Lawyer Asks WSB Abolition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Chamber of Commerce heard a demand Tuesday for abolition of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB), which the chamber was told, soon will "capitulate" to wage demands of oil and aluminum workers and coal miners.

"Employers themselves will do a better job of stabilizing wages than the board has done," Theodore R. Iserman, New York attorney, told a chamber session on government controls.

Congress should at least remove WSB's dispute - settling powers, Iserman said, and: "It might well go further and abolish the board altogether."

Iserman said the WSB has demonstrated to unions they can gain more both in wages and in compulsory unionism by taking their disputes to the board than by bargaining and striking.

Wage ceilings, he said, have become in effect wage minimums.

The result, he said, is that wages have gone up "more universally than they would have risen without control; it is hard for an employer not to pay at least what a government agency has said is fair and equitable."

The speaker said the board's handling of the steel case and the presidential seizure of the industry are part of a "process of socializing our country by Fascist methods."
