

It Happened This Way New Pine Creek

By IRVIN FARIS

A growing community interest is being shown in these fortnightly square-dance frolics here. This was demonstrated last Wednesday evening at the Grange hall when over 50 persons—at times six sets—joined in the merry-making. Mr. and Mrs. Judd Harris came clear down from Summer Lake to participate and learn the intricate steps along with the more simple ones. The numerous dances that were held and danced. Several couples came down from Lakeview. The next instructional Square Dance Night will be held in the Grange Hall, April 2, and everyone is cordially invited to come and learn and have fun.

"Like gold in them that ravines"—you never know what latent lies dormant in your vicinity until it is given a chance to manifest itself. The music of "The Dixie Five" the "New Pine Creek Hillbillies" or whatever this new group chooses to call themselves who played for the whopping big firemen's ball here last Saturday night went over with a bang! Every one had a grand time and there was no boisterous trouble of any kind. People from all up and down the valley bought tickets to help the young fire department get on its feet. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Everts made a $10 donation for the cause which was greatly appreciated. Fire-Chief Butler said the dance would probably net around $370 as a gross of $480 was taken in.

Special thanks goes to the Lakeview volunteer firemen's organization and to the Willow Ranch Fire department who both cooperated splendidly in buying tickets and attending the dance. The lunch the fire-ladies put out was something to write for more about. Testimonials about the food was heard from several sources.

The Veteran's of Foreign Wars dance is the next big thing on the social docket for this little town which will be held at the Vet's Hall April 5. It, like the firemen's hall, will be a benefit to help a new organization get on its feet. It may or may not have the universal appeal and support that the firemen got but still there is all the reason in the world to believe it everyone is proud of our boys who fought for us and out of respect for these sturdy, resourceful young men, all should be glad to see this newly formed chapter flourish.

Let's everyone get a ticket and show these young men we're still behind them—show unshakably. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Sue's band, assisted by Whitey Foster on his trombone.

Definite information has it that Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander has sold her property here to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Millsap of Willow Ranch. This deal has been hanging in the air some time but is now a closed matter. The Millsaps plan to make it their permanent home sometime in the future but will probably lease the place for a few years, according to Mrs. Alexander who left Sunday for her home in Pittsburg, Calif., via Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Salty Johnston were weekend visitors here with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Benefield. They took Mrs. Alexander over to the Falls with them on their return home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Coburn left last week for Lebanon, Ore., where they were to spend a week or so visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Eddy Croston, and family.

Bill Bishop of Willow Ranch is one of the latest to enter the political race for supervisor in the North Modoc District. The most wonderful thing about politics is that the candidates usually have that indomitable spirit, an irrespressible desire to be responsible out of all sincerity to take public office in spite of all manner of criticism they know they will receive; to still keep an even keel when they get the job. This, I'd say, sustains the spirit of progress.

George Converse left last Tuesday for Reno where he was to meet his Aunt Jennie Smith that evening. It wasn't until late Wednesday that she arrived there due to the terrific storms that hampered train schedules.

On her journey west from Minnesota her train was held up at various points. On the last leg of her trip her train got stalled and she was relayed on to Reno by taxi.

The homeward jaunt from Reno to New Pine Creek was quite rugged also, last Friday, as freight rigs, car with trailer-house and other vehicles were stalled at various points along the narrow-gauge plowed out highway so that getting around them was no easy task.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Killian were quite perturbed last weekend over the news of the devastating tornado that took so many lives in live at Dierks, Ark. where ten lives were taken by the storm. They naturally were very solicitous about incoming mail that might bring news from those at the scene of destruction.

Mrs. Hallie Cook received a letter from her son-in-law, Walter H. Rose who writes from the S. S. Excelsior in the harbor at Cochinchina. There the weather is hotter than hot—he says and describes the city thusly:

"This is one of the old cities of India and I guess it looks now just about how it looked several hundred years ago. It is very attractive from the harbor, with its white-brick, masonry buildings. When you get up close, it looks dirty as in most of the places of the Far East. There is quite a bit of elephantiasis here and the most of the shipping companies go ashore and swim, etc.

