

Handshaking Candidates Descend On New Hampshire In Force As Vote Nears; Truman Playing Coy

By The Associated Press
Political oratory echoed across New Hampshire's snow-covered hills Thursday in hand-shaking, meet the people, answer the questions campaigns.

6 Candidates Appear On Ore. Ballot

PORTLAND (AP) — It appeared Thursday that there will be six candidates for President on the May 16 Oregon Republican primary ballot.

Three of them are willing candidates. Three others do not want to run.

Three of them apparently will be filed twice.

The willing candidates are Gov. Earl Warren of California, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Harold Stassen.

The unwilling candidates are Sen. Douglas MacArthur, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Stassen filed his own candidacy recently and Warren said in Sacramento Wednesday that he would file the same before the Friday deadline.

Backers of Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. MacArthur have placed their candidates' names on the ballot by nominating petitions.

Mrs. Fred Gronert, who calls herself a conservative Republican, said she would file petitions which would place the names of Warren, Eisenhower, Stassen and Morse on the ballot.

A backer of Gen. MacArthur, she said she thought the multiple filings would aid her candidate by splitting the vote which might otherwise go to Eisenhower.

But MacArthur does not wish to run in Oregon and has told his sponsor, F. E. Epton, so Epton has not yet revealed whether he will attempt to comply with the general's request. Besides that, there is a question as to whether the name legally could be withdrawn even if Epton wished to.

Mrs. Gronert said she would file the four nominating petitions Saturday—even though three candidates already are in the race—to prevent the sponsors from withdrawing the candidates at the last minute.

Jack Travis, Hood River newspaper publisher, against Taft's wishes is circulating petitions to put the Ohio Senator's name on the ballot. Travis said he had 850 of the necessary 1,000 signatures.

Oregon Dentists Get The Word

PORTLAND (AP) — Six Oregon dentists will be drafted into the Army as enlisted men unless they apply for reserve commissions before their induction date.

That was the announcement Wednesday of Oregon Selective Service Officials who said earlier that they would begin drafting dentists and dentists soon to meet Oregon quotas.

Col. Francis W. Mason said draft notices were being sent to the six dentists. They will be inducted April 22 if found acceptable.

Enlisted men may apply for commissions after being inducted, but Mason said whether the applications would be granted "rests entirely with the armed forces."

HIGH BID

PORTLAND (AP) — John W. Rose of Hillsboro, Wednesday bid $2.50 a thousand feet for 1,300,000 board feet of timber standing within Portland's city limits.

The city-owned timber, mostly old growth Douglas fir, is located in Forest Park bordering the northwest city limits.

D. Eisenhower, who says he won't seek it but will accept if nominated.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was fighting what he calls an uphill battle against supporters of President Truman. The President has not announced whether he wants another term.

The results of the New Hampshire primary election next Tuesday are not binding on convention delegates. But since it is the first Presidential primary of the year, great psychological value is attached to its outcome.

The latest happenings in the national campaign:

Democratic:

1. Rep. Bryson (D-S. C.) visited Mr. Truman Wednesday and said the President told him he would know what to do about running.

"If he were sure Taft would not get the Republican nomination and would not get elected if he got it," Sen. Brewster (R-Me.), a Taft backer, called this statement "an obvious attempt" by the President to influence the New Hampshire primary.

"I say it's time to call his bluff," Brewster added. "Let him run again. . . . Let him go out and defend the record as a candidate."

2. Democratic national committee officials said they are leaving it to state leaders whether to enter Mr. Truman's name in their Presidential primaries. But to avoid any embarrassments, they are discouraging entry of the President's name in contests where his consent is required.

3. Kefauver conducted a slow motion type of campaign in New Hampshire, selling himself in a folksy sort of way. Truman backers expressed confidence the President would get all eight Democratic delegates, Kefauver none.

Republicans:

1. Paul G. Hoffman, former economic cooperation administrator, told a Durham, N. H., audience that Eisenhower is the only GOP candidate "who can win the independent vote and break the single solid South."

2. Taft, again protesting the alphabetical listing which places him last on the ballot, opens his three-day drive at Manchester. He has 21 appearances scheduled.

3. The New Jersey Taft-for-President Committee announced the Ohioan will be entered in the state's preferential primary April 15.

4. Gov. Earl Warren of California said he will enter Oregon's May 16 Republican primary.

5. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's withdrawal of his name from the Pennsylvania primary was upheld by the Dauphin County Court.

Ad Club Asked To Aid Prisoners

PORTLAND (AP) — The Oregon Advertising Club has been asked to help rehabilitate prisoners at the state penitentiary.

Warden Virgil O'Malley told the club Wednesday that it should undertake a program to urge prisoners to change jobs.

"The very fact those boys are in (prison) proves they're failures," O'Malley said. He suggested that the prison's radio hook-up, prison newspaper and mimeograph letters be used to carry out the campaign.
