

Manning-Mason Wedding

Herald & News
Klamath Falls, Oregon

All wedding photos by Guderian.

THE BRIDE . . . a beautiful picture in white Chantilly lace and pink nylon tulle over blush pink satin.

Clarissa Ellen Mason . . . "just about ready" to leave for Sacred Heart Church, where she became the bride of Daniel James Manning.

GIFTS FOR HER ATTENDANTS . . . being presented by Clarissa before the wedding. From the left, Sally Barnhisel, maid of honor, Kathleen Craig, Priscilla Myer, the bride, Joan Hotle and Ann Egan.

Mrs. Francis D. Manning . . . mother of the bridegroom at the reception.

John Shaw, left, and Charlie Mack . . . caught by the camera with big smiles at the reception at the Yacht Club.

LEAVING THE CHURCH . . . on their way to the reception at the Klamath Yacht Club.

MR. AND MRS. Daniel James Manning . . . and "the first taste" of the wedding cake.

LEAVING THE HOUSE . . . for the church . . . the bride-to-be and her father, Burge Worden Mason.

Gerry McKendree and Carmel Finnigan who served the wedding cake.

Marilyn Hemmingsen, left, and Mrs. Robert A. Thompson . . . with the bride's book.

A TOAST . . . to the bride and bridegroom . . . Bert Schmidt, left, and John Sandmeyer at the reception.

AFTER THE CEREMONY . . . Rev. T.P. Coese and the bride and bridegroom.

"JUST ABOUT THAT TIME" . . . Best man, James DeChaineau, and to his right the bridegroom.

Engagement

MR. AND MRS. FOSTER D. THORNTON . . . 1801 Worden Street, announce the engagement of their attractive daughter Josephine Helen Thornton to Frank Monroe Cain, son of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Cain, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Wedding is to be July 12, 7:30 p.m., in the Heinz Memorial Chapel on the University of Pittsburg campus. Cain is a graduate of that university, and the bride-elect was a popular KUHS student, of which she is a graduate. Photo by Ferabee.

Society
By MILLY RAMSBY

THE NUPTIAL COUPLE . . . and their attendants. From the left, Kathleen Craig, Priscilla Meyer, Joan Hotle, Ann Egan, bridesmaids, Sally Barnhisel, maid of honor, Clarissa and James, best man, James DeChaineau, and ushers, Curtis Brotherton, William Pickett, Andrew Hanzel, and John Mason. In front, altar boys, Edward May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael B. May, and Bill Manning, brother of the bridegroom.