Cupid Makes Bozo a Bum

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three parts great Dane and one part St. Bernard, Bozo, a romantic watch dog, was demoted to "all bum" Saturday by his disillusioned owner, Edmund J. Rosendale.

For a year and a half Bozo stood guard over the safe of the laundry Rosendale operates here. Nobody ever tried to get near the place while the vicious looking animal kept his vigil.

But early Friday safe crackers entered the building with an acetylene torch, and amidst splintering sparks and the noise and smoke of a booby trap tear gas bomb, removed $3,700 from the safe.

Where was Bozo when all this happened? Out romancing, complained Rosendale, in his first night out in a year and a half.

When the first employee came to work in the morning, Bozo was waiting to be let inside. When he saw the demolished safe he went into a frenzy of barking that took his handlers a full hour to still, according to the out-of-pocket owner.

Bankers Plan Forum Here

A three-man team from the U.S. National Bank's head office in Portland is to be in Klamath Falls Tuesday to conduct a special estate and trust forum at the Winema Hotel.

The session is to start at 7:30 p.m., according to E. H. Thompson, manager of the Klamath Falls branch bank.

The program is to be a non-technical presentation of facts and methods of estate management applicable to the average family. Both estate planning and tax economies are to be included.

Members of the panel will be R. M. Alton, vice president and head of the bank's trust department; D. W. MacKay, trust officer; and L. B. Staver, trust officer.
