

Wolfe Stops Rowe in Fifth Pillette 4th Brown Routeman

Champion Drops Foe 4 Times

By RED HURD

Armory fight fans last night saw the David and Goliath story repeated in a bout that can well be placed as one of the most moving displays of savage battling men here in many seasons of boxing.

Indian Dick Wolfe was David. Frankie Rowe was Goliath and the two men fought a ten-round bout on the canvas in 1:45 of the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round event.

Wolfe, a Tacoma, cash middleweight at 133 pounds, outscored Wolfe by 12 points although the crowd was wild in its cheering.

Wolfe was a skillful counterpuncher. He finally got to Rowe in the fourth round to help him out on the lower side of the canvas. A short count then dropped him down a time with a series of rights and lefts of the bell.

In the fifth, Rowe tried in vain to land a Sunday punch, his only chance against his foe who was mounting his attack like a bear was general.

Before one minute was over in the fifth, Wolfe counted the bobbing, weaving, unorthodox Rowe with a short, crashing left hook and followed it with a right cross that dumped his big foe like a sack of wet snuffs.

The payoff punch caught Rowe in the middle eye of his bull-like rushes. It was a crushing right cross that landed flush on Rowe's chin. Wolfe tried to follow it with a left hook, but missed. It didn't matter. Rowe slumped to the canvas, limp and badly battered.

Referee Wally Moss didn't bother to count. He hoisted Wolfe's arm. Rowe's eyes had turned to glass. He walked stiffly on the canvas, his big frame shaking in the wake of the cruel beating he had absorbed.

Rowe has to be given a top grade for guts. Greasy and rocking under Wolfe's two-fisted blitz, he'd come out of it and rush at Wolfe like he was trying to run the Indian lad out on the street.

Rowe scored occasionally with left hooks that carried power but little aim out of a crouch.

Fans are still wondering how Rowe stayed on his feet in the third round as Wolfe sent shattering uppercuts to Frankie's head as the Tacoma boy covered up like a soldier in a fox-hole.

But Rowe weathered the attacks and came back with his wild rushes disregarding caution and filling the air with panicky windmill punches. He would either duck or roll with most of the wallows.

The complete card was slambang and fans would have got their money's worth at twice the price.

WIGHT WINS
Felix Wight won a unanimous decision over Bobby Doll but the Heavily Bomber couldn't drop the knobby Boise battler.

Weiser landed his best punch in the sixth and last round, a left hook that looked like the jackpot blow.

Weiser started out in a business-like manner in the first round, landing his effective one-two parley. But Doll took a lot of sting out of punches with a rolling style.

Doll didn't find the range until the third round when he kept Weiser's head bobbing with a sharp left jab. But he didn't hurt Weiser.

Another round and Doll could have been another of Weiser's knockout victims.

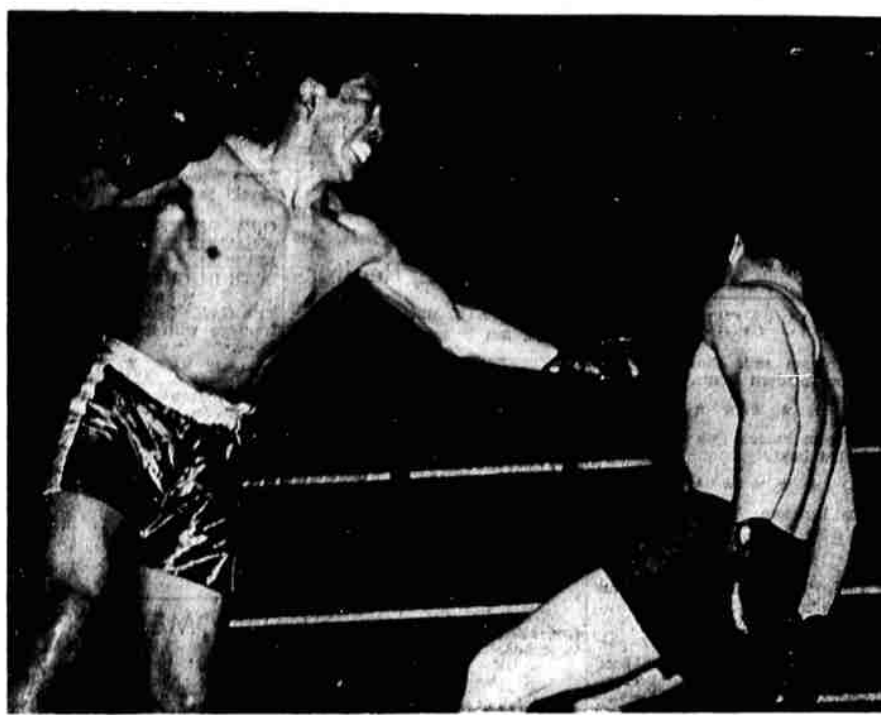

SMOOTH
Monty Montgomery, looking amazingly smooth after a lengthy lay-off from ring wars, shifted his attack from rusty Carlson's jaw to the mid-section to stop the Klamath Falls boy in two heats.

