Labor Men Slate School

Short courses in public speaking, labor law, labor history, grievance procedures, worker compensation laws and other activities related closely to labor unions will be taught at a special school for CIO members planned for next August at Portland's Reed College. The seven-day labor school is being arranged by George Guernsey, CIO director of education and will cost $40 per "student" including room, board, materials and tuition. It is the first such schooling endeavor planned for union men in the Northwest, and may become an annual event if successful. CIO locals are asked to send representatives who will most benefit the local. Students are expected from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Northern California.

Hicks Given 5 Year Jolt

Leroy Alvin Hicks, 35, was sentenced to five years in federal prison yesterday by U. S. District Judge Gus Solomon at Portland. He had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon in a shooting scrape at Chiloquin several months ago. Two Indian Service officers, Don Campagna and Virgil Wilson, were struck by gunfire poured into their car and slightly wounded. Evidence presented by U. S. Deputy District Attorney Don McEwen showed Hicks had been drinking before he accosted the officers. He went to the car and demanded money which one of the officers supposedly owed him, and when it wasn't produced Hicks opened fire and put five shots into the car. Before that, prosecution testimony said, Hicks had been shooting at passing automobiles with a carbine.

Loney Attends Music Confab

Andrew Loney Jr., city schools director of music, left yesterday for the national convention of the Music Educators Association in Philadelphia. The convention is scheduled for the Academy of Music, March 20 to 28. Loney, past president of the Northwest division of the association, is to appear on two convention panels, "Music Education as a Profession," headed by Dr. Ernest Meloy, New York University, and "Music Supervision in the Public School," headed by Dr. Lorraine Walters, Des Moines, Iowa. Loney's trip was made possible by the KTHS a cappella choir assisted by organizations and individuals in the community.

Board Eyes Court Test

PORTLAND (AP) — The State Board of Higher Education would welcome a court test to determine whether the Oregon Dental School should remain under control of the University of Oregon. The state's Dental Advisory Council notified the board recently that it would go to court if necessary to remove the school from the university's control. Friday, Edgar Smith, president of the Board of Higher Education, said he would welcome such a court test. The council said the school was handicapped by being tied to act through the university instead of dealing directly with the board.

Bones Appear in Ghostly Spot

NEW YORK (AP) — With a solemnity not due to the surroundings, a police confidential source slipped quietly into an upper East Side funeral chapel Friday night and arrested 36 men. Thirty-five of them allegedly were playing dice alongside a candle-decked altar. The other was the owner, Anthony Piragnoli, 63, who, police said, got $25 a night for use of his chapel for gambling. The raiders seized a large table, five pairs of dice and other paraphernalia.

Midnight Monday Is Tax Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grab a fresh income tax form, more pencils and another row of figures, you've got till midnight Monday to file that return. March 15 is the deadline, of course. That's today. But since it's a Saturday, the law says the deadline automatically moves back to midnight Monday—March 17.

Oil, Steel Industries Set Production Record, Leather, Shoe Sales Up

By RICHARD FISKE NEW YORK (AP) — The basic steel and oil industries set new production records this week and leather and shoe men were a little more optimistic than they have been. But the textile industry still suffered from a dearth of customers and it was still defense orders that held the economy at its high level. The list of areas plagued by unemployment rose and Defense Mo-

SWIM POOL PROPOSAL LOSES IN CLUB VOTE

Klamath Falls' proposal for a tax levy to be used in construction of a swimming pool—which will be on the May 16 ballot—came out second best in an informal vote Friday at the Academy of Music. Members of the Rotary Club, after hearing a panel discussion of the swimming pool proposal, voted against it 38 to 34. The ballot measure calls for a one-half mill tax levy, running seven years, to raise approximately $150,000 in that time, and would also give the city permission to borrow money on the expected tax income. The tax levy proposal is supported by the Recreation Committee, but apparently there is no concrete plan already generated. Councilman Don Kenyon told Rotarians the City Council is of an opinion in favor of the measure. There has been any determination of what type of pool should be built indoors or outdoors, or where. The amount of money the tax proposal would raise, however, would build an indoor pool of any consequence. Architect Howard Perrin said and one of the requisites of a swim pool here is that it must be closed and the building should be of a type which could be grown open in summer. Bill DePew, one of the panel members, said he figured an outdoor pool could be used only about 60 days out of the year. Bob Bonney city recreation director, spoke in favor of the proposal, pointing out that Klamath Falls is the only major city in Oregon without public swimming facilities, and declared he thought a pool should be built somewhere close to the high school grounds. The city owns a plot of ground on Main near the canal which was obtained as a possible site for a pool, and the YMCA to locate a pool at 8th and Pine on a lot owned by the Y. The Rotarians also voted against a connection with the YMCA, 49 to 26. They voted against the Main street site for an outdoor pool 24 to 16 and against that site for an indoor pool 30 to 23. Panel members were Keith O'Hair, DePew, Kenyon and Bonney, and the moderator was Bud Chandler.

