

Tag Foes In Wild Deadlock

The Gorky brothers, undefeated for two and a half years in tag team wrestling, finished in a dead heat with Yorg Cretorian and Kurt Von Poppenheim last night at the arena — and Soldat Gorky and Cretorian finished with headaches.

The Gorkys, defying the rain throughout that just one member of each team must be in the ring at the same time, had the upper-hand most of the way.

But they got a little too cute when each team had one fall and it went them a draw.

Soldat latched onto Von Pop with a headlock; Ivan Gorky did the same to Cretorian.

AIM

Then the Russian boys backed off, took aim, and started together like runaway express trains.

The general idea, of course, was to bump Cretorian's head on Von Pop's — or vice versa.

But the German fouled up their plan. He gave Soldat a sudden shove, escaping the headlock. It was Soldat's noggin that played tag with Cretorian's noggin.

Inasmuch as Soldat and Cretorian were the two who were scrapping when the whole thing started, Von Pop and Ivan couldn't settle the issue.

Neither could Soldat and Yorg. They were both out colder than deep-sea mackerels.

CHINED OUT

Both were counted out by Referee Buck Weaver and Gino Nicolini, who at least showed they could count to 20. They didn't show anything else and together could not handle the rough bout.

Ivan scored first, subduing Von Poppenheim with the octopus hold.

Von Poppenheim evened matters with the back-breaker and stretch. Ivan was the victim.

Nicolini lost to Weaver in the opener when the Italian boy fell for a gag as old as Jack Benny.

Each had a fall and Nicolini was punishing Weaver with a leg hold. His back was to Weaver and the ex-Indiana football star reached up and patted him on the back.

LET GO

Gino, foolishly thinking the pat came from Referee Von Poppenheim, released his hold. Weaver grabbed the rip-saw headlock for the rubber fall.

Nicolini won the first fall with the spread winglock, Weaver the second with the teeter-totter press.

Promoter Mack Lillard said today he is trying to rematch the Gorky brothers against Cretorian and Von Poppenheim after last night's weird and unsatisfactory ending.

SOVIET SHENANIGANS — The Russian Gorkys teamed up last night on Yorg Cretorian and almost succeeded in impaling the Rumanian on the ropes. Ivan grabs a choke hold while Soldat concentrates on Yorg's arm. But for all their illegal efforts, all the Russians could do was get a draw with Cretorian and Kurt Von Poppenheim. Soldat and Yorg ended up asleep.

How to judge whiskey value:

1. Have 1/2 oz. of Calvert put in one glass and the same amount of any other whiskey in another — without knowing which is which.
2. Sniff one brand for aroma. Taste it critically for smoothness. Swallow carefully to judge its freedom from bite, burn or sting.
3. Taste the other whiskey in the same analytical way — then pick the one that really tastes better to you.

BE YOUR OWN WHISKEY EXPERT!

The big difference in whiskey values is the difference in taste. That's why it will pay you to make an easy 60-second taste test between Calvert Reserve and your present brand.

We're sure you will prefer Calvert because its smoother, mellower taste is protected from bite, burn or sting by "vacuum distilling" at low temperature.

But don't take our word for it. Compare and make your own choice. Fair enough?

Houbregs Leads In Scoring

By The Associated Press

Bob Houbregs of the Northern Division Champion Washington Huskies continues to lead the Division in total scoring but marksmanship honors now belong to Oregon Guard Ken Wegner.

Statistics released by the Pacific Coast Conference commissioner's office Wednesday showed Wegner has dropped 21 of 45 floor shots in 12 league games this season for 46.7 per cent, equalling the Division's field goal standard set by LaDon Henson of Washington in 1951.

The league office reported Houbregs' mark is 45.7 per cent. He has combined 80 field goals in 175 attempts with 59 free throws for 219 points.

Both players will have a chance to better the marks this week-end, Houbregs when Washington plays Washington State Friday and Saturday and Wegner against Oregon State the same days. The games end the regular season schedule.

Metlers Win 12th

Ronnie Chayne poured in 20 points last night to lead Metlers to a 48-34 win over Crater Lake at Fairview.

The victory was Metlers' twelfth against no losses in the Victory league.

Orland Dixon with 16 points paced the second-place Klamath Packers to a 52-18 win over Men's Hand Laundry in the other game on the program.

Tommy Upton, shortstop for the Washington Senators, is studying at the University of Southern California for a master's degree in mathematics.