Montgomery had Carlson on the deck with a right cross to the jaw about a minute after the second round opened. When Carlson got up at the count of nine, Montgomery rushed him to the ropes and sent a left hook to Carlson's tummy. Carlson tried to set up but his legs wouldn't work.

But Sunday was also a second-round knockout victim with a belly punch. Merrill's Stan Virgus dropped Sunday in the first round with a right cross.

The left to Sunday's stomach in the second round settled the matter. Darrell Harrington won a unanimous decision over Clyde Phoenix in the four-round opener. Harrington had Phoenix rocking on his heels several times but couldn't find the key blow.

Promoter Mack Lillard said another fight card was being planned May 2.

FRANKIE ROWE starts to crumble to the canvas after Indian Dick Wolfe's pole-axe left hook Wolfe followed with a booming right to score the third of four knockdowns. When the Tacoma middleweight, outscoring Wolfe by at least 12 pounds, fell the fourth time, Referee Wally Moss stepped in to hoist Wolfe's arm. The Pacific Northwest welterweight champion stopped Rowe in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-rounder last night on a slugging five-bout card at the Armory.

RICK MISSES NO-NO

The pitchers had their day yesterday in the Klamath County high school baseball loop—and Malin's Wayne Rick just missed a no-hitter.

Rick won his second league game in as many starts when he blanked Chiloquin on an hit, 3-0. The big right-hander had a no-no game in his grasp when Chiloquin's Champ Hatcher blooped a single over third base in the last inning.

The Mustangs scored their three runs in the first inning on an error and a two-run single by Arby Paris. Jo Jo George gave Malin just four hits and the three runs were all unearned.

Bob Howard of Sacred Heart and Billy's Max Martin had their days too.

Howard beat Merrill 7-1, on four hits.

Max Martin gave Bonanza just one hit a first-inning single by Julian Hood, as Bly won, 4-1.

Ray Beard homered for Sacred Heart. Jim Mahoney smacked a triple. Jack Hendrickson's double in the third inning gave the Huskies their only run.

Bly piled up its four tallies in the second inning, two on a double by Winfield, one an error and one on a wild pitch. Bly got just three hits off Hood.

Bonanza took an early lead, scoring its only run in the first on Hood's single.

Line scores: Chiloquin 000 000 0-0 1 6 Malin 300 000 x-3 4 1 George and Kircher: Rick and Herrinshaw.

Donna Sproat Shoots 81

Forty-four women unpacked their golf gear for team play at Reames Country Club yesterday—with Mildred Soukup's team picking up the most points.

Gladys Brusterous was the senior group winner.

The freshman group saw 16 players start with teams tied at the end of play.

Donna Sproat showed the low gross yesterday, a neat 81.

Portland Clammers To Third

By The Associated Press

How much can the loss of one player hurt a winning baseball club?

That problem often has plagued baseball men, and today it's a headache for Stan Hack, major domo of the Los Angeles Angels.

A week ago his charges led the league with 10 wins in 11 starts. Then in a shower room accident, their hard hitting first baseman, Chuck Connors, injured a shoulder. He's been out since and although his average stood at only .266, he's a clutch hitter who bangs out that long ball.

SLUMP
This week Los Angeles has lost five of six starts and sagged one and one-half games back of the leading San Diego Padres.

The Angels dropped another Friday night at Seattle, 4-2, while the Padres whitewashed the Seals at San Francisco, 3-0.

Portland took over third place with a 5-4 home park win over Oakland and Hollywood's Stars provided their fans with a 6-3 win over Sacramento.

FIVE HITS
At Seattle, Gus Keriazokos stopped the Angels on five hits and he knocked in the tying run to help his own cause. Grant Dunlap had put Los Angeles ahead with a two-run homer.

