Price Chieftains Confer On Plan To Lift Lid On Raw Products Item List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government hopes to decide in the next week or ten days whether to lift price controls in a half-dozen major raw product fields, including wool and cotton.

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall told the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) hopes within two weeks to publish a statement of price control suspension policy, along with a preliminary set of standards.

He added that the first lifting of controls might come at the same time.

On the other hand, he said it may soon become necessary to place fresh fruit and vegetables under price controls if their prices continue to increase.

Edward F. Phelps Jr., assistant price chief, said he believes his OPS decontrol study committee can move even faster. He said March 26 has been set as a target date.

OPS officials said the first suspension actions might take place in five or six experimental areas. These might be actual suspension of controls or recommendations for close study in these fields.

Among the products named were wool, cotton, hides, tallow, burlap and edible fats and oils.

One OPS official told a reporter that although cotton was included, he believes it is "rather doubtful" that price controls would be suspended on this staple in the near future.

The OPS study of the effects of decontrol is in line with views of several members of the Senate Banking Committee that controls should be lifted in fields where selling prices are well below ceilings.

Some senators have suggested that the new controls law should contain a provision calling for cases, Arnall said, however he does not believe many products are selling below ceilings.

Butte Valley Bulldogs sunk their jinx Friday night with a double win from Tulelake Honkers on the home court. The BVHS B team led Tule all the way and were at no time threatened. The score was 50 to 43. The Bulldogs A team showed their stuff after the Honkers led 13-8 at the quarter, and 22 to 20 at the half. They came back to top Tule at the 3rd quarter 37 to 36 and surged ahead to win 54 to 51. The Bulldogs A quintet while only winning two league games during the season won their two games from league leaders Yreka and Tulelake. Coach Plimmi now has his boys busy getting ready for the baseball season.

The new bleachers have been installed on the BVHS gym and were filled to capacity at the games Friday night.

Plans are being made for the second annual basketball banquet given for the A and B teams of BVHS by the mothers.

The dance Saturday night sponsored by the Dorris Boys Club was a big success and future dances are being planned. Police Chief Penton Mahi believes that a couple more affairs will clear the club of its debts and give it a clear slate. The Harmony Kings supplied the music.

The Dorris Women's Club will be host to the Spring Meeting of the Siskiyou County Federation of Women's Clubs, March 29. Guest speakers will be Mrs. Guy Roger of Durham who is northern district president and Mrs. J. H. Brubaker of Walnut Creek who is state trustee.
