

GLAD RAGS FROM FEED BAGS—Before the National Association of Soil District convention as Cleveland, three Baldwin-Wallace College students model clothing made from feed bags. The National Cotton Council said it was the first showing of the year of what can be done with bags produced for the feed, flour and fertilizer industries. several years bags have carried designs making it possible for farmers' wives to convert them into dresses. The girls (left to right) are: Naomi Perez, Cleveland, Gerry Howe, Birmingham, O., and Odah Huffer of Dayton, O.

VOTE GOES AGAINST THEM-Delegate Joseph R. Farrington (R-Hawaii), Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Delegate E. L. Bartlett (D-Alaska) (L to R) pose at the capitol in Washington, where the senate by a one-vote margin sent the Alaska statehood bill back to committee for fruther sudy. The three are leaders in the campaign to get statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. The vote virtually ended any possibility that Alaska will be given statehood by this session of congress. A bill to grant statehood to Hawaii still is pending.

BOY OR GIRL?-Despite all the platinum hair, etc., the one in middle is a boy. Police arrested trio as they hitchhiked through Memphis, Tenn., enroute to New Orleans. Identified by police as (I to R): Dale Evank, Bob Bartolotti and John Cochanos, all of Chicago.

WARREN IN RACE - Gov. Earl Warren of California, officially entered Wisconsin's Republican presidential delegate election when he signed his consent for the April 1 race. With him as he filed his papers at Madison, Wis., are Sen. Bernard Gettelman, Milwaukee, state Warren group leader (right) and Sec. of State Fred R. Zimmerman (left) who accepted them.

WASHINGTON & — Rep. Arm-strong (R.-Mo.,) introduced legis-ation Friday calling for Soviet Rus-sia's expulsion from the United Nations unless its rulers terminate "sponsorship" of the Korean con-flict. Armstrong also called on Con-gress to brand Russia as an aggressor against international order

WASHINGTON & The Agriculture Department Friday offered to give away 3 ½ million pounds of surplus dried eggs for distribution among needy persons abroad.

The eggs are part of remaining stocks of about 9 ½ million pounds bought under a producer egg price support program in 1950 at about $1 a pound.
