

Banker Held As Embezzler

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—A banker, described as a pillar of respectability in the community, is accused of embezzling more than $450,000.

The complaint against 50-year-old William C. Horley was entered Monday by the First Bank and Trust Co., where he was vice president at an $8,500-a-year salary.

Middlesex County Prosecutor Alex Eber said a series of bad investments engulfed Horley, whom he referred to as a "very generous man."

"He liked to help people. He made personal loans with bank funds," Eber said of the bank vice president.

Shock and surprise at the embezzlement news was registered by church and community officials who held the mild-mannered Horley in high esteem. He is warden of St. Peter's Episcopal church and chairman of its trust fund.

Horley, married and the father of three children, took an active part in civic affairs.

After a five-hour quizzing, Eber said that in order to cover up for the shortages resulting from bad loans, Horley then speculated at the bank's money and took ed in the stock market in attempting to recoup the loss.

This stock market dabbling also turned sour and Horley found himself deeper and deeper in the red, the county prosecutor continued.

Approximately $150,000 of the loss may be recovered, Eber said, added in the stock market in attempting that the embezzling operation began possibly about three years ago.

Horley's attorney entered an innocent plea for his client who he said didn't pocket even the smallest amount of the money he is accused of embezzling.

BURGLARS IGNORE SAFE

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Burglars entering the Elks Service Center put the place in a shambles but got little of value. They wrecked a door, pried open a cash register, and ransacked dispensing machines, candy case and storage cupboards. A large safe was untouched.

Food Probing Time Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court will rule on whether inspectors of the Federal Food and Drug Administration may enter food manufacturing plants at "reasonable times."

The high tribunal Monday ordered a hearing on a Justice Department appeal from a decision that the inspectors may be barred unless permission to enter has been granted previously.

That decision, by the U. S. Circuit Court in San Francisco, found Ira D. Cardiff had the right to bar inspectors from the plant of the Washington Dehydrated Food Co. in Yakima County, Wash., when they showed up there on March 31, 1950.

The Justice Department's appeal said the decision was "clearly erroneous and will impair the protection of consumers."

The department said inspectors visit plants at "reasonable times" which, except in unusual circumstances, means during business hours.
