Auto Makers Consider Shortage, New Prices

By DAVID J. WILKIE AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive trade quarters are talking about new car prices and whether they are likely to remain unchanged through the coming summer.

Prices in most instances have gone up. However, one car maker is about to announce a reduction in one of his models. This doesn't indicate a general trend, although the car buying public is more price-conscious today than it has been at any time since World War II.

The makers of some of the more popular models are selling more of them than they are producing.

There isn't an actual car shortage at present, but some dealers aren't able to make prompt delivery of certain makes and models.

Moreover, dealers still are awaiting the stable return in sales that usually comes at this time of the year.

A month from now retail sales volume should give a fairly good indication of whether there is to be a car shortage this year.

Several of the industry's general sales chiefs have said they expect to reach July 1 with more orders than cars.

If this proves correct it isn't likely there will be any general price cuts during the coming summer.

The industry's own statisticians have figured out that car prices have considerably more than doubled in the last 12 years.

The figure an average new car in 1940 cost about $78.

Taking the same basis of computation they put the current average car price at $1,535.

FACTORS

However they point out that several hundred dollars of the increase is accounted for by higher taxes.

Dry Kiln Men Plan Meeting

The Southern Oregon-Northern California Dry Kiln Club, which includes all of the local lumber companies operating dry kilns as well as a number of others within a 100-mile radius of Klamath Falls, will take an active part at the annual meeting of Western Dry Kiln Clubs at Redding May 2-3.

About 300 dry kiln operators are expected to attend the meet.

Heber Radcliffe, a longtime lumberman with the old Ewanna Box Co. here and now with the McCloud Lumber Co., will head a panel discussion on "Improvements in Lumber Seasoning Methods" presented by the local club.

There are seven kiln groups in the West. Some 370 different types of dry kilns are in operation in the United States at the present time.

"Quality Seasoning for Profit" will be the theme of the Redding meeting. W. A. Constance, one-time local Weyerhaeuser employe and now with the R. L. Smith Lumber Co., will present an introductory program.

Bennett Recall Move Backed

PORTLAND (AP)—The Oregon Journal, reversing itself, Friday called editorially for recall of City Commissioner J. E. Bennett.

Enough recall petition signatures have been filed to assure the matter a place on the ballot.

The Journal in the past has said editorially that Bennett has been a thorn in the side but has been useful. Friday's editorial says that Bennett "has no other concept of his city commission's seat than to use it as a soap box from which to spout cheap politics."

It adds the newspaper reached its conclusion "regretfully."

Fireman Aid Ailing Baby

City firemen last night were called to the Nick Yoro home, 139 Uterling, where a two-month old baby was suffocating on milk.

However, the firemen were able to revive the child without the aid of the respirator and reported him "laughing and kicking" when they left.

A few minutes earlier an alarm called firemen to 239 Nevada where they cooled a hot stove.

Bridge Plunge Kills Child

PORTLAND (AP)—The 2½-year-old daughter of a Vancouver Veteran Hospital physician died here Friday of injuries suffered in a fall from an automobile on the Interstate Bridge.

The girl, Gayle Bretherton, fell from the front door of the car driven by her father, Dr. Welles Bretherton, Barnes Hospital physician, Thursday night. She suffered arm and skull fractures.

Registration Snarl Cleared

Local groups which have been urging Klamath citizens to get out and register for the May primaries have found an answer to the cause of misunderstandings about the closing time of registration places.

Several of them had announced that registrations would be accepted until 8 p.m. last Tuesday, the official last day. However, that was not the case.

DISAPPOINTED

Several hundred persons reportedly were turned away from the courthouse and fire station after closing time.

The reason for all the confusion: The 1951 legislature passed a law which required the county clerk's office remain open until 8 p.m. only when the last day of registration falls on a Saturday.

The local groups, riding hard on a campaign to get as many out to register as possible, were not aware of the law change. They were still acting on the 1950 Oregon election law which states (section 81, paragraph 104): "... on the last day of registration it shall be the duty of the county clerk to keep his office open for the registration of electors from the time the office is opened in the morning of such day continuously until 8 p.m. of such day ..."

GENERAL

The campaigners have expressed the wish that those persons who were unable to register for the primaries will be among the first to register for the general elections scheduled for November.

Registration for the general elections opens immediately following the May 16 primaries, and continues until the 30th day preceding the fall election date.

Students Get New Officers

LAKEVIEW — David O'Connor was elected president of the Lakeview High School Student Body for the year 1952-53 at the school election held April 11. He will succeed Phil Lynch, incumbent.

Other officers elected for next year are Jim Lynch, vice-president; Carol Kerr, secretary; Susan Moffitt, treasurer.

In voting on amendments to the constitution of the student association, two measures carried and one lost. One of those approved was a bill to discontinue the office of quartermaster. These duties have been taken over by the treasurer.

Another approved measure was one changing the manner of selecting the student body treasurer, which provides that the treasurer of the previous year will work with the faculty in selecting a candidate who is then approved by the student body.

The third measure, which was defeated, concerned a point system. This measure was designed to regulate, by a system of points, the number of offices which students can hold.

Bjornsen Back To Silver Lake

LAKEVIEW—Bob Bjornsen has returned to his position as district assistant on the Silver Lake ranger district after 18 months with the First Marine Division in Korea.

Bjornsen served as a non-commissioned officer with the Marines in the Pacific area in World War II. After his return to duty for the Korean service he attended officers' training school and was commissioned a second lieutenant. He left his Silver Lake position to return to the service and came back to the same job.

At the close of his service in Korea, Bjornsen was relieved by the same man who relieved him of Pacific duty in World War II. Bjornsen, in Korea, commanded a machine gun company in front line duty.

Death Takes J. A. Bishop

LAKEVIEW — James Arthur Bishop, a pioneer Lake County stockman, died in Lakeview April 13, at the age of 84 years, 11 months and 27 days. He had been a resident of Lake County for more than 60 years and was the ranching partner of his nephew, Walter Leehmann Sr.

Bishop was born in Jackson County, Ore., near Butte Creek on April 17, 1867. In his youth, he resided outside the state for a few years, but at death he had been an Oregon resident for 70 years of his life.

About 1890, Bishop came to Lake County and with his brother, Ira, formed a ranch partnership. The brother died in 1905 and Walter Leehmann's father became the partner of Bishop. In 1915, with the death of Leehmann, Bishop took Walter Leehmann Sr. as his partner.

Bishop is survived by two nephews and two nieces, Mrs. William Wells and Walter Leehmann Sr. of Lakeview and Viola Grant and Harry Grant of California.