Not yours truly (and it ain't because I don't like water). They say that any white resident that is here a number of years, always gets it."

As purser of the ship he hinted as to the nature of his cargo. "We leave here tonight for Aden, Djibouti and the Suez Canal. We are loading 400 tons of cashew nuts, pepper, mate and maiting. Should be in New York the latter part of March."

"Vayle," (that's his wife—Hallie's daughter) "has a new job as payroll clerk for one of the best hotels in New York and seems quite pleased with it."

Mr. and Mrs. Lute Miller, now vacationing, planned to be in New York the latter part of March to visit with Vayle, his niece, and 2ND CENTURY—Studebaker started its second century of the manufacture of highway vehicles with the production of this Champion sedan. Harold S. Vance, (center light suit) board chairman and president, drove this car off the assembly line 100 years and two days after Studebaker brothers opened their wagon-building shop at South Bend. In its first century, Studebaker turned out 7,130,874 vehicles. Seen in the background is Studebaker's first wagon, and the company's first auto, a 1902 electric. The first 2nd Century Studebaker in Klamath was delivered to J. Leland Pope of Merrill, according to John McCulloch, Klamath Falls dealer.

The week's vacation given school children was greatly enjoyed by all it seems. Many took the opportunity to escape from the wintry weather here to travel to other places to seek the beauty of newly green grass and spring blooming flowers.

My apologies to those I have neglected to list but following are those who have been reported to me.

The George Micka family enjoyed their vacation at Palm Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Vatz Kalina and Ruth and Ronnie traveled south to Los Angeles and returned by way of the Redwood highway up to the coast before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Monfore and George spent some time at Santa Cruz then on to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Evans and family visited at Pendleton, Ore.

The Harold Freeman family journeyed to the Oregon coast and the Frances Kolow's also vacationed on the Oregon coast and Portland.

Frances and Louise Kalina and son, Deany, accompanied by Grady Saunders and Dale Peniers took in the high school basketball tournament in Eugene and also visited with Louise's brother, Rudy, and wife.

The Carl McVays and boys also headed for the southland and spent some time at Tulare, Calif.

An up tick supper at the school at the Fleishacker Zoo in San Francisco was experienced by the Hub Wilson's, the Jim Bunnells, the Lou Dragers and the Marion Monfores.

The American Legion Post No. 13 and families were entertained with a luncheon at the school cafeteria, Tuesday evening, March 25, by the Legion Auxiliary. Guests from Klamath Falls for supper were, Ned Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Dixon. The friendly supper hour gives these guests a chance to meet a few of their neighbors in this distant part of their county.

While the screen and projector was being adjusted for the showing of films, the room was rapidly filling to capacity by the public. At this time, By's House Brothers quartet rendered several songs.

Palmer, a veteran of the Korean war, gave a short but impressive talk on the need of blood, particularly on the battle field. He said he saw lives lost from lack of blood and of lives being saved in the armed forces as well as civilian life. The importance of every man and woman, physically able, to give a pint of blood was stressed by Mr. Palmer.

Commander Hahn, of Post No. 13, showed two films, both very interesting. One on the history of the blood from the time it is taken from a donor to a patient receiving it. The second film, Disaster Strikes, shows the Red Cross, on duty at the time of fires, tornadoes, mine disasters, etc.

Klamath County's Red Cross, Executive Secretary, Mrs. Virginia Dixon gave data on the cost of operating the bloodmobile bank, also the number of volunteers, who assist in a blood bank in operation. She told of the many services the veteran and others receive from the Red Cross. Mrs. Dixon's summary was: "Donate a pint of blood and contribute to the Red Cross drive to help carry on this great and important civil and national defense program."

Much interest was shown during the entire program by the Boy Scouts, Troop 19, who were well represented.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Hazel Hamilton, president of the Auxiliary, presented a gavel bell to Commander Jim Hall for the observance of the founding of The American Legion.
