Tax after tax and mink after mink it seems absurd to think that anything could happen, come election time, other than getting a change of administration and a goodiy change in congress.

But, as the bard said, things are seldom what they seem.

The cold, hard facts of the case figure out that, to elect a president, the Republicans will have to drum up 4 million more votes than they ever had before.

Indirectly the primaries are most important, because it takes a good horse to win a race.

But here's the place to find those to million needed votes. It's found that there's the place to find those to million needed votes. It's found that there's the place to find those to million needed votes. It's found that there's the place to find those to million needed votes. there are more Independent

There are more Independents than ever, and they run strongly to young people. That's not sur-prising because it generally takes prising because it generally takes some years of fighting the battles to form a firm political conviction.

The chart shows that, at the last national election, a lot of people just didn't vote.

Breaking down these non-voters by occupations, it shows that 37 per cent of the auto dealers didn't vote. (Balsiger is an auto dealer.) Twenty per cent of the auto men weren't even registered.

About 37 per cent of the independent grocers didn't vote; 32 per cent weren't registered. Twenty per gistrations than ever before. This the breakdown: 40 per cent Demcrats, 32 per cent Republicans, per cent Independents,

There are more Independents gists, 25 per cent of the chamber club members did not vote.

So the next time you hear someone hurtin' on politics, just inquire of voters under 30 years of age, if he voted last election.

4 per cent are Independents. Of the 2½ million citizens who will be eligible to vote for the first time this year, 41 per cent are Independents. So, the task doesn't seem (that word "seem" again) to be insurnountable if the Republicans will ust get out and ask for the order. Everyone likes to be sold.

Forgetting all of the above, there is another wide open category to ind that extra 4 million.

This is brought to our attention by Stu Balsiger, in the course of its thumping the tub to get out and vote.

A per let in the voted last election.

This is all pointed towards getting 4 million more people to vote in the republican this year, in hopes that there are at least that many more are at least that many more are are at least that many more are at least that many more are at least that many more are are at least that many more are at least that many more are are at least that many more are at least that many

And of course, the primaries Come first. There's no partisan TO VOTE IN THE PRIMARY politics involved there; not directly.

An attack of delirium tremens is a most unpleasant experience. Symptoms come on quickly over a period of two or three days, usually during or immediately after a heavy bout of drinking.

At first, the sleep becomes brok-en, appetite is lost, and severe dreams occur and often cause the victim to wake up. The most characteristic symptom, of course, is the seeing of something which is not there. Often this takes the form of small moving creatures such as spiders, beefles, snakes, mice, rats or the provement take place rapidly.

In answer to the specific questions, delirium tremens is dangerous, it can usually be cured, violence in an attack is common, abstinence from alcohol is the most important aspect of treatment, and you can hardly avoid knowing when your husband gets an attack. Finally, a doctor's advice is certainly advisable during an attack of delirium tremens.

This is really no disease to joke about, since the effects of delirium tremens on the victim as well as on the relatives is little short of tragic.

MALIN—Last night I attended the annual Extravaganza of the Malin Mariners shown in Malin, and this morning I go back to my job of nursing chickens much refreshed and stimulated. This is, of course, an ideal situation for the late defensive freeze. Sometimes you must try this type of freeze when you have only two or three safe discards. The Oregon Society for Orippled Children and Adults, (The Easter Seal Agency) is a relatively new organization in Oregon.

Oregon was the 46th state to organize and affiliate with the National Society, an autonomous unit of over 2500 local and state affiliates, including the territories of Hawaii and Alaska, whose purpose is to provide service to those physically handicapped persons not included in the programs of other private and public organizations.

There are millions in the United States and thousands in Oregon whose needs are either unmet or neglected.
