Doctor Says Suspect OK

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. — A state hospital psychiatric specialist says Richard Jones, 28, acted in his "conscious mind" at the time shot repairman Felix Molini was killed during a holdup. Dr. Olga Miller of Mendocino State Hospital, was the state's final rebuttal witness Tuesday at the trial of Richard and his brother Robert, 20, both charged with the murder. The two McMinnville, Ore., brothers pleaded innocent, and Richard has added an insanity plea. Dr. Miller testified her opinion was based on testimony concerning Jones' actions and testimony on his previous condition. Richard has contended he "blacked out" before the fatal shooting in Molini's shop on Jan. 26 and knows nothing of the affair. He blames his condition on a previous head injury. The case was expected to reach the jury sometime Wednesday.

Feed Grain Production Emphasized

Increasing demand for feed grains during the past two or three years has been accompanied by heavy utilization, rising feed prices, and declining stocks, according to Ken Baghoti, Tulelake Farm Advisor. In view of this situation, special emphasis is placed this year on larger production of feed grains. Meeting the 1952 production goal of 128 million tons - 12 per cent above 1951 - will take more acres and higher yields than we had last year. Feed production called for, is above that in 1949 and 1950, and has been exceeded only by the record crop in 1948. In the recent 1950-51 feeding season, Baghoti reports that a little over 2 million tons were withdrawn from reserve feed-grain stocks, as more feed was used than was produced. An even greater withdrawal from reserves is expected in 1951-52, and stocks at the beginning of the 1952-53 season are expected to be down around a third below the 29 million tons at the beginning of the present season. Larger stocks would be desirable to serve as a cushion against a possible crop failure and to insure stable feed supplies. High-level production of all grass and forage crops also is emphasized. Goal for tame hay calls for about the same acreage as in 1951.

Long Memory Trans Ex-Con

SEATTLE — The long arm of the law embraced an escapee from the Oregon state penitentiary Tuesday night — thanks to the long memory of a former police detective. Jack Erwin, alias John Peter Osterman, 51, was taken into custody in a hotel lobby after a 30-minute tussle with Ernest W. Yorls. Yorls grabbed him. After a 20-minute struggle which started in the lobby and ended in the street, Erwin was subdued and taken to the city jail. Officer, said he saw Erwin standing in front of the Frye hotel, and recalled he was wanted for escaping from the Oregon institution. Yorls went to police headquarters and returned to the hotel with Mahoney and two other officers. When Erwin walked into the lobby, Yorls grabbed him. After a 20-minute struggle which started in the lobby and ended in the street, Erwin was subdued and taken to the city jail.

Erwin said he had been working in Alaska summers and living in Sandpoint, Idaho, winters. Mahoney said Erwin admitted escaping from the Oregon prison, where he had been sentenced for assault and robbery, but told police it "has been so long I almost forgot about it."
