US Propaganda Needs Boost

PORTLAND M — Rep. Ellsworth of Oregon thinks the U.S. should step up its propaganda in Europe if it is to win the cold war. In a talk before the University of Oregon alumni institute here Saturday night Elisworth, a Republican, said the U.S. must "carry by every possible means to every thinking person throughout the whole world a simple, complete and understandable statement of what free representative government is: representative government is; wherein it is different from the Communist type of government; and why it protects individual freedom."

Ellsworth praised the "Voice of Freedom" campaign. The campaign, financed by private contributions, is feared by the Communists, he said.
