

ZANY Easter Hats

BELIEVE IT OR NOT—under the melange of baskets, bread, breadsticks, vegetables and "you name it" are the erstwhile dignified pates of Faculty Wives of KHS and Klamath Falls City Schools. The creations which would put "Mister John" to shame were worn at the April 7 meeting, Monday night, at the home of Mrs. Harold E. Griffith, president, 604 N. 7th Street. She is at the left in the upper left picture, wearing a darning basket with darning overflowing. To her right, Mrs. Darrell Potter, paper sack embellished with bows; upper center, Mrs. Charles Woodhouse, dainties with onion and carrot stripes; Mrs. Jack Kemmter (C. Miranda take note), diaper, safety pins, baby rattles; Mrs. Thomas Ward, plastic roll basket, rattles, safety pins and bows; Mrs. Francis Scapple, lace paper doily on paper plate, with real cake and handily placed fork; upper right, Mrs. Maurice Anderson, vice president and co-hostess, a cardboard hatbox lid with red and white carnations; lower left, Mrs. Buel Ward, breadbasket, loaf of "cocktail rye," breadsticks and a poppy; Mrs. James Palmer, straw basket topped with radishes; they were also co-hostesses. Lower right are the prize-winners and hat classification. Most Economical, Mrs. James L. Brown, cleaning tissues and box crowned with a box of coughdrops (it was a panacea); Most Repulsive, existential, too a lonely petunia in an onion patch worn by Mrs. Calvin Conney; Most Original, Mrs. Rowland Krich, secretary, a baby bassinet; Most Vogueish, Mrs. Harold Teale, "the first strawberry of spring, trade."

SOROPTIMIST CLUB MEETS

Soroptimists met at the Pelican Cafe for a luncheon meeting April 10. After a short business session, a new member, Mrs. Jean Puckett was initiated into the club. A most interesting letter was read from Norma Augustus, who is a student nurse at Providence Hospital in Portland.

A report was given of the good work being done by the Community Lounge Association and the hope expressed that the small millage to appear on the ballot for its support would be voted favorably.

The highlight of the day was a recording from the Soroptimist Club of Brighton and Hope Club in England, in which each member introduced herself and gave her classification, as a greetings to Klamath Falls Soroptimists. Special greetings came from the members to Mrs. Rose Poole, Mrs. Ida Odell, Mrs. Esther Lawler and Mrs. Lorraine Johnson.