Joe Brovia decided a see-saw battle at Portland as he banged a two-run homer in the last of the ninth off Oakland relief pitcher John vanCuyk. Spider Jorgensen had clubbed a four master with a mate aboard in the sixth.

Elliott Earns 'W'

SEATTLE, (Special)—Wilbur Elliott, a junior guard from Klamath Falls, was one of nine University of Washington basketball players to earn a Big "W" in the sport this winter.

Playing as a first-line reserve on the Northern Division championship quintet, Elliott scored 33 points as he won his first varsity award at Washington. His most important point of the season was a free throw in the final seconds of play, sending a California-Washington game into overtime. The Huskies eventually won it 82-80.

With his basketball uniform now in mothballs for another year, Elliott is again fighting for a regular berth on the school's baseball nine. Coach Warren Tappin has been using him both at shortstop and second base to take full advantage of his masterful fielding.

Howard beat Merrill 7-1, on four hits.

Max Martin gave Bonanza just one hit a first-inning single by Julian Hood, as Bly won, 4-1.

Ray Beard homered for Sacred Heart. Jim Mahoney smacked a triple. Jack Hendrickson's double in the third inning gave the Huskies their only run.

Pillette 4th Brown Routeman

By The Associated Press

The 1950 St. Louis Browns are beginning to remind folks of the 1947 team that set a new league record by winning its first nine games. In case it slips your memory, that wartime collection copped the only American League pennant in Browns' history.

Four straight by the Browns? Who thought the first four Brown starting pitchers would go the route? You doubt it even Rogers Hornsby, their manager, was that optimistic. Ned Garver, yes. But Bob Cain, Tommy Byrne and Duane Pillette? Never.

Pillette became the fourth starter to go all the way Friday when the retired Brown played before the home folks for the first time. The former Yankee whose father was a big league pitcher years ago, stuffed a five-hitter down the throats of the Chicago White Sox to win 7-1.

DAMAGE
Five in the eighth nailed down the St. Louis decision, with Catcher Curt Gowdy's hit-and-run and the doing the most damage. Les Moss hit Chuck Stobbs for a homer in the fifth to tie the score and Dick Kryhoski doubled home a run in the sixth for a 2-1 edge. They came the eighth-inning assault on Luis Aloma and Bill Kennedy, an ex-Browns.

Bob Feller, the last of Cleveland's "Big Four," to start, thrilled a home crowd of 56,968 by winning the Tribe's fourth straight, 5-0, over Detroit.

Feller, now 31, lost his control with one out in the ninth when he walked Cliff Maper, Matt Batts and Johnny Lipon. Bob Lemon came in to make pinchhitter Steve Souchock ground into a game ending double play.

BOB FELLER . . . falters, but wins

It was Feller's seventh win in 10 opening games.

Chunky Connie Marrero made the world champion New York Yankees pop his slow stuff into the air to spoil the Yankee Stadium opener with a 3-1 Washington victory. The little man from Cuba had some sensational support from Second Basemen Cass Michaels to beat Alie Reynolds.

KEY HITS
Clyde Volmer got into the game as a pinch hitter to deliver two key hits in Boston's 5-4 win over the Philadelphia A's in 10 innings. Volmer's pinch single followed by Jim Piersalle's double off Rookie Tex Hoyle touched off a three-run ninth that tied the score in the apurt.

Volmer's second hit in the 10th scored Faye Throneberry with the winning run.

Brooklyn rolled to its fourth straight on Andy Pafko's second home run of the day to nip the New York Giants, 7-6 in 12 innings. A big Ebbets Field crowd of 31,032 saw the defending champion Giants land on Clem Labine in a five-run first inning—the same Labine who barked them 10-0 in the second playoff game last fall.

Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall smashed successive homers in the ninth after Russ Meyer pitched two-hit shutout ball for 8 1/3 innings to give Boston a 3-2 edge over the Phillies. Jim Wilson, and relief winner Lew Burdette set down the Phils with only three hits.

The Chicago Cubs climbed into second place by chasing their old nemesis, Harry Brecheen, to score four in the ninth and shade the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4. Bill Serena, battling for the winner Bob Schultz, drove home the tying and winning runs with a double.

Pittsburgh's kids continued to strut their stuff, blanking Cincinnati, 3-0, on the five-hit pitching of 21-year-old Bob Friend.

AL FOREMAN, who supplies the speed at second base and the needles for opposing pitchers on the sidelines, will join his Oregon Tech teammates against Hilt of the Northern California League tomorrow, 1:30 p.m., on Recreation Field.
