

Six Communist Planes Bagged by U.S. Sabres

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 SEOU, Korea (AP) — U. S. Sabre jet pilots destroyed four Communist jets and two Red propeller-driven planes in aerial dogfights over Northwestern Korea Sunday the Fifth Air Force reported Monday.

There were three clashes in the area just south of the Yalu River boundary between Korea and Manchuria. The fights ranged from 40-100 feet down to 5,000.

Four Red jets were shot down as 30 Sabres jumped a 12-plane MIG formation. Earlier, Sabre pilots swooped down on two low-flying Red planes of conventional design and downed them.

In a third scrap, two Australian Meteor jet pilots tangled with two MIGs and reported one MIG probably destroyed.

Allied losses, if any, will be announced in a weekly summary.

The smashing Sunday air victories were tempered by the Air Force announcement that Col. Robert W. Schinz, deputy wing commander of the 51st Fighter-Interceptor Wing, disappeared in aerial combat May 1.

Maj. Donald E. Adams, who Saturday became America's 13th jet ace, said the Communists have begun to replace 23-m.m. cannon on Russian-type MIG-15s with machineguns similar to the U. S. 50 caliber.

"Apparently they're finding out that the 50 is a mighty fine weapon," the ace said.

Ten B-29 superforts reported only meager flak Sunday night as they bombed the Chongju rail bridge complex in Northwestern Korea between Sinuiju, on the Yalu River, and Sinanju to the south.

Night flying B-26 bombers and Marine aircraft destroyed 65 supply vehicles and damaged two locomotives, the Air Force said. Far East Air Forces planes mounted 75 sorties Sunday.

Except for a brisk patrol scrap ground action was limited to light patrol skirmishes.

Balls, Bastile For Bold Thug

TOKYO — A 27-year-old convict Monday held up the proprietor of a downtown pinball parlor at dagger point and made off with a 100-pound strong box. He walked only about 100 yards with his heavy loot before police nabbed him.

Inside the strong box were some 6,000 pinballs.

Firemen Know Their Beans

ENID, Okla. — Firemen at this city's three fire houses started an economy drive on food costs some time ago and decided to cook meals at the fire house.

For over a week now they have eaten the only dish the firemen seem to know how to prepare—beans.

Although most snakes are found in the tropics, there are snakes on most of the world's land surfaces except near the poles and on a few islands.
