Police Pay Scale Proposal Would Up Salary; Create Office Of Captain, Others

A suggested pay scale for the Klamath Falls police department to provide more money for most ranks as well as more incentive for career men was drawn up Monday by the Civil Service Commission.

The proposal was turned over to the City Council's police committee for study.

Under the Civil Service Commission plan, the position of assistant police chief would be abolished and in its place the office of captain would be created. That job as well as all others on the force with the exception of that of the police chief would be filled by civil service procedure.

Also the post of lieutenant would be created. The other ranks would include three sergeants, as now, two detectives and as many patrolmen as allowable.

The suggested pay scale would be $4,200 a year ($350 a month) for the captain; $4,080 a year ($340 a month) for the lieutenant; $3,960 a year ($330 a month) for the sergeant and detectives; and a starting pay of $3,480 ($290 a month) for patrolmen.

The pay of patrolmen would be advanced $5 a month per year for four years, to a top of $305 in that rank.

At present patrolmen get $290 a month, sergeants $310 a month, and the assistant chief $330 a month, all plus $20 a month clothing allowance. Presently under the Civil Service Commission plan the clothing allowance would be continued.

The Civil Service Commission report also provided for merit ratings to be given the men on the force each six months by the mayor, police chief and commission, and for a school to be conducted one day a month by the lieutenant and captain of police, with attendance required.

A vacation system would be set up to allow one day of vacation for each month worked, cumulative for 30 days, and a sick leave schedule to allow a day of leave for each month worked, cumulative to 45 days. The request of a physician would be needed to obtain sick leave pay in excess of one day at a time.

The Civil Service Commission report was signed by Jack Henry and C. D. Long, commission members.

Sacred Heart To Expand

A two-story six-classroom addition is planned for Sacred Heart school, with bids on construction called for Wednesday, April 2, at the office of Howard Perrin, architect.

The work probably will run around $100,000.

The addition is to be located on the south end of the present school building and is to be of a type of construction which may be new to Oregon, having so-called cavity walls.

Perrin said he did not know of another building in the state with that particular type of construction, which was developed by the Structural Clay Products Research Foundation.

The walls are to be of brick facing, with a two-inch cavity between the brick and an inner wall of tile. The two-inch space is to be filled with glass wool for insulation, and the tile is to be treated to repel moisture.

Ceilings will be of acoustical tile and the classrooms will have large directional glass block windows the length of the rooms, with plain windows below. The window construction is designed to admit a maximum of natural daylight without glare.

Total area of the planned addition is about 8,600 square feet.

Rodeo Chiefs Slate Meeting

Another meeting of the Klamath Basin Roundup directors is set for tomorrow, 8 p. m., at the Willard Hotel.

Roundup Pres. Bob Robbins said today that several very important items were on the agenda. One prime topic is to be a reconsideration of the Jackpot Rodeo inclusion in the Roundup. The Jackpot event, formerly held as a separate event, was included in the Roundup last year and Jackpot directors were added to the Roundup board.

A second important item tomorrow night is to be the possible selection of a clown-bullfighter for the rodeo. This highly specialized and hazardous job is one of the most important of all rodeo roles. Rodeo performers who ride the bucking Brahmas refuse to perform unless a competent bullfighter is afoot in the arena to lure the big bulls away when the riders are thrown.

At the last Roundup directors' meeting, one of the nation's top rodeo announcers, Pete Logan, was signed to handle this year's rodeo. Logan has handled many of the country's biggest shows in Boston, New York, San Antonio, Phoenix and elsewhere.

Red Cross Fund Grows

Klamath County's Red Cross funds drive is over the halfway mark in its push toward a $25,000 goal. Exec. Secy. Virginia Dixon announced this morning that collections totaled approximately $13,000.

Fresh returns from the Industrial and Business divisions of the drive pushed the total over the 50 per cent mark. The Industrial Division with a quota of $4,500, has collected $3,100; the Business Division has turned in $4,500 toward its $8,500 goal.

Of special importance to the drive's success is the Rural Division, with a quota of $5,000. Work in this division, delayed by bad weather and roads, is now getting in full swing.

Meanwhile, the county chapter has been requested by national headquarters to raise an additional $1,520 for relief work in the states recently hit by disastrous tornado.

Fines Levied In Car Wreck

A two-car accident Monday afternoon at intersection of S. 6th St. and E. Main, resulted in arrest by City Police of three persons.

Cited for running a red light was R. S. Hopkins of the Airport Apartments. Officers said his car crashed broadside into another operated by Mrs. Cecil Hendricks, 1616 Nimitz St.

Mrs. Hendricks was cited for not having an operator's license and her husband, Cecil Hendricks, for allowing an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle.

In Municipal Court this morning Hopkins forfeited $5 bond, Mrs. Hendricks was fined $5 and her husband $10.
