Buying Picks Up On Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Buying picked up a little late in Tuesday's grain market as a number of trade seasons and a number of deliveries moved ahead of Monday's close.

Observers said most of the buying was short covering, but some was traced to commercial interests.

Until shortly before the close, actions in all pits had been limited to a trade here and there.

Scene export business helped steady wheat, which was influenced by reports of moisture in needed sections of the winter wheat country.

At the finish wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 lower than Monday's close, Mar. $2.54 1/2. Corn was 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, Mar. $1.82 1/2. Oats were 1/2 lower, to 3/4 higher, Mar. $0.90. Soybeans were 1/4 higher, Mar. $2.04 1/2. Soybeans were unchanged to 1 cent lower, Mar. $2.97 1/2. Lard was 8 to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, Mar. $13.97.

Duck Herding Started Here

The spring goose and duck "herding season" is on, and State Game Officer Jim Savage reported today the methods being used may cause some consternation among local residents.

He said his office has been supplying, when available, obsolete Army grenade - launching rifles which toss surplus military flares out into the fields. This method has been proven effective in herding migrating waterfowl away from just - sprouting clover and grain fields which may be damaged.

Savage said permits are required to herd, and that no birds may be harmed - either wounded or killed - legally while the operations are going on.

He said the flares, when shot out into a field, may give some people the idea that planes are down. He asked that spotters make sure what they are looking at before reporting signal flares were being dropped from distressed aircraft.

Such flares can not be used during the fall herding season because the dry flares can easily catch on fire. The flares can be incendiary under those conditions, he said.

No Jury For Damage Suit

Drawn-out questioning of 18 jurors and calling of 10 special veniremen Monday failed to result in picking of a jury Monday in a Circuit Court damage suit.

However, with only one challenge left plaintiff and defendant selection of a jury was expected to be completed late this morning.

Yellow Cab Co. and one of its drivers, Anthony Passarelli, are defendants in the action brought by Russell Griffith for $17,152.84.

He claims permanent and lasting injuries when run over by a Yellow Cab on S. 6th St., in April of 1949.

Pair Caught Lifting Stove

Two men caught by State Police early this morning in the act of stealing two old wood stoves from 3801 Washburn Way are held in Klamath County Jail.

Clinton Alvin Cobb, 2931 LaVergne St., is held on charge of petit larceny.

George Orren Vogan, same address, is held as a deserter from the Army.

The two were apprehended as they were putting the stoves in a car belonging to Thomas D. King, arrested last week by State Police as a deserter from Camp Stoneman, Calif.

Vogan told officers he had been AWOL from Camp Stoneman for about a month.

Officers reported Cobb said he and Vogan were trying to raise money by selling scrap iron so they could leave town.

Easter Seal Sale Slated

Machinery is ready for the opening of Oregon's sixth annual Easter Seal Sale March 13, sponsored by the Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The sale will continue through Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Iris Pearson, Klamath County Seal Chairman, in announcing local plans for the campaign, said today that approximately 12,000 envelopes carrying the little seals that will mean a chance for health for thousands of handicapped are in the mail. Envelopes were filled by members of the Rolana Club.

Other plans include the annual Lily Day parade, April 5 and sale of the dainty flowers made by the handicapped on the same day by Pep-Peppers of KUHS.

No personal solicitation or booths for sale of the seals is planned. Jesse Rosenbaum, La Grande, Society President states that an estimated 500,000 residents will receive the seals in the mails during the next few days. This is a considerable increase over last year.

The need for assistance among this state's physically handicapped youth and adults is becoming more and more apparent. The returns from seal sales are used only to assist those persons not eligible for aid from any other agency, either public or private.

During the past year, the Easter Seal Agency has increased its services to the handicapped in many ways: The Agency's school for crippled children has had capacity attendance throughout the year; the program for training homebound handicapped has been stepped up; speech and hearing assistance has been given to many more children than ever before.

"The aim of the society, Rosenbaum said, is to rehabilitate physically handicapped children and
