Suit Filed Over Sale Of Indian Timber On Coast

PORTLAND (AP) — The controversial sale of 800 acres of Indian timberland near Gold Beach, Ore., to two white men came under attack by the federal government Wednesday.

A suit to nullify the sale was filed by Henry Hess, U.S. district attorney for Oregon, who said he was acting under instruction from Washington, D. C.

The transaction is being investigated by the Department of Interior. The sale was approved by a branch of the department, the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Hess said the department's investigation is not completed, but if any wrong-doing is discovered in the Indian Affairs Office here, the officials' names will be added as defendants in the suit.

PGE Plans To Issue Stock

PORTLAND (AP) — The Portland General Electric Company will issue another million shares of stock to finance expansion projects in the next five years, including the proposed Pelton and Round Butte Dams.

Stockholders authorized the issue at the annual meeting here Wednesday, after Thomas W. Dellzell, chairman of the board, said $0 million dollars in new capital would be needed in the next five years.

The Pelton and Round Butte dams are planned for the Deschutes River. Federal approval has been obtained for the Pelton project.

Stockholders also voted to change the value of common stock from no-par to $15. This will lower the amount of tax stamps needed on stock transfers.

Dellzell said the company would sell about four million dollars worth of bonds before May 1, and would issue 250,000 shares of the new stock in the next few weeks. He estimated company earnings would hold firm this year, then rise slightly in the next four years. Directors were re-elected.

Canners Meet To Discuss Problems

GERHART, Ore. (AP) — Pacific Northwest canners opened a two-day conference here Wednesday. Current prices, the labor situation and the supply outlook are up for discussion.

Fred C. Heinz, Pittsburgh, vice president of the H. J. Heinz Company and president of the National Canners Association, is scheduled to speak Friday.

The suit contends the original owners, Jasper Grant and Harold Thornton, Coastal Indians, received $135,000 for land that was worth at least $350,000.

Named as defendants was Mrs. Ernestine C. Siniscal, who bought the land from Grant and Thornton, then resold it the same day at a $25,000 profit. Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Taylor, who bought the land from Mrs. Siniscal, were on the list of defendants, as were William F. Brenner and Fred F. Marsh, who took an option on the land from the Taylors. Mrs. Siniscal's father, Elmer A. Reed, also was listed.

Meanwhile two land officers of the Indian Office here are temporarily suspended. They are Clyde W. Finn, the land officer, and F. E. LaGrance, his assistant, who were placed on annual leave status while the investigation was conducted.

A similar civil suit was filed earlier in the week. It was filed on behalf of Grant and Thornton, seeking to revoke the sale.
