CORVALLIS, Ore 160 — The lightly regarded Santa Clara Broncos kicked over UCLA's Pacific Coast Conference champions Friday night to earn a crack at the rusged Wyoming Cowpokes Saturday night in the payoff game of the Western Regional NCAA Basketball Tournament.

The Broncs staged a stirring rally in the final quarter, outscoring the Bruins, 18-10, and winding up with a 68-59 victory.

Playing the careful ball that carried them to the Mountain States Conference title, the Cowboys edged out Oklahoma City U., 54-48, in the nightcap.

The Chiefs from Oklahoma's capital tried to tear a page from the Santa Clara book. They actually outscored Wyoming, 14-8, in the final period but fell six points short of catching up.