Stewards Walk Off U.S. Ships

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The left wing Marine Cooks and Stewards' Union called its men off ships Friday from Seattle to New York for stop-work meetings to demonstrate union strength in a dispute with shipowners. The walkout began at 10 a.m. A union spokesman estimated that at least 23 ships were tied up in the San Francisco Bay area alone. The spokesman said the meetings would be held in San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Wilmington, Cal., New Orleans, Galveston, Tex., and New York. The union explanation for the stop-work meetings was that the men wanted to discuss a dispute with Pacific Maritime Association and the National Labor Relations Board over representation. There were hints the meeting might be prolonged on into Saturday. The action was taken after PMA questioned whether the union any longer represented the majority of cooks and stewards.

Teamsters Win Strike Issue

RICHMOND (AP) — A two-day tie-up of work on the $5 million dollar construction project at the Hanford atomic works was ended Friday night as the AFL Teamsters' Union won their fight for jurisdiction over loading and unloading on the job. Atkinson Jones Construction Co. officials and union leaders announced settlement of the dispute and said all cranes should be back on the job Saturday morning. The teamsters tied up the works in protest over members of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Union, also AFL, doing the loading and unloading work. About 2,500 construction workmen had been idled by the stoppage but actual atomic production plant operations were unaffected.

Missing Heiress Shows Up Safely

NEW YORK (AP) — A Canadian real estate heiress, missing a year Monday from her Greenwich Village apartment, returned home late Friday night. The woman, Mrs. Mavis Chaffey Ramus, 32, told police she had been visiting friends and offered no further explanation for her absence. Mrs. Ramus was found at the apartment with her mother, Mrs. George Chaffey of Montreal, who had reported her missing.

Country, Not Cash, First In Minds of Peck, Wilde

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Behind the screen: Scratch off the names of Gregory Peck and Cornel Wilde as prospective members of Hollywood's new "18-month Club"—stars planning to spend 18 consecutive months because income earned there over that length of time is not subject to U.S. income tax. As Peck sees it: "It's a tough thing to pull off. You have to get good pictures and be paid in American money. It's tough enough getting good pictures in Hollywood. I may work in a couple of films abroad, but I have no plans for an 18-month stay." Cornel and his wife, Jean Wallace, by the way are acting to do a movie together. "The story they like is their own, 'Arena,' about a prize-fighter and his doll, Cornel also owns 'Star of India,' which he plans to do as an independent. Lisa Ferraday admits that she and Zsa Zsa Gabor have been battling it out for certain movie roles, but pooh reports that there's a raging love-fueled between them. It's "Darling" and "Sweetie-Pie" when they meet, Lisa told me. "It's true that Zsa Zsa is playing some of the parts that I wanted," she added. "But there will always be wars, revolutions and Gabors, darling." SONJA'S FUNNY BUSINESS A London impromptu business burn-out on South Henley's business methods. First Sonja asked for 75 per cent of the boxoffice intake to present her ice show in London. Then she asked that he raise money for a British movie in which she could star. Then she cabled that she was making too much money in America to dicker any longer. The Ambassador Hotel's famed Coconut Grove, where Bing Crosby won his Croon King title is due for a redecorating job with the strangest orders ever given painters and upholsterers. The swank supper club can't look any different when they complete the job. The room's palm tree decor has been the same for 30 years—and that's the way it will remain. The only thing that changes at the world-famous Grove is that Rouben gets a little grayer. Rouben has been the maitre d' for 23 years—probably a world's supper club record. He still remembers with admiration the last decorator who invaded the Grove in 1931: They were wonderful. The place was completely redecorated but people came in and didn't know the difference." The biggest tax ever picked up at the Grove? Rouben remembers

Phone Men Get Pay Boost SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A one-year wage agreement calling for weekly wage increases up to $6 was approved early Saturday by Coast plant tool maintenance employees and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. officials. The pact also calls for lowering the length of time needed to obtain top minimum salary from eight to six and a half years. Leslie Monahan, president of the Order of Repeatersmen and Toll agreement will mean $16.50 weekly increases for some employees because of the reduction of the experience minimum. He said the membership will vote on the proposal April 1, and indicated it would be ratified. Under the agreement, top rates will range from $96 to $89 depending on locale. San Francisco is in the top bracket; Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle are in the $94 class; Fresno, San Diego and San Bernardino the $91, and smaller cities in the lowest class.
