CHICAGO (4)— Grains moved up on the board of trade Friday on the impetus provided by export business. Highs were reached around mid-day, after which the market held pretty stable.

Largest exports were in wheat, and that cereal made the biggest advance. Toward the finish oats, which had sold under the previous close early, again began to develop an easier trend.

Boybeans scored moderate gains despite another decline in crude soybean oil, quoted at 9 % cents a pound against 9 % Thursday.

Wheat closed %-1 % higher, May $2.51 %-1%, corn %-1% higher, May $2.51 %-1%, corn %-1% higher, May $3.64 %-3%, corn %-1% higher, May $3.64 %-3%, oats ¼ to 1 cent higher, May $3.50 ½, soybeans ¼-1 % higher, May $2.01 ½, soybeans ¼-1 % higher, May $2.01 ½, soybeans ¼-1 % higher, May $2.01 ½, soybeans %-1 %-1 % higher, May $2.01 ½, and lard 7 to 13 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.77.

Vote Panel Slated For Monday Date

A mysterious and indifferent in-dividual is slated to appear as a member of next Monday night's "Build the Basin" panel on the topic "Why don't more people reg-ister and vote and what can we do about it?"

His radio name — Hornblower Apathy, He'll represent the think-ing of a good many Americans who don't vote for one reason or who don't vote for one reason or another.

A panel of five other members has been selected. It includes:
Kathy McDonald, president of the Klamath County Young Democrats; Charles DeLap, Klamath County Clerk; Mrs. John Yadon, a worker for registration with the League of Women Voters for many years; and Gale Osborne, Junior Chamber of Commerce member and chairman of the local committee on Register and Vote, Inc.

Registration so far is running fairly well, County Clerk DeLap reports. But the job isn't done until every last citizen is on the books. Then the job isn't done until every last citizen is on the books. Then the job is to get them all out to vote on election day.

There has been some question about organized attempts to get out the vote, There is some feeling that should not take place in a free country where voting should be by the will of the people. On the contrary, too, are ideas proposing penalization for eligible voters who fail to vote.

Mr. Apathy on the forum will attempt to present an argument against getting out to register and
