Johnnie Ray Riding Cloud As Result of Smash Disc

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Behind the Screen: Johnnie Ray, an unknown singer a few months ago, is riding on "Cloud 9" over his smash hit, "Little White Cloud," and the movie offers are pouring in. Also pouring in are rumors that the haunting "Little White Cloud" was a much prettier song when Rudolf Friml wrote it for "Rose Marie" and called it "Totem Totem."

But Johnnie and his record bosses aren't worried.

Mitch Miller of Columbia Records blasted the similarity charge for him with:

"Every time there's a hit song somebody compares it to something else. It's like gnats flying around."

Mitch's expert musical opinion on why 25-year-old, partially deaf Johnny is clicking with the teen age set:

"Johnnie and his song reflect the sadness and frustration of present day living for kids who are uncertain about the future."

Hollywood's breaking out in a rash of new faces, and veteran stars quietly are being advised, "Change your type. Give 'em something new."

I quizzed Joan Fontaine about the "lets switch epidemic" and she said:

"Change my type? Ye Gads, no. I don't know what type I am yet. Joan has two biggies about to hit the screen — Paramount's 'Alcohol Anonymous,' and MGM's costume epic, 'Ivanhoe.'"

Has she heard from Aly Khan since their dates in Paris last summer?

"No," she said, "and I don't think I will. There's no romance in my life."

FOR THE GIRLS

Closets and Long Shots: The year's biggest hunk of movie beefcake will be exhibited by Burt Lancaster in "The Crimson Pirate." He goes through the film bare-chested.

Ernest Hemingway will share in the film profits, if Bill Marshall and Sam Marx put together their plan to co-star Gary Cooper in "Across the River and Into the Trees."

You won't be seeing the announced movie "The Hook," a joint venture of Elia Kazan and playwright Arthur Miller, who wrote "Death of a Salesman." Organized labor got a peek at the script, decided it was anti-union, and pressured the picture plans into limbo.

Arthur Kennedy's quote on why he's pulling up stakes soon for a long stay in New York and Europe:

"Hollywood gets impossible to take after a couple of years."

Writers at Fox are working on a film biography of the late W. C. Fields. . . Mercedes McCambridge is home from the hospital after the tragic death of her newborn child. . . Lana Turner turned down the role of an Army nurse in "Mach." She already played one in "Homecoming" and "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" which will be filmed at Warner Bros.

STEALS THE SHOW

It may be the "Amos 'n' Andy" show but it's the Kingfish Tim Moore—who socks home the laugh and bursts the applause meters in the TV version. Tim, who broke into show business at the age of 12, as one of the Gold Dust Twins, retired to his home in Rock Island, Ill., three years ago.

"I was doing nothing and doing it slow," he told me, "when they offered me the role of the Kingfish, I couldn't turn it down."

Tim, who claims he's the same age as Jack Benny, was a race track jockey as a kid and had 104 fights as a professional prize fighter.

"After licking 12 Irishmen I had a complex that an Irishman could not beat me, but Young McClusky knocked me cold for 45 minutes, he said.

He then toured the world in vaudeville, musical shows and burlesque.

Tim's played Mexican, Chinese stage, but he'll never forget the time he donned kilts in an Australian theater and warbled, "I'm a Real Black Scot."

Remembers Jim: "The house fell apart."

PVT. JAMES V. DYCHE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dyche of Fort Klamath, is now training in the aggression force exercise Long Horn at Ft. Hood, Tex. A 1950 graduate of Chiloquin high, he enlisted in the paratroops Feb. 27, 1951, and trained at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Ft. Benning, Ga.

Defense For Germany On Slow List

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP) — Allied Officials said Tuesday that the Atlantic Army will have to wait at least 1955 for the 12 German divisions it counts on to help defend the West.

Despite the green light given the European Army by the Atlantic Allies at their Lisbon conference, these officials said that recent political developments, especially in France, have set back the previous time table calling for combat-ready German troops by 1954.

The sources here explain the situation thus:

The Germans will need two full years from the starting point to call up, arm and train 300,000 to 400,000 men to serve with the six-nation European Army.

The outlook now is that not a single German soldier will be drafted before early 1953 and perhaps months later.

The Germans plan to start their new army with small units of volunteers who later will take over the training of draftees.

Nor do these prospects for German manpower for Western defense take into account a possible change in the West German government.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-rearmament coalition faces an election battle in the summer of 1953 with the bitterly anti-rearmament Socialists.

The Socialists warned last week that they would continue to oppose German participation in the Western defense system "under present conditions," even if they take over the government next year.

They have demanded immediate elections.

Allied Fleets In Maneuvers

ROME, (AP) — "Operation Grand-Slam," starts Tuesday—the largest action since World War II—when carried out by Allied navies in the Mediterranean.

Adm. Robert B. Carney, Southern Europe Commander of the NATO navies will supervise the operations, in which hundreds of U.S., British, French and Italian naval vessels will participate.

The operation will include a massive bombardment by the Allied warships.

Builders May Complete Jobs

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said Monday the government is going to permit builders to complete construction jobs that were halted by the fixing of controls on scarce materials.

In Washington, authorities said the National Production Authority already has set the machinery in motion to carry out the new order.

Sawyer disclosed the shift in planning in an address to the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce.

Huge Allowance To Be Continued

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. William Randolph Hearst's $10,000 a month allowance for her late husband's multimillion dollar estate has been continued by court order for another year.

She was granted an extension Monday to the original six-month allowance ordered last August. The publisher's will and nine codicils left most of the estate in trust for the widow, five sons and several charitable and educational institutions.

FREAK

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP) — A 800 pound pig shot and wounded a butcher who was trying to kill it, police reported Tuesday.

The butcher was kneeling beside the pig and loading his bolt gun when the pig sprang up and struck the trigger with a hind leg. The butcher was shot through the knee.
