than a quarter's play. Hubble, still nursing a gimp ankle, entered the game with less than a minute to go in the third quarter and left past the midway point in the fourth.

Vernon Haley, the lad who scored the big one in overtime, gave the Antlers a tie with Chiloquin for the traveling trophy, paced Bonanza with 19 points.

Scores Two
After a slow start, Marlin Wilson scored on a double shot from the free throw line to give Bonanza a 15-14 lead—and the Antlers built their victory from that point, forging ahead 15-6 at the quarter post.

Wilson and Irwin Crume paced a second-quarter attack that gave the Bonanzas a 32-15 intermission bulge. Gordon Ramsey kept the Hornets in the game in the first half, throwing in 10 of the 15.

Henley made one big bid to overtake the Antlers in the third frame and sliced a 20-37 deficit to 31-40.

But Haley cranked up the Bonanza attack again in the fourth quarter, scoring five points and the Antlers coasted in handily, particularly after four Henley regulars fouled out.

Opening-day jitters predominated in the afternoon sessions and for awhile it looked like two upsets were in the making.

In fact, Malin, looking ragged and confused, trailed the relaxed Gilchrist underdogs the entire first half, 18-22 at the rest period.

It wasn't until early in the third that Gary Mauney scored on two quickshots to give Malin a 24-22 lead. The Mustangs perked up then to make it 38-28 going into the fourth.

Pull Away
Bob Stevenson, who finished with 18 and Wayne Rick with 12, finally found the range as the Mustangs pulled away safely in the fourth frame.

But the hero of the near-upset was Gilchrist's John Garrick. He scored 15 and was the Grizzlies' carburetor throughout.

Upset - minded Merrill started out like it meant business and had nine big points on the board before Chiloquin could locate the net on a long shot by Wayne DuBois.

The Panthers still lagged 8-16 early in the second. Then Jo Jo George, who finished high with 15, added another long one and Bill Vaden tied it 16-all on two free throws.

With just three minutes to go in the half, George put the Panthers ahead 18-16. They stayed ahead of the rest of the way.

Gene Gentry finally cooked up a scoring recipe to lead Chiloquin in the third with five field goals. Gentry finished with 14, below par for the big center.

Dick Reeves led the Huskies with 12.

Germans Win Double In Olympic Bobsled

By BEN PHELAGAR
OSLO 10 — Germany's daring Andreas Ostler clinched an Olympic double Friday by capturing the four man bobsled championship with two dazzling dashes down the snow covered 1,500 meter Frognerstegen chute.

The husky, nervous 32-year old Garmisch innkeeper followed up his two fine runs of Thursday with a pair of glittering descents that brought his heavily-weighted oak and steel bobsled a whopping victory over Stan Benham's American team.

At their peak, the Germans hit close to 80 miles an hour.

Winner of the two man gold medal earlier in the games, Ostler shattered the meet record with a breath-taking third whirl of 1:10.55 and went on to beat the Americans by 2.85 seconds, a big piece of ground the way these contraptions rocket downward.

The Germans, who picked the three heaviest men on their eight man squad to load up Ostler's sleek racer, were clocked in a total of 5:07.83 for the four runs.

Veteran, a 39-year old Olympic veteran from Lake Placid, was timed in 1:16.72 and 1:18.54 for a total time of 5:10.48.

The Americans were seeking to retain the title won in 1948 by Frank Tyler's quartet.

America's No. 2 sled, which narrowly escaped cracking up in two mishaps Thursday, finished ninth in the field of 15 with times of 1:19.45 and 1:21.09 for a total of 5:19.66.

Swiss sleds annexed third and fourth places while Austria grabbed fifth and Sweden sixth.

By picking up five points in the event, the Americans edged up a little on the pace-setting Norwegians in the team standings.

Uncle Sam now has 78 1/2 points compared to the host country's 101.

Third place Austria gained two points for a total of 58.

Webfoots Seek 2nd Position

By The Associated Press
With the title snatched away in the Washington warbag, basketball interest in the Pacific Northwest this weekend to the scrabble for the second place slot now occupied by Idaho.

Oregon launches its challenge for the position in a four-game invasion of the Palouse country, meeting Washington State at Pullman Friday and Saturday nights and switching to Moscow Monday and Tuesday for the showdown with Idaho.

Champions of the Pacific Coast Conference Northern Division for the second straight year, Washington's Huskies are invading the Rocky Mountain country for a two game inter-sectional brush with Wyoming. A defeat in either of both of the Friday-Saturday games could damage only the sixth place ranking of Washington in the national Associated Press poll.

Idaho and Oregon State draw week-end byes.

A double victory over the WSC Cougars would move Oregon into second by a few percentage points and leave the Webfoots in a favorable position for their battles with the Idaho Vandals. They would need only a split at Moscow to retain the slim margin, but still would have to win their wind-up series from Oregon State next week-end to finish alone in second place.

A double victory for WSC would put the Cougars in third, a full game back of Idaho and facing a final series with Washington in Seattle next week. Oregon State is the only team out of the second place picture entirely.

Pelicans in Medford

Klamath Five Aims For Slam

A big crucial tag is hanging on the two-game series that opens tonight in Medford when the Black Tornado hosts the Klamath Falls Pelicans in a Dist. 4 showdown.

And local hoop patrons aren't making any reservations for the Eugene state tournament until it's over.

Cage sports — sportswriters and sportscasters affiliated with the Associated Press—are picking the Pels to out-distance Medford in the district race, despite the fact that the Tornado currently holds a one-game bulge on the Klamath quint.

They've rated Klamath Falls sixth, Medford seventh in the latest AP poll.

But to give the truth to the prophets, the Pelicans have a man-sized job to do.

SAFE SIDE
To be safe, they'll have to win both games, although a split would still leave them with a slim mathematical chance.

But a grand-slam by Medford for the Tornado would down the Big Four title earn Oregon Big Four doesn't come.

But even a win among the South with a Eugene ticket attached.

There's the district playoff with the Little Three winners, the small A schools in the district.

Crater (Central Point) has already tied that title down and the word is out that the Comets will make the play-offs somewhat more than a mere formality as it has been in the past.

If the Pels win both from Medford, they'll go ahead one game with just two with Ashland left. Medford has two with Grants Pass after the Pelican series.

SPLIT
A split would leave Medford a full game in the lead.

If that happens and if Grants Pass split with Medford while the Pels were winning two from Ashland, the squabble would end in a tie.

In that event, a sudden-death playoff on a neutral court would be held.

Coach Paul McCall has 10 players with him.

He'll start Forwards Ray Bell and Jack Horton, Center Ralph Carroll and Guards Jerry Johnson and Calvin Gilmore.

Others on the trip are Oakley Summers, Ed Barron, Doug Pence, Ken Young and David French.

Medford Coach Frank Roelandt will open with Forwards Don Spina and Ed Bingham, either Derald Wooton or Jack Boardman at center, Dennis Conner at guard with either Dick Atterbury or Roland Thompson.

The junior varsities of both schools furnish Saturday night's preliminary action.

ON THE SPOT — Trailing Medford by one full game, these Pelicans open a series on the Tornado court tonight determined to do something about it. The starting Klamath five are, left to right, Jerry Johnson, Ray Bell, Ralph Carroll, Jack Horton and Calvin Gilmore.
