reservoirt, MODEL NO. 160 consists of a section of corrugated MODEL NO, 160 contrils of a section of conjugated iron pips with a lot in the top through which the hinged slide is operated. The bottom of the pipe is grooved to form a seat for the slide when the gate is closed. This model is untended for use as an inles gate to control the flow of water through ditch banks. The pipe's corrugations grip the earth and tend to prevent washing out; and once puddled into position, the gate will stay in place.

ARMCO Galvanized Water Gate

For quick and efficient control of water in small For quick and efficient control of water in small laterals, this turnout gate is indispensable to the irrigator. It is made of heavily galvanized 16 gauge metal throughout, and the right angle bends turned on the bulkhead and slide make it exceptionally rigid, though very light and easy to handle. . . The special rolled tubes top on the slide gives additional strength where needed and provides an excellent handhold for opening and closing the gate. Mode No. 160
