

Farm Loan To Vet Paid In Full

SALEM (AP)—The first loan made by the state of Oregon to a World War II veteran has been repaid, the State Veterans' Department said Wednesday. The borrower was Earl A. Taw, Portland, an army veteran.

The state made its first farm and home loan in October, 1945. Since then, it has loaned $33,534,890 to 8,025 veterans. The maximum loan is $6,000.

STURDY, SLIDING SHELVES—automatic control of interior temperature, humidity and frost formation mark this new refrigerator offered by a major manufacturer.

Homemakers Like New Ease Refrigeration

What good designing means in terms of convenience and service is demonstrated by the "Imperial" line of refrigerators being introduced in this area by a well-known appliance maker.

Homemakers need no longer thrust head and shoulders into the refrigerator to reach articles stored at the rear of shelves if using one of these new models. All shelves glide out on full-length, lifetime nylon rollers so that the whole shelf area is at finger-tip reach. The ease with which they perform can be appreciated wholly only if seen.

A new system for automatic control of interior temperature, humidity and frost formation is provided in the refrigerator. This prevents rising and falling temperatures in the refrigerator during automatic defrosting, heavier usage or with weather changes.

A food freezer with temperature maintained at a constant zero-zone level at the top of the refrigerator is completely insulated and sealed from the rest of the cabinet. There are chilling coils in sides, back, top and bottom. There is no defrosting heating device in this section. The cold section for normal chilling of table foods is maintained at a constant temperature by concealed chilling coils in the walls of the appliance and a thin metal refrigerating plate on the back wall of the compartment. A cycle system regulates the flow of cold and at the same time controls humidity and dispenses with frost without the use of heaters, timers or clock devices. The "food safety indicator" is a thermometer like device that provides visual proof of the safe cold temperatures of the food compartment. Ice cube trays with a quick removal device are stored on special shelves in the freezing compartment. Extra shelf space for eggs and small items is found on the exterior door. Two containers for keeping fresh fruits and vegetables at peak goodness are provided at the bottom of the normal cold section plus a sliding utility tray for various foods.
